Hon. H. B. Wright and the War.

Hon. Hendrick B. Wright, member of Congress from the Luzerne district in this State, recently presented a sword to Captain Dilly, of Col. Birney's regiment. We give the following extract from Mr. Wright's remarks on the occasion, and presume they accord with the sentiments, generally, of the Democrats in Congress:

"The war is for the restoration of the Government as it was, and with no other view.—And so long as the war shall be conducted upon the principles which inaugurated it and which were fully and frankly proclaimed in the executive proclamation issued in April last, it shall and will be a triumph; but woe to the nation and its destiny, when the object shall be changed to a war of negro emancipation! I cannot foretell the dangers and troubles which would surround the nation in such a deplorable event. Who can? It would present a divided North, a united South, a demoralized army! When the President sent forth his appeal to the people for men to quell rebellion, and assuring loyal citizens everywhere, that they should be guaranteed the enjoyment of all their political rights, how nobly did they respond! In a period of less than six months, six hundred thousand men were marshalled into the field. And that brave army are now ready to fight the battles of American liberty, but not of negro emancipation."

The Constitution and the Union Must Fall or Stand Together.

In 1851-'2 Daniel Webster uttered the following, which furnishes a lesson for the times:

"If I have attempted to expound the Constitution, I have attempted to expound that which I have studied with diligence and veneration from my early manhood to the present day. If I have endeavored to defend and uphold the Union of the States, it is because my fixed judgment and my unalterable affections have impelled me, and still impell me, to regard that Union as the only security for general prosperity and national glory. Yes, gentlemen, the Constitution and the Union! I place them together. It they stand, they must stand together; if they fall, they must fall together."

That shows where Mr. Webster would have been found, if he had lived to the present time. He would not belong to that school of politicians who believe the Union can be saved by destroying the Constitution. Mr. Webster believed they "must stand or fall together."

☞ There was quite a discussion in the House at Washington on Monday week, on a resolution inquiring as to who is responsible for the disastrous battle at Ball's Bluff, which resulted in the death of Col. Baker and a large number of our troops. The radical Abolitionists carried their point, but not without opposition from Richardson, Crittenden, and others. Mr. Conkling, of New York, the leading Abolitionist, as reported in the Philadelphia papers, said in the course of his remarks, that, "the Government is spending two millions of dollars a day."

On Tuesday, the Senate was engaged principally on the Bill to increase the number of cadets at West Point, and, after some discussion, refused to pass it, only 12 Senators voting for it. The principal objection to it, was that it would increase the expenses of the Government. We give the remarks of two Senators as we find them reported in the Philadelphia papers:

"Mr. NESMITH (Oregon) said he was glad to hear an argument for the sake of economy. We had the gratifying spectacle of half a million of men, ready to make war on the Rebels, and another half a million waiting to steal something from the government. He thought it would be better, to emulate the example of NAPOLEON, and elevate thieves on the Treasury by the neck.

Mr. HALE (N. H.) said the army of plunderers were ready to make war on the Treasury, and had made a brilliant monetary campaign. He said it with shame, that many of the highest officers of the Government are not exempt from the censure which ought to rest on this army. He thought it would yet be necessary to punish thieves on the Treasury by death. But we must practice economy in these little things.

Something must be done to purge the Government of thieves and robbers on the Treasury, or else we would have a rebellion in the North. He declared that the war was not now against the rebels on the other side, but against the plunderers on this side, and called on every man who thought he had a country to defend, to defend it against blows more deadly than those struck by the Rebels. The peril is at home—among ourselves. He thought we should immediately lay a tax of $200,000,000, and see to it that it was well and properly expended.

Horrible Tragedy.

