From the M. Y. Herald, March 31. An Inundation of Negrees.

The public has already been informed that the escaped contrabands of the South are pouring into Philadelphia in large numhere, and that in Washington they have become so impudent as to elbow white men off the sidewalles, insult white women, and be utterly unfit for servants. This influx of negroes and this saucy independence are the very natural results of the teachings of the abolitionists, who held that a white man is as good as a negro only when he behaves himself and goes strongly for emancipation. But how will this negro inundation affect the North and the South?

In the North these escaped negroes will fill our poor-houses and increase our taxes. Many of them will learn trades, as they are dready doing in Philadelphia, and white men and woman will be crowded out of employment. Already we have more no groes here than we know what to do with. and every fugitive contraband is an incumbus and and a nuisance.
