CAMPAIGN COMPILER.—The Compiler will be furnished from this time until after the Presidential Election at FIFTY CENTS—SEND IN THE NAMES!

THE FOURTH.—No general celebration of the eighty-fourth Anniversary of the Declaration of American Independence took place here. Still the day was not allowed to pass entirely unobserved. Business was generally suspended. The Bibles paraded in the morning—there was firing of cannon and musketry, and ringing of the church bells. A brilliant display of Fire Works came off in the evening, as also the evening previous—much to the gratification of all present.

A large picnic party left by railroad in the morning for a beautiful grove within a few miles of Hanover, and spent the day very pleasantly.

Honorary Temple of Honor, in connection with the Social Temple and the Cadets of Honor and Temperance, had a celebration in a grove near town, where the Declaration of Independence was read by R. F. McCLELLAN, and an Address delivered by Mr. BARNETT, of Pennsylvania College.

We hear of a number of smaller parties out in various directions—all having enjoyed themselves to their hearts' content.

The new Military Company at Hanover celebrated the day on the banks of the Conowingo, near New Oxford. Several hundred persons were present. The exercises were opened by prayer by Mr. BARNETT, of Gettysburg. The Declaration of Independence was read by F. M. BARNETT, Esq., editor of the Spectator, and able and eloquent addresses were delivered by Rev. E. KIRBY, D. P. FORNEY, Esq., A. DELLOS, Esq., and Dr. D. P. FORNEY. The celebration was a complete success—as was that of the other Military Company of that Borough, which came off at the Hanover Junction. Capt. H. G. MYERS delivered the address at the latter.

THE FOURTH AT NEW OXFORD.—The spirit of '76 was not forgotten in our neighboring town of New Oxford. A liberty pole had been planted, and from its top the national flag floated on the breeze. Flags were likewise stretched across several of the streets and to each was attached that deathless sentiment:—"The Union must and shall be preserved."

The day was observed by a general suspension of business, by the firing of guns, besting of drums, &c. Many of the citizens attended our celebration at Conowingo. New Oxford is a patriotic town and the great Holiday would not, of course, be permitted to pass without some suitable demonstration. We honor the spirit of its citizens.—Honorer Spectator.

THE FOURTH IN LITTLESTOWN.—LITTLESTOWN, July 5, 1860. FRIENDS COMPILER.—If you think it will interest any of your readers, I will give you a brief account of the manner in which the Fourth was celebrated in Littlestown.

We were awakened at an early hour from our slumbers by the sounds of guns, pistols, crackers, &c. which continued until 10 o'clock, at which time the org was given of the arrival of the Mount Pleasant Brass Band, when things were more quiet, all seeming to be anxious to hear the music—which the Band discoursed in a masterly style. In a few moments after the arrival of the Band, the burlesque Japanese Emassay made their appearance upon the streets and I assure you it would have done any good to have joined in the laugh which their appearance caused.

The procession was headed by the Band, then came a wagon trimmed with flowers and the American and Japanese flags, containing four men, representing the chiefs of the Japs, and having their faces colored and their dresses after the Japanese fashion. They in so small degree resembled the real oriental princes. After these came forty or fifty men, dressed in all the various styles you could imagine.

After marching through the town, they returned to the Railroad House, (their headquarters) where they were addressed in very handsome style by one of their townsmen. All now being tired and warm, passed into the house, where was prepared a splendid dinner, prepared by Mr. CHAS. STRAIN, the proprietor; who, by the way, is one of the best landlords in our town, being as polite and obliging as a dancing master; and, I assure you, the viands were discussed with a zest which speaks louder than words the high appreciation of his hospitality.

After dinner, the Japs turned out on horseback, making a very fine appearance, and on their return to the hotel, the Declaration of Independence was read.

At night there was a fine display of Fire Works from the roof of the R. R. House, and at the close of this Ball for the evening commenced, in the fine Hall communicating with the Hotel, which was well attended by the fair sex of town and neighborhood. Each seemed so anxious to promote the pleasure of the others, which made it pleasant to all.

