News, etc.

A private dispatch from Carlisle, Indiana, announces the death of Hon. J. W. Davis, of that State, formerly Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and at one time minister to China. Mr. Davis was also president of the Democratic National Convention which assembled in Baltimore in 1852, and nominated General Pierce for the Presidency.

Today's Lady's Book for September has already been received. The Lady's Book is a favorite with the ladies everywhere, and it deserves to be so.

A fixed fact.—That the Democratic County ticket will be triumphantly elected on the second Tuesday of October.

A son of the Hon. Kenneth Raynor, of South Carolina, was killed a few days ago, by the accidental discharge of a gun. He was thirteen years of age.

The official majority for Magoffin, Dem., for Governor of Kentucky, is 9,182. He will be inaugurated on the 30th inst.

A crop of 7,000 bushels of prime wheat has been gathered from one plantation in Davidson county, N. C. An offer of 90 cents per bushel was made for the entire crop, at Lexington, N. C., but it was refused.

One Opposition candidate for Congress is elected in Kentucky by a majority of three; one in Tennessee by twenty-six; another by eighty; and another by fifty.

The London Athenaeum speaks of a new Armstrong gun killing a flock of geese six miles and seven furlongs from the English shore. A coast defended by batteries of such range and accuracy, none but geese would attempt to invade.

On the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, now far from Jackson, in Tennessee, says an exchange paper, still stands the humble log-cabin, 18 by 20 feet in size, built and occupied, while he lived in the district, by the far famed David Crockett.

The London Court Journal, through its Paris correspondent, tells us that there have been serious feuds between the Empress Eugenie and the Princess Clotilde, Victor Emmanuel's daughter.

The Bowling Gazette says that a snapping turtle, the largest ever caught in Berks county, weighing 22 lbs., and "able to crawl with a man on his back," was secured a few days ago in the vicinity of Kutstown.

No politician has ever been discovered that draws out a man's virtues so fully as the sod which covers his grave.

The "big tunnel" on the Corning and Ohio Railroad, in Greenbrier county, Va., is 4,700 feet long, and 700 feet below the surface of the earth. It is 300 feet longer than the Blue Ridge tunnel. The width is twenty-seven feet, to accommodate a double track, and the height is 23.

Roasting pigs and chickens over the glowing flames in the lava stream of the Honolulu volcano is a dreary amusement of the Sandwich Islanders.

The few who compose the chief or "Superior Council" of the Know Nothing Black Republican opposition in this county, have resolved to ignore everything like truth and fairness in the present canvass. No trick is too mean, no falsehood too base, for their cause, so rancorous has their appetite for office become.

On Monday week, the Seaside, in a very smooth-tongued manner, "intimated" that Capt. Dietl had voted against Mr. Will last year. We flatly contradicted it in our last. And, now, the slander is re-empowered in its old form, with additional falsehood, viz: that Capt. Dietl also voted against Mr. Kline. Both fabrications are out of the same cloth, and are intended to delude into the support of the Know Nothing ticket a few voters from a class of citizens whom the candidates upon that ticket, and the managers who made it, have never to prosecute and cause! Capt. Dietl is not the manner of men the managers would have the people believe him to be. He is upright in all his doings, and we have his own authority and that of others, for saying that he voted as open, fair Democratic ticket, and by all around him, as such tickets usually are, and that he would be considered accordingly by all respectable men. The Star managers do not expect to convince. It is not their interest to be convinced.

No Hope for the Opposition.

As some misapprehension exists on the subject of the election of a President by the House of Representatives in the event of a failure on the part of the people, says the Washington States, we present the clauses of the Constitution regulating such elections, and the strength of each party, as shown by the elections that have taken place.

Art. 12 of the Constitution, in regard to choosing the President by the House of Representatives, provides: "But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation for each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice."

There are 33 States; necessary to a choice, 17. Elections have been held in 28 States, with the following result: Democrats—Alabama, Arkansas, California, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Missouri, South Carolina, Virginia, Texas, Oregon—11. Republicans—Connecticut, Iowa, Indiana, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Ohio, Vermont, Wisconsin—13. Opposition—Tennessee—1. Tied—Michigan, North Carolina, Kentucky—3.

