Local & General.

Proscription.—For more than a year past the Bucks County Intelligencer, the organ of the Abolitionists of this county, has been proscribing the Democrat, and endeavoring in every way it could to injure the business of the establishment. It has publicly—and its editors privately—called upon the members of their party to withdraw their subscriptions from the Democrat, and all that class of men who were willing to be governed, influenced, and made use of by such unprincipled and contemptible beings, as those editors have shown themselves to be, obeyed the bidding of their masters and withdraw their subscriptions.—Doylestown Democrat.

We take the above from that able Democratic journal, the Doylestown Democrat.—And who, reader, do you suppose the editor of the Democrat is? None other than the brave and gallant W. W. H. Davis, Colonel of the 104th Pennsylvania Volunteers, 'a man who has been in active service in the army for nearly two years, and who in one of his hard fought battles, received a most dangerous and painful wound. This is the man the stay-at-home blacksnakes of Bucks county are persecuting, merely because he is a Democrat. This is the man whose private business is assailed and injured by the "loyal" patriots who stay far from the battle field. Davis is fighting for his country, whilst his cowardly political opponents are trying to ruin his business. How very "loyal" they are!

☞A late Allentown paper says that the recent order of Gen. Hunter, dismissing Captain David Schadt, of the 176th Penna. militia, from the service on account of his refusal to give his approval to a series of army resolutions, has been revoked by the President, and the Captain reinstated. He will leave shortly to rejoin the regiment.

This is the same Captain Schadt, of whom we stated a couple of weeks ago, that he was dismissed for refusing his assent to a set of resolutions purporting to have emanated from a meeting that had never been held! but which were attempted to be foisted upon the regiment by some officials who desired to make political capital by using the army as their tool. Captain S. was one of the few who spurned all connection with such a fraud, and risked his place rather than become a party to it. We honor the man for his manly course, and President Lincoln has done one good act at least, by reinstating him. Officers who busy themselves in getting up political resolutions at the behest of Abolition leagues, ought to find plenty of better employment in these stirring times.

☞The great furore among Abolitionists at present, is the organization of Union Leagues. If any man so appreciates the present peril of the Union as to feel it to be his duty to league with his fellow citizens to defend and preserve it, we know a certain league which has been organized for two years past, and which is the only genuine Union League, viz: The Army. Any other League is a cheat.—a political swindle, with no object under heaven in view but to influence the next elections. The purse of the government, and not preservation of the government, is what most troubles those stay-at-home leaguers. Let those whom they approach say to them, if you wish to prove your love for the Union, go and join the army, which now is about to be reduced many thousands, by the discharge of soldiers whose term of service has expired. One man who takes a musket and uses it valliantly in battle is worth more in this crisis than all the political leagues that can be organized in America.—Lycoming Gazette.

☞While the Republicans are calling all Democrats Copperheads, and recommending, as a war measure, the hanging of all who criticise the acts of the Administration, they should bear in mind that if their present hanging creed had been put into force during the war of 1812 and the Mexican war, when Democratic administrations were in power, there would not now be left alive more than enough Republicans to form a regiment.

☞Senator Richardson recently made a speech in Chicago. He confirms the correctness of public estimation upon the character of the late Congress, thus:

"I thank Heaven that no such body of men as the last Congress can meet again until the trumpet of the Archangel shall summon all the bold, bad men—all the friends of despotism, aiders of tyranny, and enemies of liberty—that have ever polluted the face of the earth with their presence, to answer before an allwise and just God for their terrible guilt."

☞A Boston correspondent of the Springfield Republican dilates with enthusiasm upon the oratorical abilities of the new Abolition stump speaker, Miss Annie Dickinson. After speaking of her "culture," ability, beauty, and good services in the Connecticut and New Hampshire campaigns, he exclaims, in a tone of exultant ardor: "Why not make Miss Dickinson the next President?" The suggestion is eminently appropriate. A party that once supported Fremont for the Chief Magistracy of the Union; which has such a baby as Sumner for its leader; which keeps granny Stanton at the head of the War Department; and has filled the leading offices of the country with imbeciles, would fitly cap the climax of its career by nominating Miss Dickinson as its next candidate for President. They should do so by all means. It would be the right woman in the right place.—Erie Observer.

