

THE COMPILER.

H. J. STABLE, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR. GETTYSBURG, PA. MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 28, 1850.

Democratic State Circle.

For Auditor General, RICHARDSON L. WRIGHT, of Philadelphia. For Surveyor General, JOHN ROWE, of Franklin county.

NEWS, ETC.

The Harrisburg correspondent of the York Gazette speaks favorably of the Hon. Jeremiah Shindel, State Senator from the Northampton and Lehigh districts, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor in 1860.

The Legislature of Illinois has made a law that no person shall serve as juror more than once upon a jury.

Monday next has been fixed for the trial of the Hon. Daniel E. Sickles.

Gen. George P. Morris, poet, warrior, and editor, has just been appointed consul to Havana.

It is reported that Governor Packer and Adjutant General Wilson have under consideration the propriety of selecting a site for another encampment of the volunteers of the State.

The election in York, on Friday week, resulted in favor of the Republicans and Know Nothings, as it did the year before.

The Eco d'Italia of March 19 learns from good authority, which it is not allowed to name, that the Hungarian patriot Kossuth passed through France, with the consent and connivance of the French Government.

A New York morning paper says: "Within one week we have had but five murders, three rapes, eight suicides, forty-two burglaries, one hundred and twenty-two ordinary robberies and not more than five hundred assaults and batteries."

The Gov. of New Jersey has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of a ryan charged with killing the death of his wife by poison.

The New Orleans Delta gives the following extraordinary account: On Monday, the day after the Princess disaster, an infant, about seven months old, was picked up in the river, at Mr. Peniston's plantation, below the scene of the explosion.

About $42,000,000 were appropriated by the late Congress for the support of the Government for the present year.

On Saturday morning week, a freight engine, on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Delaware Railroad, blew up, near Elkton, Md., killing the engineer, Mr. Hall, a native of Littleton, Mass., and the fireman, belonging to Chester.

In addition to the above, we have another railroad accident, more serious in its results, to chronicle. The express train on the Great Western railroad ran off the track near Hamillon, Michigan, on Friday night week, killing four or five persons, and demolishing the engine and several of the cars attached.

A gentleman in Cincinnati, a few days since, emptied his pockets of a parcel of letters and papers which he had accumulated there and burnt them. The next morning he discovered that among them was one containing $500 in bills which he had intended for the mail.

It having been charged that Ex-President Pierce, now absent in Europe, was anxious to secure the Democratic nomination for the next Presidency, he has written a letter to a friend in Boston, in which he declares that under no possible circumstances will he again permit the use of his name in connection with any public office.

Bernard McGaffney, a pedler, unfavorably known to the police, was arrested in New York on Saturday, on suspicion of having been concerned in the death of Mike Walsh, who was shot on Thursday morning, and Mr. Knapp, a witness at the coroner's inquest, says he resembles one of the men whom he saw running from the spot immediately after he heard the cry of "murder."

Be sure to read the political matter on the first page.

The Boston Traveller says, with great truth, that "it is easier to get twenty good writers, than one good editor." This fact is not, however, generally appreciated.

"Why don't you hold your head up in the world as I do?" asked a haughty lawyer of a student at law. "Squire," said the lawyer, "see that field of grain; the well-filled heads hang down, while those only that are empty stand upright."

"Little boy, can I go through this gate to the river?" inquired a fashionably dressed lady.

"Pray so; a load of hay got through this morning."

The arms of a pretty girl would light around one's neck has been discovered to be an infallible remedy in case of a sore throat.

An exchange publishes two lines of the great epic upon General Jackson, written by a woman.

"I would see their eyes glisten, then, when they were never stronger than when they saw themselves with their weakness."

THE STATE CONVENTION.

The following article copied from the Reading Gazette, is true in all its statements, and worthy of the endorsement of every Democrat in the State. Read it:

A condensed report of the proceedings of the Democratic State Convention, which met at Harrisburg on Wednesday the 12th inst., is found in this week's Gazette. The ticket nominated is an excellent one, and cannot fail of giving universal satisfaction.

Mr. Wright, our candidate for Auditor General, is a native of Philadelphia, and a resident of what was the borough of Frankford under the old municipal division of the county. He has served for seven years in the State Legislature—four as a member of the House (the last as Speaker of that body), and three as a Senator.