Of the five States yet to elect, in the last election the Democrats carried Minnesota, Mississippi, Georgia, and Louisiana, four—and Maryland was tied.

If the delegations from these States stand in the next as in the last Congress, the Democrats will have fifteen, Republicans thirteen, Opposition one, and four States tied. So that by no union or combination between the Republicans and Opposition can they elect a President by the House of Representatives, unless they carry three out of the five States yet to elect.

The same article of the Constitution further provides: "And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President, whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the 4th day of March next following, then the Vice President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or constitutional disability of the President." In the event of the failure of the people to choose the Vice President, the Senate chooses, and "a majority of the whole number of Senators shall be necessary to a choice."

The next Senate will consist of sixty-six members; necessary to a choice, 34. The Democrats have 38, Republicans 24, Americans 2. Texas and Oregon one each to elect. So that, unless the Republicans and Opposition carry three of the States of Minnesota, Mississippi, Georgia, Louisiana, and Maryland, they will be powerless in the House of Representatives in choosing a President.

The Democrats not having sufficient strength to choose their candidate, in such contingency, the Vice President—to be elected by a Democratic Senate—will be the President.

The Black Republicans were in ecstasies of delight at the supposed election of their friend David Logan as representative to Congress from Oregon. The vast superstructure of Abolition triumphs which they built on the slender foundation of the Logan victory was quite startling. But alas! "there's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip," and instead of Black Republican Logan being the representative, a standing Democrat, Leaning Stout, has now the prize, and can write the much-coveted letters "M. C." after his name during the Thirty-sixth Congress, and as long thereafter as his constituents and a kind Providence will permit.

Of course this calamity has been brought about by the Administration party's use of "Missouri Border Buffalism and Leocompton iniquity," and is the result of "gross irregularities and frauds." The Tribune is evidently chagrined at this disappointment, and vents its spleen in the following series of interrogatories, which are intended to be very sarcastic: "Where will Lane be in 1860?" "Where the party which he represents?" "Where the State, hurried into the Union because the South desired her electoral votes?" "We have not time to do more than ask where David Logan is in 1859?"

Exhibiting their Weakness! The Star and the Seaside, convinced of the weakness of the Know Nothing Black Republican party in this county, and convinced, too, that the people know it cannot elect a solitary man on that ticket, are "trying on" the brag game, with the hope of humbugging a few Democrats into its support. The Opposition managers only exhibit the weakness of their party by such a course.

To bolster up the sinking fortunes of Mr. Debonaw, they throw out the idea that considerable numbers of Democrats will vote for him. This is all both—every word of it—and they know it to be so. Democrats of Adams are not quite so venal as all that would indicate them to be. They owe Mr. Debonaw nothing—he has deserved nothing as their hands. Did he show any favor to the Democratic party whilst in the Legislature? Not on any, even the most important, occasion. In his every vote involving the selection of individuals to office—from State Treasurer down to the lowest coal-heaver in the Capitol—Samuel Debonaw carried out the infamous oath he took in the Mountain County of proscriptive and tyrannical Know Nothingism, and his implied obligation as a sectional Black Republican superadded, by voting against every Democrat presented for these places, no matter how capable or needy. He in his course acted the part of a decided and uncompromising political opponent—and Democrats will treat him as he deserves at their hands, by voting for their own popular and unexceptionable candidate, FREDERICK HERR!

The Opposition organs had better strike up some other tune—that is played out already.

The Star writers, to break the force of Mr. Besser's "temporary residence," allude to the fact that the editor of this paper is a native of an adjoining county. The position lacks point. We are not a candidate for Commissioner—Mr. Besser is.—He'll wish, though, by the time the election is over, that he had kept out of the field, and somebody else occupied his boots!

The greatest liar is sometimes believed, merely because he keeps a bold face in putting forth his falsehoods. So it is with the Star managers. They pretend to be confident of the correctness of Mr. Debonaw's vote in the Legislature last winter. A little plainness, gentlemen, and you will find the "mark" with more force than you or he may have stomach for.

The Potato Rot is said to be very prevalent throughout the province of New Brunswick.

"Paying too Dear for the Whistle!"

