FATALITY AMONGST CHILDREN.

We regret to record the fact that during the past and present weeks a virulent form of measles has prevailed in our town and neighborhood. In numerous instances medical treatment the most experienced and skilful has been unavailing to break the power of the malady, and prevent a fatal termination of the attack. We hear of many deaths of this disease—three in one family. In other respects our town is remarkably healthy. -Hanover Speciator.

> For The Complies Another Disclosure--- A Fact.

It is surprising what strange things will lank out from time to time concerning the doings of the Know Nothings, during the 'dark ages" and still darker nights, when they met in secret conclave, in uninkabited houses and dusty garrets, for the purpose of devising and laving plans for the questhrow of Democracy. The following is among the latest and truest, and is related by a gentleman who narrowly escaped being led into that secret, onth-bound combination,

With much persuasion and many flowing arguments, a certain notorious Know Nothing prevailed upon an unsuspecting and too. credulous neighbor of his to accompany him to one of their nightly meetings. The two accordingly set out one dark, cloudy night, for the place of rendezvous, and, taking an "over-land route" through fields and woods, they came very near broaking their nocks several times by running against trees and stumps, and fulling into ditches. At length, after making their way through all sorts of obstacles for the distance of about two miles, they came to a described log cabin, which the confined to a single neighborhoo!, but felt Justices—George Arnold, Geo. After the meeting had adjourned, and the two were again jogging along together on Nothing to explain to him why their members were not allowed, on any conditions, to vote for any but those of their awn stripe, and why they were so scalous in trying to.

abolish slavery. "Why, sir," replied the Know Nothing. the reason why we are required to support each other at the polls is simply this: It we can once get the ruling power into our hands, we can easily maintain it, as we can then, if necessary, make laws allowing negroes the right to vote-these will be sure once we have secured the power, we can easily maintain it. For the same reason we desire the total abolition of slavery." "Ah!" replied our friend, who by this time was by no means favorably impressed with Know Nothingism, "your motive, then, in holding your secret meetings, in binding yourselves to support each other under all circumstances, and in crying down slavery, is to advance your own mean, selfish interests, and not, as you pretend, to save the country, relieve suffering humanity, and all Daniel Mohring, Joseph Fink, Sr., and John that sort thing! If these are the principles upon which Know Nothingism is based, I shall never want to have anything to do

> It is but just to say that the gentleman above referred to, who so narrowly escaped having the wool of the "woolies" drawn over his eyes, is still a sound Democrata and means to remain one. Cashtown, Pa., Jan. 18, 1859.
