Origin of the Peace Movement Emors.

We have good reason to believe that the report, alleging that Jefferson Davis had submitted terms of compromise to President Lincoln, originated in the fact, which is well authenticated, that Judge Mason, of Maryland, for himself and ex-Gov. Pratt, applied to the Secretary of War a few days ago for authority to pass the lines of Government troops in Virginia...

Negrees in the Cabinet.—In noting the fact that Collector Barney had turned a Democrat out of the New York Court House, and appointed a negro in his place, the Concord (N. H.) Patriot says: "Collector Goodrich set the example, by appointing a negro (ex-keeper of a billiard saloon) as a messenger, in place of Mr. Seavy, a faithful and industrious free white citizen, with a large family of white children dependent on his daily earnings for support. The colored appointee is said to have been a favorite of Burlingame. Salary $40 per month. This heavy business is worthy of no party."

A very significant article appears in the Paris Patrie, semi-official, and published in the Monitor, the official organ of Louis Napoleon. It is associated with the announcement of the purpose of France, fully to recognize the new Italian Kingdom, as the sole judge of its conduct, as its master of its future and its destinies...

List of Officers and Men Comprising the "Adams Infantry."

- OFFICERS. Captain—Hon. Edwin McPherson. 1st Lieutenant—John D. Sidler. 2d Lieutenant—James J. Herpin. 3d Lieutenant—Wm. W. Stewart. 4th Lieutenant—John J. Deane. 5th Sergeant—Peter H. Henry. 6th Sergeant—Henry M. Hough. 7th Sergeant—John D. Sidler. 8th Sergeant—Philip L. Houck. 9th Sergeant—Jacob Reser. 10th Sergeant—Daniel D. Bailey.

At an early hour in the morning the bells of the Churches, Court-house, &c., were rung, and there was an incessant firing of muskets, guns and smaller arms. At 7 o'clock, a beautiful silk company flag was presented to the Zouaves in the Diamond—Rev. Prof. Mullenberg making the presentation speech and Rev. Mr. Sunwalt responding. The flag was purchased at Philadelphia—the money collected from our citizens by Mrs. T. D. Carson, and Misses Annie Danner and Kate Schmucke, to whom much praise is due...

After a march through the principal streets, the procession proceeded to Spangler's Spring. The locks took out large numbers of ladies and gentlemen—much more had other conveyances or took it a-foot. Arrived on the ground, a rock in the cooling shade was enjoyed, and at 10 o'clock, a prayer was made by Rev. Mr. Keiser, the Declaration of Independence, read by R. G. Harper, Esq., and an oration delivered by Rev. J. B. Warner.

At 1 o'clock the party sat down to dinner, gotten up by Mr. Grödel, and an excellent one it was. About one hundred and sixty persons dined. An organization was then had—Capt. Sunwalt presiding, and Hon. S. R. Bost acting secretary. The following regular trusts were read: 1. The Day we Celebrate.—Embraced in the hearts of all true lovers of our country, may its annual return be hailed with delight by millions of people...

THE FOURTH.—The eighty-fifth anniversary of the Declaration of American Independence, occurring on Thursday last, was celebrated in a spirited manner in this place, under the auspices of the Gettysburg Zouaves.

At an early hour in the morning the bells of the Churches, Court-house, &c., were rung, and there was an incessant firing of muskets, guns and smaller arms. At 7 o'clock, a beautiful silk company flag was presented to the Zouaves in the Diamond—Rev. Prof. Mullenberg making the presentation speech and Rev. Mr. Sunwalt responding.