The Star managers, or "Superior Councilors," are evidently beginning to realize how wretchedly they bungled the job when they fashioned out their present County Ticket. Every move they make only shows how utterly they lack confidence in its strength. Everything they do has but one object—the securing of Democratic support.

The re-nomination of SAMUEL DEBONAW they could not well avoid, although it is notorious that some of the more cautious of them doubted the policy of so doing. But he had already, in advance, paid for his position on the ticket; and, besides, if re-elected, he might be of more service than any other one in again securing for a favorite oracle in the "Council" a winter's berth at Harrisburg!

The latter consideration had a controlling influence in this nomination, but the result will demonstrate to the rank and file of the party that the leaders "paid too dearly for that whistle."

This is not the only point in the ticket in which the pecuniary interests of an office-seeking and office-holding leader were consulted, at the cost of the sacrifice of some of the most unexceptionable men in their ranks. We stated, several weeks ago, that it was strange, passing strange, that JACON RESSER should receive the nomination for Commissioner over such men as JAMES MARSHALL, A. DAVID SMYER, and others; and this has led the people to make inquiries about it, and they too are coming to the conclusion that the choice, in view of the facts apparent on the surface, is a very singular one. There is but one way to explain it—and it exposes the mystery to the core—that oracle whose word is law in the "Superior Council" has a long eye also on the Commissioners' Clerkship! True, as Mr. Resser is not engaged in any particular occupation or profession, the office would be a snug thing for him—but his simple desire in the premises would not have secured him success. Some weight behind that was required, and of course there was everything to induce "the pair of noble brothers" to risk their fortunes in the same boat. That they will, on the day of trial, go down together, is very sure; but we are disposed to keep them on the surface in the mean time, to give a trifle more life to the campaign.

All the clap-trap letters which the "Superior Councilors" can concoct, and publish in the Star and Seaside, will not "save an ounce of their labor." Especially when their tricks are as immediately transparent as the Resser communication in the last Star. That is one of the "wickedest inventions of the enemy." The attempted disguise in the "above-triplets," &c., ring in it too harmoniously to come from "A Democrat." Old Hamilton has not a solitary Democrat within its borders who would begin to talk in that style. No, not one! The language employed is that of the "Superior Councilors," and as such we shall treat it.

Now, gentlemen, come to the scratch. The Compiler states that JACON RESSER has been little more than a temporary resident of the county. Do you deny it? If so, give us the facts. Has he not, since he has been 15 years of age, spent nearly all his time out of the county? First, a number of years in Franklin county—then probably ten years at Pittsburgh—then on long tours to Nebraska, Oregon, and other distant points, requiring several more years—in short, residing out of the county nearly all the time until within the last year or two, since which he has lived in or about East Berlin. If this constitutes any more than a "temporary residence," we should like to see it figured out.

Further—the Star writers try to make the impression that Mr. Resser is a poor man, and hint that the Compiler opposes him on that account! No, "Democrat" would assert so ridiculous a thing, because no Democrat would be so lacking in common sense.—Mr. Resser is reputed well off—as having something handsome "laid by for a rainy day." But that—so rumor speaks—his means are all except about $1,400 so invested as not to be reached by State or County taxation. We accept common report in this particular as the only means of information, because most men are not very communicative in regard to their private investments.

Surely the people will agree with us, in view of all these facts, that Mr. Resser's nomination is very strange! His election would be still more strange. But there are no fears on that score, as JAMES H. MARSHALL is not to be beaten by such a tug.

McClure. From the Lebanon Advertiser: McClure, he who expected to be speaker of the last House of Representatives of the Pennsylvania Legislature, has prosecuted the office of the Valley Spirit of Chambersburg for libel. It makes a great difference with the origin when one is gored, as their papers are continually filled with the vilest abuse of Democrats, but as soon as a shot is fired at them they run to the law for protection. No one has been more personal and bitter in his political warfare than McClure, and now he is the first one to show the "white feather."

From the Hollidaysburg Standard: A. K. McClure has sued the Valley Spirit for libel. He forgets, perhaps, that the truth can now be given in a prosecution for libel.—He should at least have recollected that he was once an editor himself, and that his pen and tongue have been reported as many libelous utterances upon Democratic men and measures as that of any man within the limits of the State. All he gains by the prosecution will not add much to his reputation.