During this long term of public service, he has become perfectly familiar with the affairs of our State government, in all their multitudinous details, and has himself performed a reputation for honesty, fidelity, and conscientious devotion to Democratic principles, of which any public man might well be proud.

Mr. Wright possesses all the qualifications that are so essential to the important position of the chief of the Accounting Department of our Government. He has capacity, experience, and above all, that fearless integrity of character which insures an adherence to the strict line of duty under all circumstances and in every emergency.

In short, he is a man whom the people can depend upon, and to whom they may safely entrust the affairs of the most important confidence, and the most important trust, that are committed to a public officer.

Mr. Wright is a man of high moral character, and is yet estimated at his proper value, he will be elected by a triumphant majority.

Maj. Rowe, our candidate for Surveyor General, is a resident of Franklin county. He is already well known to the people of the State, and has been elected to that office in 1856.

The fidelity and efficiency with which he has discharged his public duties, have earned for him the unlimited confidence and respect of all parties.

His nomination for a second term, is the best possible endorsement that the Democracy of Pennsylvania could give him, and his past course is a guarantee of what may be expected of him in the future.

The people will hardly consent to a change which will deprive themselves of the tried services of so valuable an officer.

The Convention, as will be seen, repudiated the State Administration, by the decisive vote of the people, and the election of a better placed hand to that office was taken.

For the sake of conciliation and peace, we would have preferred to see the question of endorsing Governor Packer waived for the present, so that he might have had an opportunity, if so disposed, to reduce his steps, and to have acted in a more judicious manner.

But the Convention, in its wisdom, has decided to do otherwise. It has elected a man who has not only the confidence of the people, but also the confidence of the State Administration.

It is a well known fact that during the last ten years Kossuth has been studying military science.

A New York morning paper says: "Within one week we have had but five murders, three rapes, eight suicides, forty-two burglaries, one hundred and twenty-two ordinary robberies and not more than five hundred assaults and batteries."

The Gov. of New Jersey has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of a ryan charged with killing the death of his wife by poison.

The New Orleans Delta gives the following extraordinary account: On Monday, the day after the Princess disaster, an infant, about seven months old, was picked up in the river, at Mr. Peniston's plantation, below the scene of the explosion.

About $42,000,000 were appropriated by the late Congress for the support of the Government for the present year.

On Saturday morning week, a freight engine, on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Delaware Railroad, blew up, near Elkton, Md., killing the engineer, Mr. Hall, a native of Littleton, Mass., and the fireman, belonging to Chester.

In addition to the above, we have another railroad accident, more serious in its results, to chronicle. The express train on the Great Western railroad ran off the track near Hamillon, Michigan, on Friday night week, killing four or five persons, and demolishing the engine and several of the cars attached.

A gentleman in Cincinnati, a few days since, emptied his pockets of a parcel of letters and papers which he had accumulated there and burnt them. The next morning he discovered that among them was one containing $500 in bills which he had intended for the mail.

It having been charged that Ex-President Pierce, now absent in Europe, was anxious to secure the Democratic nomination for the next Presidency, he has written a letter to a friend in Boston, in which he declares that under no possible circumstances will he again permit the use of his name in connection with any public office.

Bernard McGaffney, a pedler, unfavorably known to the police, was arrested in New York on Saturday, on suspicion of having been concerned in the death of Mike Walsh, who was shot on Thursday morning, and Mr. Knapp, a witness at the coroner's inquest, says he resembles one of the men whom he saw running from the spot immediately after he heard the cry of "murder."

Be sure to read the political matter on the first page.

The Boston Traveller says, with great truth, that "it is easier to get twenty good writers, than one good editor." This fact is not, however, generally appreciated.

"Why don't you hold your head up in the world as I do?" asked a haughty lawyer of a student at law. "Squire," said the lawyer, "see that field of grain; the well-filled heads hang down, while those only that are empty stand upright."

"Little boy, can I go through this gate to the river?" inquired a fashionably dressed lady.

"Pray so; a load of hay got through this morning."

The arms of a pretty girl would light around one's neck has been discovered to be an infallible remedy in case of a sore throat.

An exchange publishes two lines of the great epic upon General Jackson, written by a woman.

"I would see their eyes glisten, then, when they were never stronger than when they saw themselves with their weakness."

A "Call" for a Bogus or Forney State Convention.

Who are the signers? Forney's Press of Monday contained a call for a Convention at Harrisburg, on the 13th of April, to rebuke the Democratic State Convention held in that place on Wednesday week.

