IN THERE AN UNBELIEVER!

BY THOMAS HAYNES DAILY. Is there an unbeliever? One man who walks, the earth, And madly doubts that Providence Watched o'er him at his hirth? He robs mankind for ever Of hope beyond the tomb-What gives he as a recompense? The brute's unhallowed doom.

In annhood's loftjest hour. In bealth, and strength, and pride, Of lend his steps through alleys green, Where rills 'mid cowslips glide ; Climb Nature's granite tower. Where man bath rarely trod; And will be then, in such a scene, Deny there is a God? Yes! the proud healt will ever Prompt the false tongue's reply i . An Omnipresent Providence Still madly he'll deny; But see the Unbeliever Sinking in death's decay And hear the cry of penitence!

A PROMISE

The Administration papers say: "It is the duty of every person to support the Government, and when all do so the returnlion will be speedily crushed out."

We agree that it is the duty of every man to support the Government, and to sustain the Administration in all its Constitutional and lawful acts, and with hearty good will. It is equally their duty to raise their voices against such of its acts as are unconstitutional and illegal, corrupt, or of tyrannical character. It is also their right and only freely to canvass whateverthey do, but candully and fairly, with the view of enlightening the public mind, and pointing the Administration to the path which duty and wisdom require them to pursue.— With the exception of such men as Wendell Phillips, Parson Beecher, and their followers, there are few, indeed, in the Loyal States who do not support the Government with parnest zeal. All have responded to the call for men and means, and have cheered our soldiers on to victory. It is not the fault of the loyal North that the men and money so promptly and lavishly furnished have not been so used and applied as to put down the rebellion.— The Administration has controlled and managed the men and means according to its own views, or in conformity with the dictation of the cliques which, from time to time, control it. They have all they have asked for, and have had for two years: why is it that they have failed to crush out the enomy?—What assurance has the country that tasy will what assurance has the country much conduct the war for the next two years more conduct the war for the during the two last? What is the exact thing they want? They have made the laws to suit themselves, and have heretofore made appropriations in conformity with their own judgments, and have provided them for the next year and two months as time. In the same way the Union Lesguers they desired, and have clothed the Secretary of the Treasury with such powers as he desired to raise means for the next two years, and they passed a conscription law to fill the army and keep it so, exactly to suit themselves, and have enacted laws in relation to everything in conformity with their own plans for success .-What mere do they want to secure success and put down the rebellion? They have had everything their own way, from the suspension of the haheas corpus to the proclamation, and down to their call upon Southern slaves to rethat for the old Union, which was kept in ex-istence by Southern menaces and Northern not fulfilled their past promises? What has concessions, we have no regrets, and no wish been omitted in the catalogue of their wants? for its reconstruction.

The true answer is at hand; they claim that in addition to what they have asked and obsentiment to lacker Fourth of July orations tained, all voters must join their political parvithal?

If, by chance, in ancient times, the criminal rul Government in Abolition hands. This is wouldn't do it. The man was not singular.

And nations are like men. From necessity, if not from choice, nations do constantly interfere in each other's governments and politics. We speak of the "family of nations," and they imitate some families in jealous quarrels.—Econing Press, April 25, 1863.

Not a bad text. "Mind your own busiess." It is an excellent rule. But the Abolitionists would'nt. They meddled with slavery—stirred up the question made political issues upon it—got into an irrepressible conflict—nominated a candidate for President, and elected him on the idea of hostility to slavery. Though largely in a minority, through the Electoral College there Colleges they secured their man. North-ern Abolitionists who have no business with slavery beyond the limits of the States in which they are electors, have kept the issue alive, till our country is divided by at war, and overburdened with debt, and a million of gallant men from the free States have been made cripples for life, or brought to the graves of battle-fields. All over the country there is morning. And there is anxiety for the future. What a calamity! What a blow upon the prosperity of our people, and upon the progress of civil and religious liberty!

How different the result had the Aboliionists "minded their own business."-Hartford Times.

Every One to His Tuste. - At a meeting of the Freedmen's relief association, held in Washington. D. C., on the evening of the 10th ult., Rev. Dr. Channing addressed the meeting. In the course of his remarks he said: "In a few years we shall live to-In. gether, black and white, without any dis-tinction of color." * " I believe that the colored Regiments of the South, if properly handled, would take rank with white Regiments, It is unjust to demand that they shall have white officers. If the war continues a year we shall see regiments commanised by colored officers. I would like to see the precedent set a few days ago of appointing a colored surgeon followed, and would like to see a colored judge upon the bench " Senator, Pomeroy, of Kansas was the next peaker. He declared that he had identified himself with the negro. He did not believe in the inferiority of races.

Army Resolutions .- An educated soldier army icrossions.—An educated soldier in the army, from Northumberland county, writing to a friend, sends an explanation of the army resolutions, over which the Republicans have been boasting, as follows:

"The soldiers did not understand the resolutions nor their object and hated to vote against the loyal part of them, by voting no. He ethey despised the Republican part of them, Major P. asked all in favor of the resolutions to shoulder arms. Not more than one-third or one-fourth voted for them. 'Many of these resolutions were loval enough, but how despicable thus to try to force upon us a platform, opposed to the honest belief and convictions of our fathers. Is this the 'No party' platform to soldiers, who have gone to fight for a country common to all parties?"

From every part of the country such testimony is coming home.

A Good Suggestion. - The Abolition "loyal" leagues fully endorse the administration, bribery, stealing and all. They endorse the emancipation and entire negro programme of the President. They say they pie, send an undivided anti-Abolition representation, then the majority against the Republican-Abolition party would be increased to cight.
