The Ticket. In all parts of the county the highest enthusiasm prevails among our Democratic friends in favor of our unopposable ticket... every man is qualified in the highest degree for the office he has been nominated for...

J. W. DOUGLASS, Esq., of Chambersburg, the nominee for a seat in the State Senate, is a sound Democrat, a gentleman of ability, a clear reasoner, an eloquent speaker, and an unspotted honest man... We are informed, that notwithstanding the heavy moral influence he must encounter, his prospects are every where brightening...

On the 2d of March last, SAMUEL DURBORAW voted twice AGAINST a proposition to make the daily pay of Members of the Legislature $1.50, with expenses going to and returning from Harrisburg... On the 4th of March, Mr. DURBORAW DODGED the vote on the final passage of the Appropriation Bill...

OFFER ENLARGED! A Chance to Make TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS!

Be Vigilant and Active!

ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF LIBERTY! and it is only by vigilance and energy in bringing out the voters, that we can succeed by a handsome majority... We placed the vote of Mr. Durboraw on the $700 question in so clear a light last week that it is not at all necessary to say much further upon the subject...

Attend the Meetings!

An announcement for a number of Democratic Meetings, to come off between this time and the election, in various parts of the county... The meetings will be held at Hedgesburg, Littleton, East Berlin, New Chester, Fairfield, Abbottstown, New Oxford, Me Sherrystown, and New Oxford.

Qualifications of Voters.

The law requires a person who claims the right to vote, to have been a citizen of this Commonwealth at least one year, and in the Election District at least ten days immediately preceding each Election, and within two years to have paid a State or County Tax, which shall have been assessed at least ten days before the Election... A citizen of the United States, who has previously been a qualified voter of the State, and removed therefrom and returned, and who shall have resided in the Election District and paid taxes as aforesaid, shall be entitled to vote, although they shall not have paid taxes.

Again in their Dens!

Caught and cornered at every point, their plans failing, Durboraw's broken pledges not to be denied, his $300 electioneering deposit exposed, his name of four cents a head for voters scorned and spit upon... The Star will, of course, deny that secret Know Nothing meetings are now held in the county...

Bold and Reckless!

The friends of Mr. DURBORAW, in some quarters of the county, electioneer for him with American voters, upon the ground, that he refused to support Mr. Will last fall... Another Chance to Make $50!

The Star managers, in order to relieve their candidate for the Legislature from the odium of violated pledges, are forced to take the position that the Appropriation Bill "contained no provision allowing the $700 salary to continue... Comered, Caught and Caged!

We charged Samuel Durboraw, with dodging the vote of the final passage of the Appropriation Bill, providing, among other things, for the pay of $700 to each of the Members... The Star failed in its issue next succeeding to say a word in reply to make the slightest allusion to the important charge...

How Did He Get His Pay?

The Superior Councilors, or Star managers, in the blindness of their desperation, practice upon the idea that it is best to deny everything, even the plainest and most simple truth... The vote in the House Journal—the record of proceedings kept by sworn officers of that body—proves the truth of our position...

That $1000!

The boldest villain often escapes by reason of his boldness, by shouting "stop thief!" "stop thief!" with the loudest... The Star in now trying that game, in regard to Mr. Durboraw's vote in favor of the Report of the Conference Committee...

Know Nothing Proscription!

SAMUEL DURBORAW, we are reliably informed, is appealing to foreigners and Catholics for votes... This requires a marvellous degree of assurance, but he seems to have enough for all purposes...

McClure on Extra Pay.

On page 201 of the Legislative Record, of 1858, it will be seen that Judge NIX, in the House, moved to amend the Appropriation Bill of that year by STRIKING THEREFROM the words as follows: "And the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay to each member of the present Legislature the sum of two hundred dollars in addition to the compensation now allowed by law... Mr. McClure said: "Some years ago only $3 a day was allowed for one hundred and twenty days—$360 for the session. When the American party came into power, in 1855, it was raised to $500 per session, and in 1857, $200 extra was added to that sum for that session... Mr. McClure replied to Mr. NIX, but his remarks were not well reported in the Record... Mr. McClure, however, thinking he had made a hit and demolished Mr. NIX, writes out his speech and has it published in the Chambersburg newspaper of his party, the Franklin Repository and Transcript, of the date of March 24, 1858, with the heading, "McClure on NIX's Economy." From that speech we make the following extracts, to show how decidedly he favored the EXTRA PAY of $200... "I have confidence in the intelligence and sense of justice of my constituents. They have sent me here to be just to this great Commonwealth, and just to myself, and I shall vote for the compensation fixed for me by the Legislature of last year, [$500 and $200 extra] because no man has pretended to say that it is more than adequate for our expenses, not to consider the loss to many members by absence from their homes... ($700) fixed by the section under consideration meets the approval of an overwhelming majority of this House. It is demanded just by many who, from weakness of backbone, will dodge the question or vote against it."