This is a mere organizing trick of Forney and the disappointed office-seekers around him to play openly into the hands of the Opposition. Last fall they performed the same "good service" for the Black Republican Know Nothings, only a part of them did it secretly.

The Philadelphia Pennsylvania shows up, in their true colors, the leaders in this despicable business. That paper says:

But as the "Call" has been issued, and gentlemen have seen fit to place themselves upon the record in opposition to the party, a brief history of some of the more prominent and aspiring individuals who are engaged in this treasonable plot against the Democracy of Pennsylvania is here given.

Among them stands John W. Forney, editor of the leading Opposition journal of this State, the man who opposed the regular nominations of the party last fall, called at Black Republican meetings in favor of Blair, Webster and all the other public works of a BARKLEY CONVENTION, that had not one dollar in its treasury.

The Philadelphia Division would have brought $500,000, if it had been put up at a fair public sale, and that was not all, instead of the bonds of the same political platform with (Wreley, Hale, Giddings and Garrison. Then comes W. E. Lehman, who opposed the party last fall, spoke at Opposition meetings, voted the irregular ticket, and contributed money for the defeat of the regular nominees.

Wreley also signed the "Call." He has acted with the Opposition for years, and last fall was especially active against the whole Democratic Ticket. Voted against Mayor Vaux. E. G. Webb was one of the most active and bitter opponents of the Democratic party at the Pennsylvania State Convention, and on the day of election voted for the irregular candidate, and against the party nominees.

J. Leith Ringwalt also acted with the opponents of the Democratic party in the Pennsylvania State Convention, and on the day of election voted for the irregular candidate, and against the party nominees.

From the York Gazette.

Our Platform.

James Buchanan Indicted by the Democracy of Pennsylvania!—In another column will be found the resolutions adopted by the late Democratic State Convention. They are eminently and thoroughly national in their character, and gloriously vindicate the wise and patriotic policy of James Buchanan.

The Democracy of Pennsylvania, in their true and honest sentiments of the true Democracy of Pennsylvania, they exhibit the earnest and unflinching devotion which exists in the hearts of the people of his native Commonwealth to the great and good man who now occupies the Presidential chair.

For months past efforts have been made to rob him of his well-earned fame. His policy has been grossly misrepresented, his public acts have been ruthlessly assailed, and his private virtues have been maliciously insinuated.

But it has all been in vain. The recent Convention repelled the assaults, and sternly re-asserted the truth. One act was clearly demonstrated by the Convention, and that should be well and carefully pondered upon.

That the Democracy of Pennsylvania have a confidence in James Buchanan, which no party can shake, nor falsehood steal away.

This Convention will teach a wholesome lesson, in all time to come, to those in place and power. Had Governor Packer properly rebuked the unpardonable treason of his Attorney General, when he preached disorganization to the Democracy, he would not now be left naked to his enemies.

It was the weight that pulled him down." It was "a blunder, worse than a crime," not to set openly and fearlessly his mark of disapprobation upon the unwarrantable course of the man who had taken into his councils. No one is to be taken into his councils, who is not a friend to the Democracy.

From the Journal Register.

We were present during the entire deliberations of the Convention, and can safely say that Gov. Packer's administration had but one friend in the Convention, and that the Governor has lost the confidence and friendship of the Democratic party.

The cause which produced this result, when attributed to his Lecontevices, is an admitted falsehood. Read the proceedings of the Convention and you cannot find one word to warrant such a charge.

The answer to the very breath of the Convention, and as for the Democratic party when relieved of their presence and their dead weight, will like a young tree when lopped of its dead and fruitless branches, gather renewed strength by being freed from that which had hindered its growth.

Mr. Managhan made the charge in open Convention that Gov. Packer carried two hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars less for the Delaware Division of the State Canals than he could have had for it, and that the bid was made to the Governor, whilst the door to take it was still open. The charge was not denied.

The Resolutions.

Adopted by the recent Democratic State Convention are received with high favor by the Democratic press of the State. All accept them, as sound planks well riveted, and upon which all Union-loving citizens may securely stand.

With a staunch platform, unexceptionable candidates, and no one old cause to battle for, victory will not fail us, though the field be the more hotly contested by reason of traitors assisting the common enemy. "Riars is none!"

Don't Like It!

Forney and the whole Black Republican pack are sorely disappointed because the President has decided not to call an extra session of Congress. It deprives them of a little anticipated political capital, by knocking at least one spoke out of their "stragragano" wheel.

