

W. J. STABLE, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR. GETTYSBURG, PA.

MONDAY MORNING, JAN. 7, 1861.

The prospect grows more gloomy day after day. Congress is doing nothing. The Republican members seem determined to force civil war upon the country. Were they disposed to favor just and harmonizing measures, the trouble might be healed. But they will not. Rather than abate their anti-slavery war-cry, they will let the country go to the wall. They want war to come under Mr. Buchanan's Administration, in order to relieve Lincoln from responsibility in the matter. This is the secret of their present policy—a policy which looks as though they would rather see the Republic destroyed than that their party interests should suffer. It is a fearful state of things.

We learn from Washington that the President, after mature deliberation, came to the conclusion on Saturday evening week, that Major Anderson, in evacuating Fort Moultrie, violated no instructions and did only what, under the circumstances, he had a right to do. This decision of the President, it appears, induced the Hon. John B. Floyd, Secretary of War, to immediately tender his resignation, which was accepted. Mr. Floyd based his resignation on the ground that he had pledged himself to the South Carolina Legislature not to change the military status at Charleston at present. The evacuation of Fort Moultrie, and the occupation of Fort Sumpter, by Major Anderson, he looks upon as a violation of his promise, which he, as Secretary of War, had made in good faith.

Peter McIntire, Esq., of York, Pa., has been appointed Collector at Charleston. The President will attempt to collect the revenues, and he will not withdraw Major Anderson from Fort Sumpter. These are the two points that are decided. It has been reported for several days that the ship of war Brooklyn and the steam cutter Harriet Lane are under orders for Southern service. All the available forces at Fort Leavenworth have been ordered by Gen. Scott to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to Fort McHenry, Baltimore, at a moment's notice.

An address to the people of the United States, a movement of Senator Bigler and John Cochrane, of New York, has been signed by Mr. Crittenden and many other members of Congress. The propositions are those introduced into the Senate by Mr. Crittenden. The object is to get the approval of the people in order that the proposed amendments may be passed by a vote of two-thirds as amendments to the constitution.

The city council of Providence, Rhode Island, has passed a resolution instructing the representatives of that city in the State Legislature to use their endeavors to secure the repeal of the personal liberty law of the State.

The Governor of New York recommends the repeal of the personal liberty bill, and also recommends that other States do the same.

The Legislature of Pennsylvania organized on Tuesday in both branches.—ROBERT M. PALMER, (Rep.), of Schuylkill county, was elected Speaker of the Senate, and EDWIN W. DAVIS, (Rep.), of Venango, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Wide Awakes, it seems, are about to perpetuate their organization, for future operation upon the politics of the country. The following item, from the New York Tribune of Tuesday last, is significant: WIDE AWAKE LOCK.—The Garibaldi Wide Awakes of which Mr. G. La Fata is Captain, met on Sunday at the Demit House, No. 373 and 375 Second Avenue, for the purpose of organizing a secret society to be known as the Independent Order of Wide Awakes. A. Heise acted as Secretary. The proceedings were conducted in secret.

The Jury writer in the Star comes down to the indignation request that we publish his articles—low abuse and all! We don't publish attacks upon sworn Jurors for doing what they conscientiously believe to be right and proper, nor upon other honest and honorable gentlemen for performing their official duties with uprightness and fidelity to the laws. But if the writer will come back to the issue he started out with, and give us that case, in which "the verdict was controlled by political influences," we will give him the benefit of our columns to his heart's content. Face the music, and let us know "who's who."

Hon. Simon Cameron, of this State, has been appointed Secretary of the Treasury by Mr. Lincoln. This "heads off" McClure.

The Governor of Massachusetts recommends the repeal of the Personal Liberty bill.

The Wide Awake Clubs of Pittsburg have resolved to wake themselves into military companies. What madness! Is not such a course calculated to incite Democrats to a similar course?

Disrupting Civil War.
It is rumored that one of the first acts of the Republican Legislature will be to appropriate a large sum of money—from one to five millions of dollars—to arm and equip troops for the ostensible purpose of aiding the Federal Government in the preservation of the Union. We do not see that Pennsylvania is in the most remote danger of an attack from any quarter. We do not believe that any man thinks she is in danger, or that an army is necessary for her defence; and therefore we cannot see the object of raising an army, without it is to be used against citizens of Pennsylvania, who oppose the policy of the Republican party, as the instrument of perpetrating Republican rule and crushing free will every movement in opposition to fraternal arms.