Local Affairs.

The heavy rains of Friday and Saturday week had the effect of raising the streams all around us to points higher than they had been for many years. On Look, Marsh and Conowingo Creeks great damage was done, especially in fencing, of which nearly a clean sweep was made along the banks. Heavy losses have also been sustained in the floating of corn on the shoek, the washing of newly-sown grain fields, &c. Mr. Davis-Goswain's Saw Mill, on the Chambersburg Turnpike, was swept away, with a part of the dam. Mr. Goodyear, fearing the destruction of the Mill by the tremendous rush of water, was engaged, with several hands, in endeavoring to secure it at the time it started, and they made a narrow escape in getting off it. The Saw Mill dam below, was also carried away. Horner's dam, Lower's dam, Beecher's two dams, Boyer's dam, Himes's dam, and many others, were greatly damaged. The wing-walls at a number of the county bridges were also injured. The Commissioners are now engaged in having them repaired.

Local Affairs.

The Carding Mill, or Factory, of Emig & Robert, near East Berlin, was swept off—lost about $500. McGrail's dam, and Daniel Peters's dam, near Bendersville, were both broken by the torrent of waters. A single house and part of the Clover Mill of Daniel Peters were also washed away. Mr. Peters's loss is about $500. Peor Conover's dam, in Franklin township, was partly washed away. The destruction of fencing along the Conowingo was particularly severe. About 4000 rails were swept off from the farm of W. A. Duncan, Esq., of which about 500 only have been gotten back. Others in the same neighborhood also lost heavily.

Local Affairs.

Mr. GEORGE STILING has patented for us a very handsome new Sign, which has been placed over the Compiler office entrance, and the old one across the pavement, which had become "rather the worse of the wear," removed. Recollet, reader, the Compiler office is still at the same old place, directly opposite Wampler's tinning establishment, in Baltimore street—where subscriptions are received at $1.75 per annum in advance—advertising and jobbing at the usual rates.

Local Affairs.

This issue concludes the 41st year of the existence of the Compiler. Throughout this long period it has always been the faithful advocate of Democratic principles, and such it shall continue to be, ever striving to do still more and more for the good cause. During the fourteen or fifteen years the paper has been in our hands, its circulation has steadily increased, and no effort will be spared to merit the continuance of the confidence and patronage of the party for whose success we have repeatedly, but honorably, struggled. As "a sentinel upon the watch-tower," we shall be prompt as heretofore to give warning of the movements of the foe, and to assist in the work of defeating and prostrating them.

Local Affairs.

Our columns have of late, as usual during campaigns, been mainly occupied with political matter. In a few weeks, however, we shall be able again to give a general variety, and nothing will be left undone to make the Compiler a still more welcome visitor at the fireside. This is a proper time to extend the invitation to all who want a first rate family and county newspaper, to subscribe for the Compiler. All who desire to be thoroughly posted up with the news of the day—wield each home and abroad—should not fail to send in their names. Our books are open for many more.

Local Affairs.

We are heartily obliged to our friends for what they have done for us. May they persevere in the good work. Pennamanship. We take pleasure to-day in introducing to our readers, Mrs. COCKER, of Boston, who is now in our midst. She comes here with a view to getting up a class in Pennamanship, and if sufficiently encouraged will remain a short time. She brings with her the best recommendations, which, with the specimens of her writing left with us, testify to that she is at the top of her profession. Her terms are $25 for 10 lessons—one-half payable in advance. Hours from 2 1/2 to 5 P. M. She has taken rooms at the "Washington House," (Mount-) where persons desiring to be instructed can leave their names.
