FOR GOVERNOR, HON. HENRY D. FOSTER, OF WESTMORELAND.

Meeting of the Democratic State Committee.

A meeting of the Democratic State Committee was held on Monday afternoon, at the Merchants' Hotel, in Philadelphia, at 8 o'clock, when the following named gentlemen answered the call, viz:

Stephen D. Anderson, J. Henry Askin, Vincent L. Bedford, Hugh Barr, W. H. Blair, William B. Boas, John B. Bratton, Benjamin H. Butler, Reuben F. Brown, J. Woods Brown, H. B. Burnham, Charles W. Carrigan, A. C. Catti, John R. Chadwick, Edward D. Clory, James C. Clark, John W. Clark, John Cummings, John Davis, Henry L. Dieffenbach, C. M. Donovon, Henry Dunlap, William H. Eckels, Peter Elm, A. Hietand Glatz, Joseph Glin, E. E. Greisener, H. A. Gurnsey, John Hamilton, Jr., J. H. Hebert, Charles H. Hunter, F. M. Hutchinson, George W. Irwin, Robert L. Johnston, J. Monroe Kreiter, Isaac Leech, H. R. Linderman, George Link, William Morgan, F. P. Magee, Charles D. Manly, Robert McGay, Thomas C. McDowell, John P. McFadden, Peter McIntyre, B. F. Myers, O. H. Meyers, Howard L. Miller, William H. Miller, E. C. Mitchell, Robert E. Monaghan, H. H. Mullenberg, Samuel Parker, Joseph W. Parker, R. Bruce Petrick, Frederick S. Pyfer, Bernard Reiley, Daniel Salomon, J. B. Sansom, Henry J. Stahlie, Joseph M. Thompson, William C. Ward, Nelson Weiser, John H. Ziegler, William H. Wolah.

After considerable discussion, the following resolution was adopted by a vote of 45 to 15, viz:

Profoundly impressed with the importance of prompt, vigorous and patriotic action on the part of the Democratic State Committee, in order to avert, if possible, the consequences which must inevitably result from the unhappy division now existing in the ranks of the Democracy in our State and nation, we cordially and earnestly recommend to the Democracy of the State that they unite with heart and voice in the support of an excellent and competent nominee for Governor, Henry D. Foster, and that in all the local elections they act as one party, forgiving and forgetting any differences that they may have entertained for the Presidency, but with a view to a perfect unity against the common enemy, we recommend to the Democracy of Pennsylvania to unite their votes for President on the electoral ticket formed at Reading on the 1st day of March, 1860, on the following basis, and understanding, viz: That if said electoral ticket should be elected by the people, and it should appear, on ascertaining the result in the other States of the Union, that by casting the entire vote of Pennsylvania for Mr. Douglas and Pierce, and electing Mr. Lincoln and Hamlin, the said electoral ticket should be cast for them, and in case the said vote of Pennsylvania would not elect either of these tickets, then the electors may divide it between them according to their own judgment of what would be the best for the country and the Democratic party, on the basis of this united action, being that it is the strongest and best Republican ticket, however they may differ about men and minor points of principle of policy, to unite against a common enemy, and to avert, if possible, the greatest calamity that could befall the country, the election of a Black Republican President; and further, the Chairman of this Committee is hereby authorized to correspond with the several Electors in the State, and obtain from each of said Electors his written pledge, within thirty days of this date, that he will faithfully carry out the object of this resolution.

On motion of Mr. Kreiter, of Dauphin, a resolution was adopted that thirteen members of the Committee shall constitute a quorum.

On motion of Messrs. Parikin and Johnston, the Committee adjourned to meet at Gettysburg at the call of the Chairman.

"Union is the Watchword!"

The great body of the Democracy of the State looked to the meeting of the Executive Committee, at Philadelphia, on Monday last, with mingled feelings of hope and fear. Hope that harmonious, sensible counsels would prevail; fear, that they would not. The first has been realized—and the heart of the Democracy has been made glad. UNION is now the watchword—union against the common enemy—that our good old Commonwealth may be saved from the hands of Abolition fanaticism.