☞The Constitution provides that Lincoln, Chase, and the whole clan which now compose the Administration, may be impeached, expelled from office and disqualified. When all this is done, does any one suppose that the Government is impeached? Can you imagine such a thing as the Government being arraigned before the Senate—expelled from office—and disqualified from holding office?—Even the supposition is nonsensical. Lincoln, Chase & Co. might all be hung as high as John Brown, and still the Government would endure, and probably suffer very little detriment in consequence. Other and better men would take the places they had left vacant, and the Government would go on, just as if nothing had happened. All this is so clear—so self-evident—that it humiliates us to offer the argument to an intelligent and enlightened people. Yet there are persons who say "the Administration is the Government."—Spirit & Times.

How He Knows It.—Whenever a Black Republican reads an article, or hears a speech, which contains facts he can't deny, and arguments he can't answer, then he knows the article or speech in question is treasonable. This is how he knows it.—Logan (Ohio) Gazette.

RUSSELL'S SCREW POWER COMBINED REAPER AND MOWER,

WITHOUT COG GEARING. THE LIGHTEST DRAFT MOWER IN THE WORLD.—It is the object of Farmers in purchasing a Machine to buy the best and cheapest. Both these objects will be attained by buying Russell's Screw Power. The great amount of power lost in overcoming the friction of all Cog-geared Harvesters is saved in the Screw Power, by which we can offer the lightest draft Mower and Reaper in the world. This fact has been fully demonstrated by the various tests by Dynomometer and otherwise, to which the machine has been subjected during the last two seasons. Among the various points of superiority in this machine are the following:

The use of open malable iron guards, with a steel plate or face, ground to a cutting edge. This with the knives, gives a perfect sheer cut. Double Hinged Finger Bar.—No Mower can do good work, on all kinds of meadows, without a flexible bar. This bar can be raised and securely fastened, while passing from field to field. Patent Adjustable Reel, performing its work equally as well upon rough ground as upon a level field. There is no side Draft, or weight upon the horses' necks. New and peculiar form of Shoe, which will not clog when mowing, with a light play when the Reaper is attached. The subscriber who is Agent for this machine has fully tested it the last season, in wheat, grass, clover and oats, and is satisfied that all who see this machine work will have no other. A specimen machine can be seen by calling on the subscriber, near Gettysburg, on the Harrisburg road.

WILLIAM WIBLE, Agent.

CERTIFICATES.—We certify that we went to the farm of William Wible last harvest, for the purpose of examining the work done by him with Russell's Screw Power Mower and Reaper. We found Mr. Wible cutting some of the very worst kind of lodged grain, and feel satisfied it could not have been done better by any other machine. It is the lightest draft machine we ever saw.

PHILIP WEAVER,
GEORGE BUFFE.

We certify that we saw Mr. Wible mow with the above machine both in standing and lodged grass, with but one span of horses, and we consider it the best mower we ever saw.

Can Consumption

BE CURED? READ AND JUDGE.

NEW YORK, March 24, 1863.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK—Dear Sir: I feel it a duty I owe to you, and all who are suffering under the disease known as consumption and liver complaint, to let them know what great benefits I have received from your Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic in so short a time. By the blessing of God it has cured me thus far.