From the Fulton Democrat: A. K. McClure has brought a suit for libel against Messrs. Leubert, Mengel and Boyle, of the Valley Spirit. This is a poor way for a politician to patch up a character. The Colonel is a public character and should have met the charges against him before the public and disproved them before that tribunal. He will not gain credit by an attempt to intimidate a press by libel suits.

From the Carlisle Fosterer: This prosecution of the editors of the Valley Spirit by Col. McClure, is a very small business. The Colonel has been an editor himself, and was noted for the severity and recklessness of his writings. Had any one desired to punish him by a resort to the law, he might have been reported as many libelous utterances upon Democratic men and measures, to attempt to smear his character by a libel suit. A slight slip of the pen often constitutes libel, but yet few men whose characters are worth talking about, attempt to sustain it by a libel suit.

Retained to Slavery.—The Bayou Sara (La.) Ledger states that the slaves of the Carnay estate who were liberated and sent from East Feliciana to Cincinnati a few months since, returned on the steamer, a few days ago, they prefer slavery in Louisiana to freedom in Ohio.

God hears the heart without the words, but he never hears the words without the heart.

Local Affairs.

A Women's Meeting Will be held in Wilson's Grove, near Berdenville, commencing on Friday evening, the 9th of September, by the Methodist Episcopal Church of Berdenville, it being the second quarterly meeting of York Springs Circuit. It is expected the Rev. Mr. Surcas will be present.

And also, on Saturday, the 10th of September, there will be a Public Sunday School Celebration, held in the same Grove, by the Sunday School Union of the above Church.

Sabbath School Pic Nic. The Sabbath School of Christ (Lutheran) Church left this on Friday morning, at 7 o'clock, in the cars, for the Conowingo, near New Oxford, where they spent a delightful day—returning in the evening about 7. The wet weather on Wednesday prevented them going on that day, as previously announced.

The Sabbath School connected with St. James (Lutheran) Church had their Pic Nic on the same day at Spangler's Spring, a mile and a half from town. They also had a very pleasant time of it, and returned well pleased—notwithstanding the shower.

The "good things" provided for both were, of course, nicely gotten up and plentiful. The German Reformed Sabbath School will go to the Conowingo on Wednesday next.

Band Charities. The Democratic Band of this place are building the organ of the most magnificent Band Charities ever seen in this region of country. Some weeks will be required to complete it, but when turned out it will demonstrate that "some things may be done as well as others"—if not a little better.

Single Shot. A few days ago, Mr. GEORGE W. HOFFMAN, of Mountpleasant township, shot an Eagle, measuring seven feet three inches from tip to tip of the wings. The bird was brought down by the ball striking its head, but producing only a slight wound, it has since entirely recovered. It is a splendid specimen, and would be disposed of to any one desiring to exhibit or possess it. Mr. Hoffman is hard to excel as a marksman.

Don't Forget the Box. Our generous-minded post master, GEORGE GERZ, Esq., has procured, and placed in a conspicuous place, in the Post Office, a secure box, into which all lovers of the memory of our own good, great, immortal WASHINGTON, can drop their contributions to the "Washington National Monument," and it will be faithfully forwarded to the Capital, without any expense. This is, we believe, the best mode of accomplishing this great work. All other plans were attended with more or less expense, to which this will not be subject. Again we say, don't forget the box.

Adams Express. Messrs. BATES & WISTAR have been appointed Agents for Adams' Express Company at New Oxford. They are attentive and obliging gentlemen, and will render every satisfaction. The office will be found a decided convenience to that place.

Mr. JOSEPH BRADSHAW, of Harrisburg, has for some time occupied the position of Express Messenger between this point and the Hanover Junction, and has made himself, by his promptness, correctness and despatch to accommodate, popular with all. No letter man for the post could be secured, and notwithstanding our good wishes for him, we hope he will never be promoted to any other route.

