Bread without Yeast or Milk.

MESSRS. EDITORS—I send you the following directions for making excellent, light, sweet bread, without yeast, salt, milk, saleratus, or soda—with nothing, in fact, save water and flour:

Take boiling water; let it stand until the temperature is reduced below the scalding point; then stir in flour as you can well beat it with a spoon. Set it in warm water kept at proper temperature, to promote fermentation, which will usually be completed in from three to four hours. If it should become thin after standing a while, stir in a tea-spoonful or two of flour, beating it occasionally until it commences to rise. When light, put it with the flour, mixing up with water and kneading thoroughly; then make into loaves, and put on tins to rise, keeping warm, and bake as usual. After several years' experience in making bread according to the above directions, I prefer this method to any other with which I am acquainted. So says Elsie M. Emery, in the Country Gentleman.

"They Say" Punishable by Law.

A woman in Massachusetts, who was recently sued for slander, was defended on the ground that she only repeated without malice what was currently reported. The Supreme Court justly decided that it was no defence, but that a tale-bearer who repeated a false and slanderous story, no matter how widely it had been circulated, did so at his peril. The origin of a slander cannot always be traced, and its power of mischief comes from its repetition.

Singular Will.—An inhabitant of Montgaillard, who died in 1822, left the following testament: "It is my will that any of my relations who shall presume to shed tears at my funeral shall be disinherited; he, on the other hand, who laughs the most heartily, shall be sole heir. I order that neither the church nor my house shall be hung with black cloth, but that on the day of my burial the house and church shall be decorated with flowers and green boughs. Instead of the tolling of bells, I will have drums, fiddles and fifes.—All the musicians of Montgaillard and its environs shall attend the funeral.—Fifty of them shall open the procession with hunting tunes, waltzes and minuets." This singular will created the more surprise, as the deceased had always been denominated by his family the Misanthrope, on account of his gloomy and reserved character.

The End of the World to be this Year.—The Newark Journal says: Messrs. Abraham Flavell and J. Decker, Second Adventists, of this city, have issued a circular called "The Time Messengers," containing twenty-eight columns of arguments and figures to demonstrate that the second coming of Christ will be during the Passover of the present year. Mr. Flavell was an ardent Millerite during the excitement of 1843, when the "big tent" was erected in the southern part of the city, and notwithstanding various disappointments in his calculations since concerning the second coming of the Messiah, he appears still to cling to his peculiar belief with remarkable tenacity. It is understood that in 1843, when the end of the world was "sure to take place," Mr. F. sacrificed some valuable real estate and a prosperous baking business.

He Didn't Read the Papers.—In the trial of the Doyan brothers recently in Michigan for murder, much difficulty was experienced in obtaining a jury free from prejudice. At last, after a large number had been rejected, a man from the back part of the country was called, who in response to the questions propounded, said that he did not take or read a paper, and had never heard of the murder. This was too strong a case, and Mr. Terry one of the counsel for prosecution said: "We object to your sitting on the jury in this case; a man that don't take a paper, and never heard of this brutal murder, don't know enough to be a juryman! We don't want you!"

Happy, if not Fair.—"When we heard of Albert Pike's (supposed) decease," says the Montgomery Mail, "we could but regret that Old Ned or some other expert was not near, to try on him what proved so successful in the case of the 'Old Arkansas Gentleman,' in his own song:

"They laid him out and spread him out and fixed him for the tomb,
And then, on account of their sorrow for his decease, opened the biggest kind of a game of Faro, right there in his own room;
But when he heard the rattling of the checks, he tore the linen from his face,
And bounded up and sung out, 'Hold on, Brindle; don't turn, I'll go twenty on the king and copper on the ace,'
Like a fine Arkansas gentleman, close to the Choctaw line."

A Stupendous Project.—We see it stated that the various Railroad Companies, whose roads terminate in Philadelphia, are making an effort to get an act through the present session of our Legislature, incorporating a mammoth company, with a capital of some two or three millions of dollars, for the purpose of uniting all the roads running into said city, by means of a subterranean passage under the streets. The project is certainly a grand one, and will doubtless be carried through, as the gentlemen who are moving in the matter, are men of energy in railroad affairs.

The Fashions.—From a description of the latest Paris fashions, we clip the following:

"We have seen some beautiful evening costumes, one of which was of blue terry velvet; the skirt is without any trimming, but very full; the low-necked body is open en point; almost to the waist; it is hollowed out and forms braces, which are fastened on the shoulders; the front piece is composed of a body of plaited muslin, with sleeves of the same, bordered with terry velvet, and they are covered with voluminous white tulle puffs."

Open to the waist! The above, to use a military phrase, may be considered "undress uniform."

☞A man was recently baptized in the creek at Poestenkill, N. Y., while the thermometer stood 11 degrees below zero, and he remained wet in the open air during a prayer and hymn. A local paper speaks of it as equally a test of the man's faith and his constitution.

Breinig, Fronefield & Co's Cattle Powder.

BREINIG, FRONEFIELD & CO'S CATTLE MEDICINES have been thoroughly tested and pronounced unsurpassed and unsurpassable. None other as useful have been introduced during the century.

Whilst farmers are using every effort, and investing large amounts of money in the improvement of their soils, too little attention is generally paid to the health and development of farm Stock.

Breinig, Fronefield & Co. justly claim being the first, in this country, who devoted their attention to this important subject.—Their VEGETABLE CATTLE POWDER was the result of several years' study and experimenting—which experiments have actually shown that, by feeding this Powder, a Cow will yield from 1 to 2½ pounds butter per week more than when she does not get the Powder; all other conditions alike. The same increase is proportionably produced in the fattening of cattle or swine.

It is used with equal profit for Horses, Cattle and Hogs. No farmer, or feeder of any kind, should be without it a day.

Holloway's Pills.

A BOON TO THE SICK?—The want of a sterling medicinal to meet the ills and necessities of the suffering portion of humanity, and one entirely free from mineral and other deleterious particles, was severely felt till this all powerful medicine was ushered into the world; HOLLOWAY'S INVALUABLE PILLS have become the HOUSEHOLD REMEDY of all nations. Their attribute is to PREVENT as well as to CURE; they attack the RADIX or ROOT of the complaint, and thus by removing the hidden cause of disease reinvigorate and restore the drooping energies of the system, assisting nature in her task of VITAL and FUNCTIONARY REFORMATION.

DYSPEPSIA.—The great scourge of this continent yields quickly to a course of these antiseptic Pills, and the digestive organs are restored to their proper tone; no matter in what hideous shape this hydra of disease exhibits itself, this searching and unerring remedy disperses it from the patient's system.

GENERAL DEBILITY AND WEAKNESS.—From whatever cause, lowness of spirits, and all other signs of a diseased liver, and other disorganizations of the system vanish under the eradicating influence of this all powerful antiseptic and detergent remedy.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation, of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.