Do the men who are engaged in this mad project, which would fan the flames of a civil commotion, already too intense, consider what may be the consequence of their policy?—Patrol of Union.

When Webster, in his memorable reply to Hayne, drew that graphic picture of dissolution which will live as long as our language lasts, no one dreamed that it would ever become a dread reality. Men admired it; they could not do otherwise—as a sublime burst of oratory—a brilliant flight of the imagination—nothing more. But how swiftly has it assumed the substantial shape of prophecy fulfilled. Do we not now see "States dismembered, discordant, belligerent—a land rent with civil feuds"—not yet, indeed, "drenched in fraternal blood," but God only knows how soon that horror may be superadded! Webster's prayer was granted. When his eyes "were turned to behold for the last time the sun in Heaven," he did not "see it shining on the broken and dissonant fragments of a once glorious Union." A merciful Providence spared him the sight of so ghastly a spectacle. May we, our children, and our children's children, never live to see it!—Reading Gazette.

Congress.
In the Senate, on Monday, Mr. Powell, from the committee of thirteen, made a report that they are unable to agree upon any plan of adjustment.

The bill for the organization of the Territory of Nevada was taken up and considered by Mr. Benjamin, of Louisiana, addressed the Senate on the state of the times, and concluded thus: Senators, we shall soon part to meet no more as Senators in this chamber. If we have returned to withdraw, let us depart in peace; and be configured there not to let their conscience or their honor delude them into an invasion of the succeeding States.—Should such an invasion occur, none could tell what would follow. The South might meet with adverse circumstances; desolation might be carried throughout the land, and those families who advocated civil insurrection may, under the lead of advancing armies, stir it up; the savages on the borders may be invited to join in, as in the Revolution, but he would say that under all of these circumstances, the South could not be subjugated. Never! Never! Never!

In the House, Mr. Hughes, of Maryland, offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of War to report on the statement of the amount of money expended in each State since the foundation of the government for forts, arsenals, and all other public improvements, for the rivers and harbors, and the number of acres of public land granted, and its actual value, as agreed to by Congress.

Mr. McPherson, of Pennsylvania, offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of War for information as to the transfer of cannon and munitions of war from the different arsenals, where sent, and in what quantities, also, as to what sales of arms, and to whom, since April last, laid out under the rules.

Mr. John Cochrane offered a resolution placing the hall of the House at the disposal of the chaplains of the Senate and House of Representatives, in what quantities, and by the President, which was adopted.

Mr. Pryor, of Va., offered a resolution that any attempt to preserve the Union of the States by force would be impracticable and destructive to Republican liberty. On the 27th of the statement of the Hon. Mr. Stanton, of Ohio, moved to lay the subject on the table, which motion prevailed.

On Thursday, in the Senate, Mr. Bigler presented the petition of citizens of Pennsylvania, in relation to the amendments proposed to the constitution. Laid over.

Mr. C. also offered a lengthy series of resolutions for amending the constitution.—[They are, in effect, with slight additions, and as introduced recently by Mr. Douglas.]

Mr. Crittenden briefly addressed the Senate, saying that he did not believe that the American people were unequal to the occasion of the great crisis, and he appealed to the great majority of the Union people. If all others fail, let the means of consulting the people be adopted.

Mr. Douglas made a conciliatory speech, advocating coercion, and advocated in an earnest manner, first, the restoration of the Union, in respect to the Pacific, and making it a part of the constitution; and, second, the several propositions contained in his resolutions and those of Mr. Crittenden. He was for peace in order to save the Union.—[His division, certain, inevitable, irreparable.]

Local News.

TO DISTANT SUBSCRIBERS.—We this week make an urgent appeal to our distant subscribers for money—the most of whom have now been receiving the paper three, four, five, years, without paying us. We have asked time and again for money—yes, we have almost begged for it—but no attention is paid to our call. We can get along in this way no longer. Our stock of Ink, Paper and Type must be kept up—for which we have to pay cash. How can we do this and lay out our hard-earned money for years. Come, friends, reflect a moment and see the reasonableness of our request. Send us immediately what is due us—or as much of it as you can. If you know how we are cramped on every hand and the great inconvenience we are put to by your tardiness, we know you would be more prompt in your payments.