A Man and a Boy Murdered.—Our community was thrown into a high state of excitement on Wednesday morning last, by the announcement that a foul murder had been committed in the vicinity of Boiling Springs, on the previous night. A German man named John Berger, has for some years resided in a small house near the South Mountain, with no other person in his family except a colored boy named William Grieat. The first indication of foul play was the discovery between 9 and 10 o'clock, by a neighbor, that the house occupied by this German was on fire. The alarm was given and several persons arrived, when the old man was discovered lying on his back at the door of a small cave, a short distance from the house, in which he had kept his provisions, clothing and other articles.—He was quite dead—having been shot through the head. The ball entered behind, and [illegible] the eye. His brains were [illegible] all a[illegible] clothes.—His gun, an old [illegible] States rifle, was standing some distance off, having been lately discharged. Among the ruins of the house, (which was entirely consumed,) was found the burnt and blackened corpse of the colored boy, so much disfigured as to render any attempt at investigation impossible. The only possible incentive to this murder must have been robbery. The old man attended our market regularly, and was supposed to have some money. Those acquainted with him say that he has some $1200 or $1500 deposited in Baltimore.—About $15 were found in the cave, secreted among some potatoes. Suspicion attaches to two travelling Germans seen in that vicinity, early in the evening, and a party started in pursuit, but had not, up to this time, succeeded in capturing them. Coroner Smith held an inquest on Wednesday morning—verdict in accordance with the facts. The Commissioners of this county offer a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of the murderers.

Mr. Berger has no relatives residing in this part of the country, but it is supposed that one or two sisters reside in Baltimore. —Carlisle Democrat.

☞ If the Republicans had been as willing to "Compromise" with the South, before the present strife began, as they have been in order to save a fight with England, we would have been saved the civil war in which we are now engaged.—Exc.

☞ A London paper has the announcement that Colonel Fuller, formerly editor of the New York Mirror, would deliver a lecture in the British metropolis, advocating the Secession cause. In 1856 he supported Col. Fremont for President. What next?—Philadelphia Bulletin.

☞ Accounts from various quarters show that Mr. Stanton's nomination as Secretary of War gives universal satisfaction to conservative people. A good sign.

A Cannibal.—The man who during the first six months of his marriage, loved his wife so that he could have eaten her up, has regretted ever since that he did not do it.

☞ The January Court commences to-day.

They are the safest and surest medicine for all the diseases incidental to females of all ages, and more especially so in this climate.

Ladies who wish to enjoy health should always have these Pills. No one who ever uses them once will allow herself to be without them. They remove all obstructions, purify the blood and give to the skin that beautiful, clear and healthful look so greatly admired in a beautiful and healthy woman. At certain periods these Pills are an indispensable companion. From one to four should be taken each day, until relief is obtained. A few doses occasionally, will keep the system so healthy and the blood so pure, that diseases cannot enter the body. Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are sold by all Medicine Dealers. [Jan. 20. 1m

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.—The sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these Pills have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines and that they will unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure.—Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children.—Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of our remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that our Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing directions for the use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Diseases which require an evacuant medicine. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for Ayer's Pills, and take nothing else.—No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Dearest Abbie, thou hast left us,
Here thy loss we deeply feel,
But 'tis God that has bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.

Dear Abbie, tears start from my eyes,
While I breathe thy name.
Oh! tell me who hath lost a child
And not felt the same?

Father, mother, sister, too,
And brothers thou hast left,
To mourn in sorrow over thy tomb,
But thou art ever blest.

Dear Abbie, farewell, but may we meet
There on Canaan's peaceful shore,
To join thee in thy new born song,
Where parting is no more.

Oh, bury me in the morning, mother!
And let me have the light
Of one bright day in my grave, mother,
Ere you leave me alone in the night!
You tell me of a Savior's love, mother;
I feel it in my heart,
But, oh! from this beautiful world, mother,
It is hard for the young to part.
Then bury me in the morning, mother,
When the sunbeams flood the sky,
For death is the gate to life, mother,
And leads to life on high.

Some said that nothing ailed me—
Some gave me up for lost—
Thus every refuge failed me,
And all my hopes were crossed.
At length the great Physician,
How matchless is his grace,
Accepted my petition,
And undertook my case;
Next door to death he found me,
And snatched me from the grave,
To tell to all around me,
His wondrous power to save.

Died, on the 15th inst, SALLIE, daughter of Barnet and Louisa C. Hart, of this place, aged 5 years 4 months and 4 days.

Ere sin had stained the infant gem,
Death came and plucked the flower;
Withered the heart, the parent stem—
Alas! how sad the hour.

Rough as the hand of death has been,
Dark as the grave appears,
How sweet to think SALLIE lives,
Cherished far from tears.

Soon did her earthly mission close,
Kind heaven saw it best,
Eternal glory she beholds,
Like Angels, she's with Jesus blest."