The way to accomplish this desired object is plain. By the action of the Committee—adopted by the decided vote of 45 to 15—was the Democratic Electoral Ticket formed by the regular State Convention at Reading, is commended to the support of all Democrats; and if successful, the Electors will cast the entire vote of the State for Mr. DOUGLAS if it will elect him; but if it will not elect him, but will elect Mr. BRECKINRIDGE, then that it be cast for him; and if it will not elect either, the vote be divided between them. The proposition is fair to each, and affords the only chance there may be of defeating Lincoln—to do which latter no Democrat will fail to make some little sacrifice, especially when that sacrifice will contribute, more than any other course could, towards the election of his favorite, let it be either Breckinridge or Douglas.

It becomes all Democrats, therefore, to give to the Democratic State Electoral Ticket an active and ardent support. No one can dispute its regularity, because the Convention which formed it had the authority to do so. Let it be successful, and a Democratic President will still be the result; Black Republicanism will be crushed out of existence, and the Union will be safe.

We shall allude to this subject again, and for the present will count it enough that we pledge our earnest and active support to the Democratic State Electoral Ticket, conscious that it is the only proper course to pursue, and that it will lead to the defeat of Black Republicanism in the State.

The Pennsylvania says of the action of the Committee:

The proceedings of this body, of which we publish a report elsewhere, will, no doubt, meet with the hearty approval of all good Democrats. The resolutions adopted are conceived in a patriotic spirit. They commend conciliation and compromise as the only means to save the country from the rule of Black Republicanism, and with reference to the two Democratic candidates for the Presidency, they are characterized by fairness and justice.

Both wings of the party are enjoined to unite with heart and voice in the support of the Democratic nominee for Governor, Henry D. Foster, and to continue to act in all local elections as one party, forgiving and forgetting the differences existing between them in other respects. In regard to the Presidency, it is proposed that if it should appear, from the result of the elections in the other States of the Union, that by casting the entire vote of Pennsylvania for Mr. Douglas it would elect him over Mr. Lincoln, the electors shall be under the obligation of so casting the vote; and that, if it should appear that the vote of the State would elect Mr. Breckinridge, it should be cast for the latter. It is, however, the united vote should prove of no avail to either Democratic candidate, it is to be divided by the electors according to their best judgment, as circumstances may dictate.

We fully approve of this advice, and trust that earnest efforts will be made on both sides to bring about an arrangement of this nature, which, in view of the dangers threatening the Union of these States from a powerful revolutionary and intensely sectional organization, is a consideration of the highest moment.

From the Harrisburg Patriot & Union we copy the following:

Union is the Watchword!—The Democratic State Executive Committee, at their meeting held in Philadelphia on the 1st inst., adopted resolutions for the purpose of uniting the Democracy of Pennsylvania upon the electoral ticket formed at Reading. We are satisfied that this action will be cordially approved by the faithful and loyal Democracy of the State. The first object of every man worthy of the name of Democrat, is to rescue the State from the threatened control of the Black Republican party, and secure it for a Democratic President. The Committee assembled under extraordinary circumstances. In consequence of the mismanagement at Baltimore, they found the Democracy of Pennsylvania divided in their Presidential preferences—a portion supporting Stephen A. Douglas and another portion supporting John C. Breckinridge. They saw that if the organization of the party in this State declared for either of these distinguished gentlemen, it would be productive of a hopeless schism, and result in the electoral vote of the State being carried for the representatives of Abolition sectionalism—Lincoln and Hamlin. The Committee also saw that the only hope of securing the vote of the State for the Democracy, and electing our noble candidate for Governor, Henry D. Foster, was in a union of the whole Democratic vote of the State upon a single electoral ticket. In this emergency they followed the dictates of prudence, moderation and patriotism, in refusing to throw the weight of the Democratic organization into either scale, and in taking active measures to produce pacific feeling and united action.

The plan of Union resolved upon is this: The electors chosen by the Reading Convention are recommended to the support of the Democracy, with the understanding that, in the event of their election, they are to vote as a unit for Douglas and Johnson, if the electoral vote of Pennsylvania will elect them; but if said vote will elect Breckinridge, and not Douglas and Johnson, then it shall be cast for them—and in case it will elect neither, by being cast as a unit, the electors are free to vote as their judgment may dictate.

By agreeing to this arrangement, and acting upon it in good faith, the Democracy of Pennsylvania may secure the election of a Governor and a majority of the Legislature, which is to elect a United States Senator. They may preserve the organization of the party in the several counties, and elect a multitude of county officers. But if they reject it, they practically give the State to the enemy, abandon all hope of carrying the Legislature, and seal the fate of both Douglas and Breckinridge. We have no idea that they will be guilty of a course so suicidal. The voice of the party from all quarters of the Commonwealth will go up in favor of the patriotic action of the State Committee be endorsed and enforced.