—To delinquent subscribers in the county, and we appeal to them, too—the January Court, to commence on next Monday week, will afford many opportunities to remit money to the printer. Send it along—bring it along—any way so it comes along!

DISTRESSING.—We learn from the Hanover Spectator that about two weeks ago, Mrs. Moul, wife of David Moul, residing near Abbottstown, was almost instantly stricken blind. She had gone to the cellar to attend to some work there, when she suddenly beheld her. There was no one about the house to render her assistance. When the members of the family returned they found her totally blind. As yet no cause has been assigned for this sudden loss of sight.

PUBLIC LECTURES.—Bear in mind that our former townsman, Hon. D. M. Swaves, of Norristown, will deliver a Lecture on "The Cardinal Duties of the American Citizen in the Present Crisis," in the German Reformed Church, on To-morrow (Tuesday) evening.—We hope he will be greeted with a full house. Single tickets, 25 cents. Tickets for the course, $1. Can be had at all the principal stores in town.

—Union Concert of Prayer exercises will commence next Wednesday evening, to continue during the remainder of the week. Wednesday evening in the Presbyterian Church, Rev. Mr. Dill officiating; on Thursday evening in Christ Church, Rev. Mr. McKelvey officiating; on Friday evening in the German Reformed Church, Rev. Mr. Mahlenberg officiating; on Saturday evening in the Methodist Church, Rev. Mr. Huber officiating; on Sunday afternoon in the U. P. Church, Rev. Mr. Kaiser officiating; and on Sunday evening in St. James' Church, Rev. Dr. Krauth officiating.

Friday last was generally observed by our citizens as a day of Fasting, Humiliation and Prayer. In the morning services were had in the United Presbyterian Church, Rev. Mr. Bross preaching the sermon—and in the evening in the German Reformed Church, Rev. Mr. Waxna officiating.

Look at this, little boys and girls.—From the 1st of October to the 1st of January, Doris Fleming committed to memory 1700 scriptural verses, and Susan M. Myers committed 1533 verses. They are both small girls, residing in this place, and are members of the M. E. Sabbath School. May the children in other Schools try to imitate their commendable example.

Mr. H. J. Myers, Esq., our Representative at Harrisburg, will please accept our thanks for early copies of the Governor's Message and other reliable Documents.

Our Carrier returns his thanks to his friends for the liberal reception they gave him on New-Year's day. He realized quite a handsome sum, and hence enters upon the duties of the new year with a lightened heart.

On Monday evening, an old carpenter shop in McSherrytown was consumed by fire, with all its contents—lumber, tools, &c.—the whole valued at three or four hundred dollars. Two young men who were sleeping in the shop at the time made a narrow escape with their lives, their hair and eye-brows being much scorched.

Mr. Peter Feiser has been awarded the contract to build the new School House at New Oxford, for $1,700, all complete, desks, &c.

On Monday last, the residence of the late James A. Thompson, deceased, was sold by D. Willis, Esq., Admr., to Mrs. Cook, for $715, cash.

John Miller, Esq., raised last season, a Turnip weighing 47 lbs. and measuring 25 inches in circumference. That's "some!"

There are many herbariums who have the idea that that excellent vegetable, the Parsnip, is only to be eaten in the spring of the year. In this they are mistaken. Mr. Philip Remond, on Marsh creek, brought us a "mess" the other day, and better were never placed upon any table. They were tender—not "stringy," as they often are in the spring. Friend Redding has again made us his debtor.

Special Notices.
DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.—In the whole history of Medical Discoveries no remedy has performed so many or so remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Lungs, such as Croup, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, or of Consumption itself, as this far-famed, long-tried, and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is its efficacy, that it has been tested by the experience of the most distinguished Physicians of the world, and its virtues have been ascertained to cure for sudden attacks of Croup—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive, and its effects permanent, we have issued from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

FROM J. C. SMITH, ESQ.
Some eight years since I was attacked with a very severe Cough, the long continuance of which alarmed me very much, and brought me to look for some remedy to relieve me from the cough, in which I found myself, I applied to different Physicians, but they did not lengthen. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry was recommended; I gave it a trial, and was relieved of my cough before using half a bottle. I kept on using it until I was cured, and I can testify, so that several of my friends have used it, with astonishing results. Very truly,
J. C. SMITH.

FROM J. SCOTT, ESQ.
Lewistown, Pa., May 7, 1860.
Messrs. Seth W. Fowler & Co.,