Irish potatoes grown this season have their appearance at Pichens Court House, S. C.

Who are the signers?

Forney's Press of Monday contained a call for a Convention at Harrisburg, on the 13th of April, to rebuke the Democratic State Convention held in that place on Wednesday week.

This is a mere organizing trick of Forney and the disappointed office-seekers around him to play openly into the hands of the Opposition. Last fall they performed the same "good service" for the Black Republican Know Nothings, only a part of them did it secretly.

The Philadelphia Pennsylvania shows up, in their true colors, the leaders in this despicable business. That paper says:

But as the "Call" has been issued, and gentlemen have seen fit to place themselves upon the record in opposition to the party, a brief history of some of the more prominent and aspiring individuals who are engaged in this treasonable plot against the Democracy of Pennsylvania is here given.

Among them stands John W. Forney, editor of the leading Opposition journal of this State, the man who opposed the regular nominations of the party last fall, called at Black Republican meetings in favor of Blair, Webster and all the other public works of a BARKLEY CONVENTION, that had not one dollar in its treasury.

The Philadelphia Division would have brought $500,000, if it had been put up at a fair public sale, and that was not all, instead of the bonds of the same political platform with (Wreley, Hale, Giddings and Garrison. Then comes W. E. Lehman, who opposed the party last fall, spoke at Opposition meetings, voted the irregular ticket, and contributed money for the defeat of the regular nominees.

Wreley also signed the "Call." He has acted with the Opposition for years, and last fall was especially active against the whole Democratic Ticket. Voted against Mayor Vaux. E. G. Webb was one of the most active and bitter opponents of the Democratic party at the Pennsylvania State Convention, and on the day of election voted for the irregular candidate, and against the party nominees.

J. Leith Ringwalt also acted with the opponents of the Democratic party in the Pennsylvania State Convention, and on the day of election voted for the irregular candidate, and against the party nominees.

From the York Gazette.

Our Platform.

James Buchanan Indicted by the Democracy of Pennsylvania!—In another column will be found the resolutions adopted by the late Democratic State Convention. They are eminently and thoroughly national in their character, and gloriously vindicate the wise and patriotic policy of James Buchanan.

The Democracy of Pennsylvania, in their true and honest sentiments of the true Democracy of Pennsylvania, they exhibit the earnest and unflinching devotion which exists in the hearts of the people of his native Commonwealth to the great and good man who now occupies the Presidential chair.

For months past efforts have been made to rob him of his well-earned fame. His policy has been grossly misrepresented, his public acts have been ruthlessly assailed, and his private virtues have been maliciously insinuated.

But it has all been in vain. The recent Convention repelled the assaults, and sternly re-asserted the truth. One act was clearly demonstrated by the Convention, and that should be well and carefully pondered upon.

That the Democracy of Pennsylvania have a confidence in James Buchanan, which no party can shake, nor falsehood steal away.

This Convention will teach a wholesome lesson, in all time to come, to those in place and power. Had Governor Packer properly rebuked the unpardonable treason of his Attorney General, when he preached disorganization to the Democracy, he would not now be left naked to his enemies.

It was the weight that pulled him down." It was "a blunder, worse than a crime," not to set openly and fearlessly his mark of disapprobation upon the unwarrantable course of the man who had taken into his councils. No one is to be taken into his councils, who is not a friend to the Democracy.

From the Journal Register.

We were present during the entire deliberations of the Convention, and can safely say that Gov. Packer's administration had but one friend in the Convention, and that the Governor has lost the confidence and friendship of the Democratic party.

The cause which produced this result, when attributed to his Lecontevices, is an admitted falsehood. Read the proceedings of the Convention and you cannot find one word to warrant such a charge.

The answer to the very breath of the Convention, and as for the Democratic party when relieved of their presence and their dead weight, will like a young tree when lopped of its dead and fruitless branches, gather renewed strength by being freed from that which had hindered its growth.

Mr. Managhan made the charge in open Convention that Gov. Packer carried two hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars less for the Delaware Division of the State Canals than he could have had for it, and that the bid was made to the Governor, whilst the door to take it was still open. The charge was not denied.

The Resolutions.

Adopted by the recent Democratic State Convention are received with high favor by the Democratic press of the State. All accept them, as sound planks well riveted, and upon which all Union-loving citizens may securely stand.