Trouble in the Opposition Camp!

The Opposition candidate for Governor, ANDREW CURTIS, is getting himself into an ugly fix. He was at Chicago and assisted, "with might and main," in the nomination of the Abolitionist LINCOLN, and since then has not concealed his warm preference for him. It has been announced, too, that on the stump he would advocate Lincoln's election. But—now a difficulty presents itself. The Bell and Everett men, who number many thousands in the State, threaten that if Curtis gives their candidates the "cold shoulder," they will treat him in the same way, and refuse to vote for him! This is a trying dilemma, which taxes the utmost powers of the Opposition leaders. How to get out of it they do not yet see—and may not before election day.—Many of them take the ground that Mr. Curtis had better not stump the State at all, but stay at home and keep his Presidential preferences to himself.—Whether their advice will be taken, remains to be seen; but let him do as he will, one wing or the other of the Opposition will fail to give him an ardent support.

Whist such is the state of the case with regard to the mongrel candidate for Governor, the position of the Democratic nominee, Gen. FOSTER, is a comfortable one, and which cannot drive from him the vote of a single Democrat. He is for the DEMOCRATIC STATE ELECTORAL TICKET, as made by the Reading Convention—the only body legally authorized to make one—and as commended to the support of the party by the Democratic State Central Committee. Let it elect either, DOUGLAS or BRECKINRIDGE, and he is content; because either is a thousand times preferable to Lincoln. Under such a flag Gen. Foster's path is a comparatively smooth one. It will lead him into the gubernatorial chair, "sure and certain."

The Opposition leaders and presses, here and elsewhere, don't seem to like the course taken by the Democratic State Executive Committee to harmonize and unite the party. We do not wonder at it. Before the meeting the mongrels looked confidently for a breaking up of the Committee, and a general Democratic blow out all around. But they have been seriously disappointed. The Democracy they now see can unite; and the only fear of the Opposition is that the union will become so thorough as to prevent Lincoln from getting the State, and without this State, of course failing in the Presidency. Democratic harmony is death to Black Republicanism.

"Lincoln's election is a fixed fact."—Star.

"I'm not sure of Pennsylvania, yet—and without this State he can never be chosen President. A very decided move was made towards the union of the Democracy by the State Committee on Monday last, and if carried out, as it promises to be, Lincoln's chances will become very small. His leaders already see this, and hence begin to tremble in their boots. They know that there is "many a slip between the cup and the lip," and fear the adage may be verified in their case before the close of the present campaign."

"Let Democrats now differ as they please in their preferences, there is one duty that must be evident to all of them, as well as to all truly conservative men, and that is the putting forth of vigorous effort to DEFEAT THE BLACK REPUBLICAN TICKET IN PENNSYLVANIA. Without Pennsylvania, Lincoln can never be President, and all true lovers of their country should work unitedly and actively to overthrow him and his treasonable abolition doctrines. Democrats, then, be true to your duty.—Whatever differences may exist among you as to men, be not lead away by rash counsels, but pursue that course by which you will best be able to contribute to the overthrow of the enemy. By so doing you will not only assist in the re-establishment of your glorious old Democratic party, upon a firmer, purer, and sounder basis, but you will help to avert that greatest of all calamities, the DOWNFALL OF THIS COUNTRY."

"If I were in Congress, and if a vote should come up on a question whether slavery should be prohibited in a new Territory, in spite of the Dred Scott decision, I would vote that it should."—Abraham Lincoln, from a speech delivered in Chicago, on the 16th of July, 1858.

The above declaration teaches resistance to established law. We ask this question: Would Mr. Lincoln, in the event of his election to the Presidency, array himself in opposition to the Supreme Court? Perhaps he intends to abolish both Congress and the Court, and unite in himself the legislative, judicial and executive branches of the government?—Democrat.

Very Appropriate.—An exchange paper, describing the dress of the new secret order of the "Wide-Awakes," says that it consists of a Black glazed cap and a Black oil cloth cape. Considering their labors in the cause, the paper is significant as well as appropriate. They are under military drill, and if they would only, in addition, give their faces a coat of burnt cork when they parade, they might appropriately style themselves the BLACK GUARDS of Black Republicanism.