Dr. Schenck, I will now make my statement to you as follows:—About eighteen months ago I was attacked with a severe cough, and it settled on my lungs; I could not retain anything I ate, and suffered with evening fevers and night sweats. I was very much reduced. The whites of my eyes were very yellow, likewise my skin; my appetite all gone, and unable to digest what I did eat; bowels swollen, irregular and costive. I was very low spirited, and had such violent spells of coughing when I lay down at night and when I arose in the morning, that they would last one or two hours. I then would be nearly exhausted, and was entirely unable to lie on my left side. I cannot describe my wretched suffering as I wish to do. Every organ in my body was diseased or deranged. Such was my situation at this time; and I was confined to my bed from the last of February, 1862, to June, 1862, and was not able to sit up. I had the best of medical attendance the whole of the time. My cough was so very bad it racked me very much. I at this time raised a large quantity of thick, yellow, offensive matter, sometimes with blood, and it was generally accompanied by nausea and a furred and thick coated tongue. At the time of coughing so badly I would have sharp, shooting pains in my left side and heart, night sweats, and soreness all through my whole chest; had much inward fever, pain in my back and under my shoulder blades, and in the small of my back, and at times so severe that it would throw me into spasms. Now my physicians gave me up to die. Others I had and the best of them, but they could do nothing for me, and at the time I was nothing but skin and bones. I then was in the western part of Missouri. In June last we left there for the east, and in August last we came to New York, as I was so reduced that I could only walk a little with my husband's help. After I had been here a short time the salt water breeze made me feel much better for a short time, and then I had again to call a physician for aid. We had four of the best physicians in New York on the diseases of the lungs, and doctors of all kinds, but of no avail. They said I was past cure, and that my lungs were too far gone for any one to cure me. But at this time I was on my feet about the house, not able to do much of anything.—In November last I grew worse, and the consumption diarrhœa set in and lasted about eight weeks. We had tried all and everything that I could grasp at like a drowning person, for my diseases—consumption and liver complaint—but of no avail.

In January, 1863, I was brought down again to my bed, and was not expected to live the night out. My husband stood at my side, with other friends, and they all gave me up to die. At this time every one who saw me did not think I ever would leave my bed a living woman. The first night I was attacked with spasms, but was relieved most of the time.—A friend, Mrs. Harris, came in to see me the last of the week, and brought the "Sunday Mercury." In it was an account of a great cure performed by Dr. Schenck. She read it to me, and it was so much like my disease that I asked my husband to go and see him for me. At this time I had given up all hopes of ever getting well again, and made my peace with God, to be ready whenever he called me.

On the 27th of January, 1863, my husband called on Dr. Schenck, 32 Bond Street, New York, and stated to him, my case, with a request for him to call and see me, which he did and examined me with the Respirator. When he was about to go I asked him if he could cure me? He reply was, "I cannot tell; both lungs are diseased, and the bronchial tubes are affected on both sides." And yet he seemed to think there were lungs enough left to effect a cure if the disease could be stopped. He said, in order to do this, he would have to give me Mandrake Pills, in small doses at first, to carry off the morbid matter, and then with astringents, he hoped to check it, which he did, but the constant cough, night sweats, and diarrhœa had prostrated me, so that he was afraid my vital powers were too much prostrated ever to rally, and yet he seemed to think if I could have to get enough Pulmonic Syrup through my system to cause expectoration, there was lungs enough left for me to recover. He wished me to try the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic at once, saying it would do me no harm, if it done me no good. That night I commenced taking a tablespoonful three times a day of each.

The first week it seemed to give me strength, so that on the Sunday after, I sat up in bed and ate hearty for a sick woman; but the next week I lost all hope, and wished my husband not to give me any more medicine. But the doctor had warned him of this, that when the medicine was clearing out the system it made them sometimes feel restless, but to persevere; and he insisted on my taking it, and now I feel the benefit of it; for after eight days I began to gain my strength, and, with the exception of a cold, that put me back some, I have been gaining strength of body; my cough is going away, and all my pains are gone; no soreness of the body, my bowels are regular, and my breath is sweet, and I thank God that I am now going about, and sew and read as well as ever I could. I have taken sixteen bottles of the medicine, eight of each; I now have a good appetite, and rest well at night; my cough does not trouble me in getting up or lying down. I would here say to those afflicted with consumption or liver complaint, that Dr. Schenck is no humbug—you can rely on what he says. Delay not; it is dangerous to trifle with these diseases. If you would be cured, go at once, and any one wishing to know the fact as here stated, can call at my residence, 117 West Hudson street New York city.
