Hence, the sole responsibility of disagreemen and the only difficulty in the way of an anucable ad-fuginent is with the Republican party."

Mr. Douglas proclaimed, in the hearing of the Senate, and to the people of the country, that the sole responsibility of the disagreement, and the only difficulty in the way of an amicable adjustment, was with the Republican party. Not only did the Republicans refuse to accept the Crittenden Compromise, but they would not vote for the "Border State Compromise," "Mr. Douglas' Compromise," "Mr. Adams' Compromise," or the Peace Confederate Report. The Gazelte opposed every compromise that was pending before Congress, while the Inquirer and the great mass of the Northern Democracy were in favor of any of them that would save the Union. They loved the Union so devotedly that they were willing to make any sacrifice rather than put it in jeopardy .--Their opponents hated the Crittenden Compromise, and rather than take it, risked the destruction of the Union. This is the solemn truth, which can never be blotted out of national history .- Cin. Inq.

CONGRESS NOT SOVEREIGN.

The Boston Post remarks that it may be well to remind our very pretentious abolition members of Congress that they are not the sove .eigns of the country, but that sovereignty is in the people. Thad. Stevens talks about as A CO. old Lord North talked in the days of George the third; but then the doctrine of old England was and is, that Parliament is the sovereignty; that an act of Parliament is the Constitution. Thad. Stevens, Sumner, Lovejoy and the abolition set seem to act as though this was the case here.

Now under our system, in our Republican government, these members of Congress are but agents, who are bound to not according to the supreme law ordained by the sovereigns, the people; and in reference to this rebellion, as well as other things, nobody can deny that the legalicharacter of this war, on the part of the Confederates, is insurrection or rebellion the Confederates, is insurrection or rebellion terials on their plantations.
