A Bible Class for Young Men was formed soon after the organization of the Association, under charge of Prof. Stæver, and continued during the winter and summer. The attendance was encouraging, and there is reason to believe that good was accomplished. As the Reports of the Tressurer and Librarian will exhibit the condition of the Finances and of the Library, reference to these topics is unnocessary herc.

The Association now has a room conveniently located and furnished for the purposes of a Reading Room. The design was to have this Room opened at least once a week to give the membership an opportunity of spending the evening in social greeting and profitsble reading. Various causes have compoured out upon the head of President; bined to prevent the regular opening of the room during the summer months. To accomplish the purposes of the Association in this respect, it is important that the room be made sufficiently attractive to induce the membership regularly to attend these weekly unions .-We have the nucleus of an excellent Li- brary, but it ought to be largely increas-ed, and the room should be supplied with unobjectionable Newspapers and Periodicals.