During the day the stars and stripes were floating from all the prominent points of the town, and in several places arches of evergreens were thrown across the streets, trimmed with American and Japanese flags. I will say in conclusion, that it was the grandest day for Littlestown that she has enjoyed for many days, and hoping that the citizens will have many returns of such pleasant Fourth's, I give them adieu.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Narrow Escape.—Last Wednesday afternoon an accident occurred on our Railroad which resulted seriously in one respect, but was at the same time a most remarkable instance of escape from death. The facts, we believe, are about as follows:—Two of our citizens were proceeding down the York road in a one-horse carriage, and reached the railroad simultaneously with the regular afternoon, or four o'clock train; the approach of which, however, they were unable to see or hear, and attempted to cross the track at the moment the locomotive, running at full speed, reached that point. The consequence was the running down of the horse, which was almost instantly killed, and the carriage, which was very badly broken, wonderful to relate the occupants of the vehicle escaped unharmed. It is hoped that this circumstance may have a salutary effect and serve to prevent future disasters. Too much caution cannot possibly be observed in crossing the track of a Railroad, for in such a case as this it is beyond the power of the engineer, coming suddenly upon an object on the track, to stop or reverse his engine, and the consequences are invariably calamitous. We have not heard that blame attaches to any one for the occurrence of this accident.—Honorer Spectator.

We direct the attention of capitalists to the Real Estate advertised in to-day's paper by Mr. JAMES HAZY. The farm is situated in Butler township, Adams county, and is a most desirable property. Terms will be easy.

TALL.—Mr. JAMES REATHE, of Monaca township, had, a week ago, a stalk of Corn 6 feet 2 inches high, growing upon his farm. Mr. JOHN REEDERMAN, same township, had a stalk of Corn 6 feet 4 inches high, growing at the same date.

Rev. Mr. SCRIF, of Waynesboro', will preach in the Gr. Ref. Church, in this place, next Sabbath morning, at 10 o'clock. Also at Mark's Church, in the afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

In our notice of the election of officers of Ever Green Cemetery, we inadvertently omitted the name of Rev. Dr. KRAUTZ, one of the most worthy and efficient members of the Board.

Mr. JAMES B. KIRO, son of Col. Wm. Kiro, of this place, graduated at Princeton College, N. J., on the 27th ult., in a class of eighty-six. His address was on the "Last Words of Warren."

SCHOOL REPORT.—The Report of J. C. Ellis, Esq., County Superintendent of Common Schools, appears in this issue. It will, of course, be generally read.

Mr. Ellis is mistaken in regard to the two Scholarships in Pennsylvania College presented to the Public Schools in this Borough. Hon. Edward McPheasant presented one, whilst J. G. THOMPSON, Esq., of Lancaster, presented the other.

The Philadelphia Press notices the authentic rumor that the Democratic candidate for Governor, Henry D. Foster, approves of the plan of union adopted by the State Committee, and threatens him with the hostility of fifty thousand Democratic voters in Pennsylvania for his temerity in desiring the union of the party in this State.

The Press has heretofore affected to support Mr. Foster, but has recently been waiting an opportunity to declare against him. It would be unpardonable in the man who enjoys the emoluments of a State office, conformed upon by the Republican House of Representatives, to assist in the election of a Democratic Governor of Pennsylvania. Such a course would be the height of ingratitude—and of course Forney is not ungrateful to those who feed him of his belly. It is his duty to aid the Democracy, as he is performing his allotted task with the greatest energy. If he can succeed in defeating the election of Foster and securing the electoral vote of Pennsylvania for Lincoln he will have fresh claims upon Republican gratitude, and possibly receive his pay in a more lucrative office than that he now holds.—Patriot & Union.

Death of Jerome Bonaparte, Ex-King of Westphalia.—We learn by the Parana of the death of Prince Jerome Bonaparte, ex-king of Westphalia, uncle of the Emperor of the French, and the last of the brothers of the great Napoleon.