With a staunch platform, unexceptionable candidates, and no one old cause to battle for, victory will not fail us, though the field be the more hotly contested by reason of traitors assisting the common enemy. "Riars is none!"

Don't Like It!

Forney and the whole Black Republican pack are sorely disappointed because the President has decided not to call an extra session of Congress. It deprives them of a little anticipated political capital, by knocking at least one spoke out of their "stragragano" wheel.

Irish potatoes grown this season have their appearance at Pichens Court House, S. C.

Who are the signers?

Forney's Press of Monday contained a call for a Convention at Harrisburg, on the 13th of April, to rebuke the Democratic State Convention held in that place on Wednesday week.

This is a mere organizing trick of Forney and the disappointed office-seekers around him to play openly into the hands of the Opposition. Last fall they performed the same "good service" for the Black Republican Know Nothings, only a part of them did it secretly.

The Philadelphia Pennsylvania shows up, in their true colors, the leaders in this despicable business. That paper says:

But as the "Call" has been issued, and gentlemen have seen fit to place themselves upon the record in opposition to the party, a brief history of some of the more prominent and aspiring individuals who are engaged in this treasonable plot against the Democracy of Pennsylvania is here given.

Among them stands John W. Forney, editor of the leading Opposition journal of this State, the man who opposed the regular nominations of the party last fall, called at Black Republican meetings in favor of Blair, Webster and all the other public works of a BARKLEY CONVENTION, that had not one dollar in its treasury.

The Philadelphia Division would have brought $500,000, if it had been put up at a fair public sale, and that was not all, instead of the bonds of the same political platform with (Wreley, Hale, Giddings and Garrison. Then comes W. E. Lehman, who opposed the party last fall, spoke at Opposition meetings, voted the irregular ticket, and contributed money for the defeat of the regular nominees.

Wreley also signed the "Call." He has acted with the Opposition for years, and last fall was especially active against the whole Democratic Ticket. Voted against Mayor Vaux. E. G. Webb was one of the most active and bitter opponents of the Democratic party at the Pennsylvania State Convention, and on the day of election voted for the irregular candidate, and against the party nominees.

J. Leith Ringwalt also acted with the opponents of the Democratic party in the Pennsylvania State Convention, and on the day of election voted for the irregular candidate, and against the party nominees.

From the York Gazette.

Our Platform.

James Buchanan Indicted by the Democracy of Pennsylvania!—In another column will be found the resolutions adopted by the late Democratic State Convention. They are eminently and thoroughly national in their character, and gloriously vindicate the wise and patriotic policy of James Buchanan.

The Democracy of Pennsylvania, in their true and honest sentiments of the true Democracy of Pennsylvania, they exhibit the earnest and unflinching devotion which exists in the hearts of the people of his native Commonwealth to the great and good man who now occupies the Presidential chair.

For months past efforts have been made to rob him of his well-earned fame. His policy has been grossly misrepresented, his public acts have been ruthlessly assailed, and his private virtues have been maliciously insinuated.

But it has all been in vain. The recent Convention repelled the assaults, and sternly re-asserted the truth. One act was clearly demonstrated by the Convention, and that should be well and carefully pondered upon.

That the Democracy of Pennsylvania have a confidence in James Buchanan, which no party can shake, nor falsehood steal away.

This Convention will teach a wholesome lesson, in all time to come, to those in place and power. Had Governor Packer properly rebuked the unpardonable treason of his Attorney General, when he preached disorganization to the Democracy, he would not now be left naked to his enemies.

It was the weight that pulled him down." It was "a blunder, worse than a crime," not to set openly and fearlessly his mark of disapprobation upon the unwarrantable course of the man who had taken into his councils. No one is to be taken into his councils, who is not a friend to the Democracy.

From the Journal Register.

We were present during the entire deliberations of the Convention, and can safely say that Gov. Packer's administration had but one friend in the Convention, and that the Governor has lost the confidence and friendship of the Democratic party.

The cause which produced this result, when attributed to his Lecontevices, is an admitted falsehood. Read the proceedings of the Convention and you cannot find one word to warrant such a charge.

The answer to the very breath of the Convention, and as for the Democratic party when relieved of their presence and their dead weight, will like a young tree when lopped of its dead and fruitless branches, gather renewed strength by being freed from that which had hindered its growth.

