MUMBLE WORTH.

Tell me not that he's a poor man,

That his dress is coarse and bare ; Tell me not that his daily pittance Is a workman's scanty fare ; Tell me not his birth is humble, That his parentage is low, Is he honest in his actions? That is all I want to know.

Is his word to be relied on? Has his character no blame? Then I care not if he's low born Then I ask not whence his name. Would he from an unjust action Turn away with scornful eye? Would he, than detrand another, Sooner on the scaffold die ? Would he spend his hard-gained earnings On a brother in distress?

Would he succor the afflicted And the weak one's wrongs redress ? Then he is a man deserving Of my love and my esteem ; And I care not what his birth-place In the eyes of man may seem. Let it be a low, thatch'd hovel ;

Let it be a clay-built cot; Let it be a parish work-house-

In my eyes it matters not. And, if others will disown him As inferior to their caste, Let them do it-I'll befriend him As a brother to the last.