Frederick and Emmittsburg Turnpike. The Board of Directors of the Frederick and Emmittsburg Turnpike Road Company, will receive Proposals until Wednesday, the 7th day of September next, for the purpose of making the unfinished portion of the road from Emmittsburg, a distance of between five and six miles. The road is to be made of a grade of 24 feet, 18 feet to be covered with stone, of a depth of 12 inches in the middle and 6 inches at the sides. All communications to be directed to Geo. Schlosser, President, at Lewistown, Frederick county, Maryland, and endorsed thereon, "Proposals."

Taken Down. We were "taken down" twice last week—first, by the present of a large basket of tomatoes (ten weighing thirteen pounds) egg, plants and onions, all of the mammoth order, from Mr. JOHN JORDAN, the accomplished and obliging Gardener at St. Mary's College, near Emmittsburg; and, secondly, by another basket of very fine tomatoes, from our good friend, Mr. CAROLUS DUGESBY, of Cumberland township. These gentlemen have our heart-felt thanks.

Circus. SANDS, NATHANS & Co's. Great Circus will visit this place on Thursday, Sept. 8th. It is represented as the best in the country, and as drawing vast crowds everywhere. The sight of a steam musical instrument will of itself be worth a "quarter" to those to whom it may be new. See advertisement in another column.

Injured by Looking from a Car Window. An accident of a serious nature occurred at our railroad station on Tuesday evening, by which a gentleman named Trimmer, by trade a mason, residing near New Oxford, was very badly injured and made a miraculous escape from death. The accident occurred as the car was about to start, and was caused by Mr. Trimmer perceiving his head from the window at the time the car was moving. In passing the post, which as our readers are aware stands in a very dangerous proximity to the side of the car, his head was struck and badly out. A large contusion behind the left ear was the only apparent result, but it is a matter of surprise that he was not instantly killed.—Hannover Spectator.

The best Flat Lamps we have ever seen are now on exhibition at McCLELLAN'S Hotel, by JAMES REILLY, of Washington City. It is difficult to distinguish their light from that of gas. Call in and see them.

The interesting Address of Rev. Dr. SCHWENCK at the Musical Convention here, on the 30th ult., will be found in this issue, in compliance with a general desire to see it in print.

This region was visited by several refreshing rains last week—helping the suffering corn, and enabling the farmers to get up with seedling.

The public are cautioned against two pious impostors, the one traveling under the name of Frederick Weber, and the other Osgood Gleason.

In Montgomery county the Opposition are fighting like Killdeer cats. The two wings, American and Republican, have each a separate organization and are dealing each other the heaviest blows they can strike.

Local Affairs.

The business on the Gettysburg Railroad is steadily on the increase. The receipts for the month (August) will foot up nearly, if not quite, four thousand dollars.

The Locomotive "Gettysburg" brought from Hanover to this place, on Monday evening, a train of thirty-one loaded cars, weighing about two hundred and twenty tons—and "never once made the motion" to stall.

The Littlestown Railroad is also doing a prosperous business. Recently one hundred and eighty-six tons of freight—iron ore, lumber, &c.—passed over the road in a single day, and on Thursday last, a train of thirty-six cars passed over it, but whether all loaded or not we are not prepared to say.

It affords us much pleasure to note these reliable evidences of well-doing by our Adams County Railroads.

Religious Exercises. On Tuesday last, some forty of the Students of St. Mary's College, near Emmittsburg, accompanied by the respected Vice President, Mr. McCLOSKEY, and several Teachers, arrived in this place, by coach, at half past nine, and proceeded to Hanover by special train, returning at noon. They then spent an hour or more in visiting Pennsylvania College and other points of attraction, when they sat down to a first-class dinner at the Franklin House, gotten up in McCLELLAN'S best style, and to which full justice was done. They left for Emmittsburg during the afternoon, very much pleased with the excursion—and, doubtless regretting that such days are too much like Christmas, in that they "come but once a year."

Pennsylvania College. The annual catalogue has just been published, and presents a very handsome report. The Seniors number 14, Juniors 23, Sophomores 26, Freshmen 29, Partial course 7, Primaries 20, Junior Preparators 51—in all 169. The Commencement Exercises will take place on Thursday, September 15th. During the preceding days of that week, various addresses will be delivered before the Societies of the College, the Linnaean Association, the Alumni, the Bible Society, &c. A very interesting time is anticipated, as there will be a general reunion of the Alumni of the Institutions.