Horse Race.—Philadelphia, July 6.—The horse Flora Temple beat Fashion yesterday at the Balford Park course. Time 2:24; 2:24; 2:24.

Who are the Tariff Men?

The Abolition Republican party, who are crying protection, no doubt as a kind of bid for Pennsylvania votes, in 1856 nominated John C. Fremont, a Free Trade man, for President.

In 1857, in Pennsylvania, they nominated David Wilmut, the only Free Trade Congressman in the Pennsylvania delegation in 1846, for Governor.

In 1860, they nominated Hon. Hannibal Hamlin of Maine, another Free Trader, for Vice President, and in the face of all these realities they are, by their leading journals, questioning the veracity of Mr. Foster, who has used every effort in his power for the advancement of the interests of Pennsylvania—the protection of her mineral wealth and home industry—a position he has always been known to take, and in defence of which he is now laboring assiduously.

The Battle of the "Hams" and the "Rams."

Mr. T. U. Webb writes from Philadelphia to know if we are sure that Mr. Lincoln's name is Abraham and not Abram. We answer that the Chicago Press and Tribune has stated as much on Mr. Lincoln's express authority, and now we have the Illinois State Journal, published at Springfield, which says that the name of Abram does not belong to Mr. Lincoln.—N. Y. Tribune.

The trouble of the Republicans over the name of their candidate has been really distressing to witness. Not a day has passed since the nomination of the unavailable Lincoln, without the occurrence of some unhappy complication connected with his christian name. So long as our Republican neighbors stuck to "Old Abe" they got along well enough; but once forsaking that plain appellation they have instantly become entangled in a "ham-ram" labyrinth. "It is ham," has shouted one. "It is ram," has responded another. The "hams" have grown heated, and the "rams" have been rampant, until a pitched battle between the "rams" and the "hams" has appeared unavoidable. By the above official announcement—to which in charity we give publicity—it appears that the question is now decided, and that the "rams" are overthrown. But although the Republicans may succeed in preserving their candidate's "ham," they will find it a difficult matter to "save his bacon."

Lincoln in York.

The York Protectionist, a Bell and Everett paper, says that a few weeks since the Republicans of that place endeavored to get up a meeting for the purpose of forming a "Union Splitting" club. They paraded through the streets with drums and banners, making "right hideous" with their noise, and after all, succeeded in drumming together the pitiful number of twenty-five men and boys. Each succeeding effort grew "smaller by degrees and beautifully less," until finally, they could only induce "three" men—the President and Secretary of the club, and a delegate to Chicago—to attend. We understand that they have since abandoned their meetings altogether, and have given it up as a "bad job."

The "Wide Awakes."

This "Wide Awake" association is the legitimate heir and successor of Know Nothingism. It is a secret society—a body of men organized to attend the polls and "see justice done"—which means to say that Republicans do vote, and that Democrats do not. It is by such movements that our enemies hope to defeat us—by the interference of a "political police" of their own appointing—by fraud and violence—by taking possession of the polls, ostensibly to see justice done, but really to practice the most infamous injustice.—It is an attempt to make general the means heretofore found so effective in defeating the Democrats in Baltimore, Louisville, and other cities—the taking possession of the polls by rowdies, and the beating and murdering of Democrats.—Greensburg Democrat.

A Republican Job.

The report of the Corvode Investigating Committee will make a volume of twelve hundred pages. The Republican House of Representatives have ordered their Republican printer to publish one hundred thousand copies for electioneering purposes in the present campaign. This is quite a respectable Republican job. It is taking quite a slice of the public funds with which to manufacture Republican capital. The entire expense of the printing, binding, directing, mailing and conveying in the mails to the different parts of our extensive country, these one hundred thousand volumes will cost between a half and three-fourths of a million of dollars. This is quite an item, but as it is a Republican job and a Republican message it is all right. Had the Democrats ordered it, the country would have been astounded by the wailings of the Republican press on account of its unheard of enormity and unmitigated fraud upon the people.—Lancaster Intelligencer.

"If Wm. H. Seward cannot be made President as a Republican, no other man can."

Chicago Journal 17th ult.

The Republican Convention has said that Wm. H. Seward "cannot be made President as a Republican." Now what has the Journal to say?

