One of the marked incidents of the voyage was an oversight which came near proving disastrous to Mr. Wise. He was in the wio ker basket, and being overcome with fatigue laid down and fell asleep; the rest of the party were in the boat below. It being necessary to advise with him on some point as to the course of the balloon, they called to Mr. Wise several times, but received no response. Mr. Gager went to him by climbing up the ropes, and found him breathing spasmodically, from the effocts of the escaping gas which was slowly suffocating him. He was immediately aroused by Mr. Gager, and soon recovered his 5enses.