Excursion Tickets. We are requested to announce that during Commencement week Excursion Tickets will be issued at reduced rates over the Northern Central Road, from Harrisburg, York and Baltimore, to this place. The Hanover Branch Company and Gettysburg R. R. Company go into the arrangement.

Widow's Demerol. Mr. JOHN A. LUDY, of Lebanon, who attended in his Ballou at Chambersburg, at 3 o'clock on Saturday last, landed safely in a little over an hour, near Mr. ANANIAS KAISER, in Freedom township, five miles from this place. He crossed the mountain in a nearly direct line for Gettysburg, but in descending into another current, was carried southward—otherwise he would most probably have landed within our "borough limits." Mr. L. was immediately brought to this place with his Ballou. He left for Chambersburg soon after, directing the Ballou to be expressed to Lebanon. The occasion was witnessed at Chambersburg by an immense throng of admiring spectators.

A Camp Meeting of the M. E. Church will be held on the land of Mr. LAUGHLIN, one mile east of Newville, to commence on Wednesday, 5 September 13th.

It is not true that the Democrats of Berks county last week selected Douglas delegates to the State Convention. The Democratic Convention of that county meets to-morrow.

The orderly citizens of Baltimore, irrespective of party, are getting up a movement to defeat the candidates of the rowdy clubs at the next election. Such seems to be the only course now left.

Thomas J. Woods, a boy of thirteen years of age, killed, a few days ago, on the farm of Col. WOODBURN, near Newville, a garter snake about three feet in length, which, when being opened, was found to contain eighty-four twelve inches.

The mornings and evenings are becoming quite cool. Excellent ague weather this. All that is needed to bring on the shakies is a quart of butter milk and the sunny side of a dollar dour.

Another Homicide. Shortly after twelve o'clock on Monday night a horrible and cold blooded homicide was perpetrated on a young man named Humphrey O'Sullivan, as alleged by Thomas Hoffman and Robert Miller. The victim was standing in front of the house No. 106 Holiday street, near Pleasant street, when two men approached from the direction of Saratoga street, one of whom it is alleged, fired the fatal shot without cause or provocation. The deceased had with several of his friends been to a dance on Fell's Point, and was returning to his home when he was killed. The ball entered the left side of the head, passed through to the left temple, and glancing obliquely above the right eye, whence it was extracted by Dr. E. G. Morgan. The report of the gun or pistol was heard by the police at the central station, and Capt. Mitchell, with Lieut. Wright and several policemen, and J. Mitchell ran to the scene of the homicide. John Snyder, one of the companions of O'Sullivan, had stepped some ten or twelve feet in advance towards Bath street when the shot was fired, and one of the balls struck him in the left thigh, and he was instantly released and sent to the hospital. The party who fired was elevated from the level of the sidewalk. Robert Miller, one of the accused, was found on the spot with the deceased man, and was arrested and taken to the police station. The body of O'Sullivan was removed to the police station, and the officers returned to the house No. 106 Holiday street, kept by a woman named Elizabeth Stouffer, where Hoffman was arrested. All the inmates of both houses were then arrested and locked up at the police station, to testify before the coroner's jury. After the inquest, the accused were ordered to be committed to jail for trial, and the commitment of most of the witnesses, that they may be kept to testify in the case, was also ordered. The woman BROOKS and Meror.

Stouffer Oresinger placed in the hands of Capt. Braeshear five commitments for Hoffman; one for burglary; one for assault, with intent to kill; Fryer; one for a robbery and a robbery; one for assault on Serg. McCormac, and one on a charge not stated, for all of which there are arduous proceedings against him in the Criminal Court. Miller is one of the candidates for constable in the 12th ward, nominated last week.

O'Sullivan, the murdered man, had only been in the United States for about six months, and at the time of his death was in the employ of Messrs. John S. Barry & Co., of Hanover street. He was represented to be a quiet and peaceable man, and he had been taken in charge by his friends, and removed to his late boarding house No. 3 East Monument street.—Baltimore Sun.