"In the manner of plain speaking, we are, many of us, like a soldier, who in his first battle was afraid to fire off his musket, but he might have been bold."

Democratic Meeting in Old Northampton.

The Tenth Legion in Favor of Union!—In accordance with the call of many leading Democrats in Northampton county, the Democracy assembled at Easton, on Thursday, June 28th, to take action in regard to the nominations at Baltimore. The meeting was quite large. It was called to order by the nomination of Martin Frey, Esq., as President.

Vice Presidents—L. H. Stout, Jacob Noll, P. F. Eilenberger, John B. Blatz, John Stotzer.

Secretaries—D. H. Neiman, William Mettelier.

On motion of Col. Johnson, a committee of five was appointed to draft resolutions. The Chair appointed the following gentlemen: Philip Johnson, Josiah Cole, G. V. Wallace, J. M. Fox, G. W. Stain, Charles Gantz, G. W. Stein, George Schlabach, Doctor J. B. Clemen, W. H. Hutter.

During the absence of the Committee, on motion of W. W. Schayler, Richard Brodhead, Esq., one of the delegates to the Convention, was requested to address the meeting. Mr. B. explained his course at Charleston and Baltimore. The Committee on Resolutions returned to the court room while Mr. B. was speaking, and when he had closed, Col. Johnson reported the following: which were adopted, after which the meeting adjourned.

WHEREAS, The National Democratic Convention has failed to make a harmonious nomination of a candidate for President of the United States, and their action has resulted in the presentation of two separate tickets claiming our support, and inasmuch as the confusion which distracted the Convention, if not arrested, will probably extend to the mass of the party and involve the loss of not only the Presidency, but the Governor, the Congressional Delegation, the Legislature, a United States Senator, State Treasurer, &c., and transfer them all, not to a conservative "Opposition," but to the ABOLITIONIST PROPER, the aidors, abettors, and backers of Seward, Sumner, Lincoln, Helper, and old John Brown; a result so full of disastrous consequences to the whole country, that it becomes the duty of all good citizens to sacrifice all partisan feeling to avert it; and

WHEREAS, The Democracy of Northampton county are determined, that before they will allow themselves to be divided and distracted at a time when there is so much involved they will exhaust every means of conciliation and compromise. It is hereby

Resolved, That we most earnestly recommend to the State Committee that they take such action at their meeting on Monday next, as will enable the party in Pennsylvania to vote together for the same Electoral Ticket, by re-assembling the State Convention, if necessary, and so reconstructing the present Electoral Ticket that in the event of success either,

1. The whole Electoral vote shall be cast for either of the Democratic candidates whom that vote will elect, or

2. The whole Electoral vote shall be cast for the candidate who shall receive the greater number of votes, or

3. The Electoral vote shall be cast for the respective candidates according to the ratio of the popular support each one shall receive, or

4. Any other means of compromise by which the friends of both candidates may support the same ticket.

Resolved, That O. H. Myers, Esq., the member for this county, is hereby requested to present a copy of these proceedings to the State Committee, and to urge upon that Committee their serious consideration.

The Easton Sentinel now suggests to the Democracy of that county that a Meeting be at once called, to ratify the action of the State Committee.

Worthy of Note.

The U. S. naval officers, under orders from a Democratic Administration, says the New Hampshire Patriot, recently captured three slaves having about 1500 Africans on board, and the negroes were taken to Key West. A Democratic President at once urged upon Congress the duty of promptly providing for their return to Africa; and a Democratic Secretary made a contract for their support there. A Democratic Senator promptly passed a bill appropriating $200,000 for the return of those negroes and the execution of that contract.—But the Black Republican House of Representatives have delayed the passage of the bill and enobored it with amendments so that it will have to go back to the Senate, thus delaying the return of the negroes and probably causing many deaths and much suffering among them. Yet we are told that the Democratic party and the Administration are conniving at the slave trade and neglecting their duty in regard to the execution of laws upon the subject, while the Black Republicans are running over with pity for the poor captives and indignation towards their cruel captors! Let actions determine the truth in the matter.

Union of the Democracy of Maryland.

A writer in the Annapolis Republican makes a suggestion which is cordially approved by that paper, to the effect that primary meetings be called, in the usual manner, in each county and in the city of Baltimore, to appoint delegates to assemble in convention, to determine upon the course to be adopted to secure the union of all true Democrats in the Presidential election in November next. The Democrats of some other States are taking measures to secure like harmonious action.