The peculiar interest which attaches to the deceased in America arises from his marriage with Miss Elizabeth Patterson, of Baltimore, in 1803, when on a visit to this country, who survives him and still resides in that city. The marriage was repudiated by the Emperor Napoleon, and the young wife returned to her husband, who she bore a son to her husband, the present King of Napoleon Bonaparte, a gentleman of Baltimore. But her husband, unable to overcome the objections of Napoleon to his marriage, although the Pope refused to annul it, in 1807 entered into a matrimonial union with the Princess Frederica Catharina, daughter of the King of Wurttemberg, and he was soon afterwards proclaimed King of Westphalia. After a life of vicissitudes, in which he has witnessed the ceaseless fluctuations in the career of France, he has died amidst the honors and renown achieved by the Napoleonic dynasty, which again sways the destinies of the French empire.

The Frederick Military Recompense.—It is now definitely settled that the most talked of military recompense to Frederick city will be held on the 10th of September next. Assurances have been given of the intention of three regiments from Virginia being present; also from the Washington City Regiment, and cavalry companies from Virginia and Maryland.

Tragedy in Iowa.—A Woman and Two Children Murdered.—Chicago, July 3.—The bodies of a woman named Mrs. Willis and two children were found horribly mutilated on last Saturday, near Batavia, Iowa. A man named Kepkath was arrested on suspicion of having committed the murders. From a confession which he has since made it appears that he committed the triple murder at Edgelyville, and hauled the bodies a distance of thirty miles to the place where they were found. Kepkath has since been hung by a mob.

Another Execution.—Henry Prill, convicted in the Somerset county (Pa.) Court, some time ago, of the murder of Eli Weimer, was executed on Friday, in the presence of quite a number of people. The culprit was sixty-three years of age and murdered Weimer that he might enjoy the embraces of his wife, with whom he had long maintained a criminal intimacy. He made a confession of his guilt.

Special Notices. CEMENLAND TOWNSHIP, May 10, 1860. Messrs. SHARPS & BUCKLER.—Having purchased and used during the last season, the New Jersey Reaper and Mower, I desire to add a few lines in its praise, given, as to its value and efficiency as a combined machine. For good work either in grass or grain, I believe it has no superior. Indeed in grain it is unobtainably any it is faster than any other machine of the kind. It is certainly better than any machine I have yet seen. The objection to other machines, that they rest heavily on the horses' necks, is obviated in the New Jersey, the weight on the horses being little or nothing. Yours, &c. JOSEPH WALKER.

In addition to the above certificate, we refer the reader to JOHN MULLAN, Esq., of Liberty township, and Mr. JOHN ROSS, of Cumberland township, who testify to the efficiency and value of the New Jersey Reaper and Mower will be cheerfully given. S. B. SHARPS & BUCKLER are also Agents for the celebrated Kirby Reaper and Mower.

The transition from life to death is oftentimes so sudden that we scarcely realize it. The subject of this notice was prostrated by a period of sickness for eight days. When the sad intelligence of her demise was announced it required a powerful effort to comprehend it. "We knew we knew no more shall we see." When a man bids adieu to the world, and the friends of sorrow manifested, and the immense gathering assembled to pay the last tribute of respect to her memory; and, added to these qualities, was that of perfect resignation.—These friends now desire to be notified, and feel most sensibly the vacancy her departure has occasioned, but most poignant is the grief embroiling her venerable husband, who will be compelled during his few remaining days to tread life's path alone. He is only transferred to a higher and nobler sphere of being. The weary servant of our blessed Savior has become to the eye of faith a seraph in glory. Amid the thick gloom that envelops the promise of our Redeemer shine with ineffable splendor. They point us to a better and brighter world, where sickness, and sorrow, and death, are unknown. To that blissful abode the spirit are unknown. To that blissful abode the spirit are unknown. To that blissful abode the spirit are unknown. To that blissful abode the spirit are unknown.