Mr. Managhan made the charge in open Convention that Gov. Packer carried two hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars less for the Delaware Division of the State Canals than he could have had for it, and that the bid was made to the Governor, whilst the door to take it was still open. The charge was not denied.

The Resolutions.

Adopted by the recent Democratic State Convention are received with high favor by the Democratic press of the State. All accept them, as sound planks well riveted, and upon which all Union-loving citizens may securely stand.

With a staunch platform, unexceptionable candidates, and no one old cause to battle for, victory will not fail us, though the field be the more hotly contested by reason of traitors assisting the common enemy. "Riars is none!"

Don't Like It!

Forney and the whole Black Republican pack are sorely disappointed because the President has decided not to call an extra session of Congress. It deprives them of a little anticipated political capital, by knocking at least one spoke out of their "stragragano" wheel.

Irish potatoes grown this season have their appearance at Pichens Court House, S. C.

Who are the signers?

Forney's Press of Monday contained a call for a Convention at Harrisburg, on the 13th of April, to rebuke the Democratic State Convention held in that place on Wednesday week.

This is a mere organizing trick of Forney and the disappointed office-seekers around him to play openly into the hands of the Opposition. Last fall they performed the same "good service" for the Black Republican Know Nothings, only a part of them did it secretly.

The Philadelphia Pennsylvania shows up, in their true colors, the leaders in this despicable business. That paper says:

But as the "Call" has been issued, and gentlemen have seen fit to place themselves upon the record in opposition to the party, a brief history of some of the more prominent and aspiring individuals who are engaged in this treasonable plot against the Democracy of Pennsylvania is here given.

Among them stands John W. Forney, editor of the leading Opposition journal of this State, the man who opposed the regular nominations of the party last fall, called at Black Republican meetings in favor of Blair, Webster and all the other public works of a BARKLEY CONVENTION, that had not one dollar in its treasury.

The Philadelphia Division would have brought $500,000, if it had been put up at a fair public sale, and that was not all, instead of the bonds of the same political platform with (Wreley, Hale, Giddings and Garrison. Then comes W. E. Lehman, who opposed the party last fall, spoke at Opposition meetings, voted the irregular ticket, and contributed money for the defeat of the regular nominees.

Wreley also signed the "Call." He has acted with the Opposition for years, and last fall was especially active against the whole Democratic Ticket. Voted against Mayor Vaux. E. G. Webb was one of the most active and bitter opponents of the Democratic party at the Pennsylvania State Convention, and on the day of election voted for the irregular candidate, and against the party nominees.

J. Leith Ringwalt also acted with the opponents of the Democratic party in the Pennsylvania State Convention, and on the day of election voted for the irregular candidate, and against the party nominees.

From the York Gazette.

Our Platform.

James Buchanan Indicted by the Democracy of Pennsylvania!—In another column will be found the resolutions adopted by the late Democratic State Convention. They are eminently and thoroughly national in their character, and gloriously vindicate the wise and patriotic policy of James Buchanan.

The Democracy of Pennsylvania, in their true and honest sentiments of the true Democracy of Pennsylvania, they exhibit the earnest and unflinching devotion which exists in the hearts of the people of his native Commonwealth to the great and good man who now occupies the Presidential chair.

For months past efforts have been made to rob him of his well-earned fame. His policy has been grossly misrepresented, his public acts have been ruthlessly assailed, and his private virtues have been maliciously insinuated.

But it has all been in vain. The recent Convention repelled the assaults, and sternly re-asserted the truth. One act was clearly demonstrated by the Convention, and that should be well and carefully pondered upon.

That the Democracy of Pennsylvania have a confidence in James Buchanan, which no party can shake, nor falsehood steal away.

This Convention will teach a wholesome lesson, in all time to come, to those in place and power. Had Governor Packer properly rebuked the unpardonable treason of his Attorney General, when he preached disorganization to the Democracy, he would not now be left naked to his enemies.

It was the weight that pulled him down." It was "a blunder, worse than a crime," not to set openly and fearlessly his mark of disapprobation upon the unwarrantable course of the man who had taken into his councils. No one is to be taken into his councils, who is not a friend to the Democracy.

From the Journal Register.

We were present during the entire deliberations of the Convention, and can safely say that Gov. Packer's administration had but one friend in the Convention, and that the Governor has lost the confidence and friendship of the Democratic party.

The cause which produced this result, when attributed to his Lecontevices, is an admitted falsehood. Read the proceedings of the Convention and