Corvode's District.—The Republicans have some little trouble in the Westmoreland (Pa.) district, now represented by John Covode. Mr. Cowan was nominated by Westmoreland and Mr. White by Indiana. At the meeting of the conference White obtained the nomination, and the friends of Cowan succeeded.

Dangerous Counterfeit.—Peterson's Detector notices the public of the discovery of a dangerous counterfeit $5 note of the "Penn Township Bank" of Philadelphia. It is said to be a perfect fac simile of the genuine issue.

Report of Jno. C. Ellis, County Superintendent.

Published by the Permission and Desire of the State Superintendent.

My report for the County of Adams cannot be otherwise than brief for this year. The time embraced in it is 4 1/2 months—the unexpired portion of my very worthy and lamented predecessor's term, the expiration of which is dated Oct. 3, 1859, and immediately after its reception I began my examinations of teachers. Those examinations, though necessarily more brief than I could have desired, were, in the main, satisfactory and were all, with one exception, well attended by directors, teachers, and citizens. It may be possible that, in consequence of a want, on my part, of a knowledge of the condition of our schools, and the teaching capacity required by them, certificates were granted in a few instances that should not have been withheld; but that cannot again happen. I have since, by personal visitation, become fully acquainted with the condition and wants of every school in the county, and, consequently, hope to be able to impart information as to the progress of the schools, which will aid them materially in their selection of teachers.

Visitations.—A short time after the opening of the schools, I began to visit them, and succeeded in reaching every school in the county, visiting a few of them twice. It was necessary to take with me the entire year's salary, and the expense of my visitations, cheerfully extended to me their aid, and bestowed on me marked evidences of hospitality and kindness; as, indeed, did also teachers and citizens. They have my sincere acknowledgments.

Directions Meetings.—District Institutes or Teachers' Associations were organized in almost every township. Those meetings were of a hopeful and encouraging nature.—In many instances, the room was thronged by an attentive and intelligent audience, composed of teachers, directors and parents. I have reason to believe that they will be more generally encouraged hereafter, and that much good will grow out of them. At these meetings I delivered lectures and gave such instruction to the teachers as I deemed necessary.

County Institute.—A County Institute was commenced at New Oxford and remained in session three days. The exercises were judicious and instructive, and were participated in by Prof. Wickersham, of the Normal School at Millersville. The Institute will re-assemble in September.

Directors.—Active and efficient directors are the salt of the system. Without such educational matters become a drag. In this county, in a great majority of the townships, we have had, and now have, zealous directors, working true and hard, and in the most judicious manner, to the best of their ability, and a result so full of disastrous consequences to the whole country, that it becomes the duty of all good citizens to sacrifice all partisan feeling to avert it; and

Resolved, That O. H. Myers, Esq., the member for this county, is hereby requested to present a copy of these proceedings to the State Committee, and to urge upon that Committee their serious consideration.

The Easton Sentinel now suggests to the Democracy of that county that a Meeting be at once called, to ratify the action of the State Committee.

Worthy of Note.

The U. S. naval officers, under orders from a Democratic Administration, says the New Hampshire Patriot, recently captured three slaves having about 1500 Africans on board, and the negroes were taken to Key West. A Democratic President at once urged upon Congress the duty of promptly providing for their return to Africa; and a Democratic Secretary made a contract for their support there. A Democratic Senator promptly passed a bill appropriating $200,000 for the return of those negroes and the execution of that contract.—But the Black Republican House of Representatives have delayed the passage of the bill and enobored it with amendments so that it will have to go back to the Senate, thus delaying the return of the negroes and probably causing many deaths and much suffering among them. Yet we are told that the Democratic party and the Administration are conniving at the slave trade and neglecting their duty in regard to the execution of laws upon the subject, while the Black Republicans are running over with pity for the poor captives and indignation towards their cruel captors! Let actions determine the truth in the matter.

Union of the Democracy of Maryland.

A writer in the Annapolis Republican makes a suggestion which is cordially approved by that paper, to the effect that primary meetings be called, in the usual manner, in each county and in the city of Baltimore, to appoint delegates to assemble in convention, to determine upon the course to be adopted to secure the union of all true Democrats in the Presidential election in November next. The Democrats of some other States are taking measures to secure like harmonious action.
