1. They contain more new matter than any similar series.

2. They exhibit a number of new arithmetical solutions to problems that have heretofore been confined to Algebra.

3. The matter is arranged more philosophisally than in others, and is therefore better adapted for instruction.

4. No subjects or phrases, signs or figures, are introduced in lessons previous to those in which they are fully explained, and the pupil is thus lead along without the necessity of frequent and translessome explanations on the part of the troublesome explanations on the part of the fineness or quality, or the latest and most heau-tic use. Sixpence a Day,

NOUGH FOR A FORTUNE—A London paper states:—There is now in an Almshouse at Bristol an old man who states, that for sixty years he spent aixpence a day in drink, but was never intexicated. How much would this sixpence a-day put by every year at would like sixpence a-day put by every year at five per cent. compound listerest amount to in sixty years? enquired thoughtful neighbor. Putting down the first year's saving (365 sixpences) equal to $43 54, he added the interest, and this went on, year by year, until he found that in the 60th year, the sixpence a day reached the startling sum of $14,336 28. Judge of the old man's surprise, when told that by saving his nirmance a day, and deposition it in stely follow is saving his sixpance a day, and depositing it in a Savings Institution he might now, at the end some estate to his children after him.
