SEVEN THOUSAND CASES.

In his long service of over twenty-five years, he has established the reputation of an able, faithful, and upright Judge, and has done more for the other man to mould the judicial policy of the State, and to sustain the legitimate business and trade of the people of the State.

INTERFERENCE.

There are two remarkable facts, brought to light by the publication of Gen. McClellan's Report. The first, that the Western Virginia campaign, in which McClellan achieved such perfect success, was undertaken, carried forward, and finished by him without any orders of any kind from Washington.

DR. BROWNSON ON LINCOLN.

The New York Post quotes the following from Brownson's Review: "The philosopher of history, or of the higher elements of human nature, imagines that men act only from low and interested motives, and does not suspect, because he cannot see, that there is a higher element, the element, Carlyle would call it, hero-worship, that makes men admire and cling to, and uphold a bold, daring policy, energetically proclaimed, firmly adhered to, and consistently acted on, though in the face of the entire world."

WHAT HAVE WE GAINED?

What have we gained?—What has the Nation gained by placing the friends of Abolition in power? A divided Union, a debt that weighs down the Nation, and a million of able men and girls for more, a policy that keeps every town at work in the most earnest way, to find its "last man" and its "last dollar," and the towns are fast approaching that point.

Moving Newspapers.

The Carbon Democrat, a weekly paper, printed in Easton thinks it is an "infamous doctrine" to advocate the tearing out of Abolition printing offices, in retaliation for injury done to Democratic offices.

Attempt at Rape.

A negro by the name of Williams was committed to jail in this place yesterday morning for an attempt to commit rape on the body of a little white girl, living with Mrs. Bayard. This is but a practical step towards carrying out the doctrine of "miscellaneous" as taught by the Loyal Leagues.

NATIONAL BANKRUPTCY.

The New York Tribune says, "The nation is drifting steadily toward bankruptcy. We are now in the greatest crisis of our national history; and we choose death, to do the work which might well employ angels. Something must be done to stop the tendency to ruin, or the country is lost beyond redemption."

THE GREAT ABOLITION ORATOR, WENDELL PHILLIPS.

There is a man by the name of Wiley, a member of Congress from Western Virginia, a Senator, we believe, who recently made a speech in favor of immediate and unconditional abolition.

ANOTHER OUTRAGE.

We learn from a gentleman from Monroe county that a party of drunken soldiers went to the office of the Monroe Democrat at Stroudsburg some time during last Saturday afternoon or evening and destroyed the greater portion of the material on which it is printed.

GRANT AND STANTON.

From a contemporary we clip the following version of supposed differences between these magnates: "The correspondence between Grant and Stanton is said to be: That Stanton has complained to Gen. Grant that in ordering the transfer to the front of various detachments of veteran troops garrisoning certain forts, and the substitution in those forts of new recruits by men from the army corps, Gen. Grant has assumed authority which belonged only to the Secretary of War.

Female Recruits.

A Washington correspondent says the official records of the military authorities in that city show that upwards of one hundred and fifty female recruits have been discovered, and made to resume the garments of their sex.

How a great victory turns out.

As an instance of how a great victory turns out, we remember what a blow was our capture of Brownsville, Texas, last October. It now seems that the Rio Grande is to be abandoned for the double reason that the French are about the opposite side of the river, and that the continuing of our troops there did not in the least put a stop to the Confederate and Mexican trade.

Waco! How is this?

The New York Times, in an article on amalgamation, says: "We shrink from putting on paper the stories which reach us from the hands of young white ladies of refinement of colored men—pure blacks having the precedence in all cases where there is room for choice."

WHO HAVE DECLARED AND FAVOR.

"We hold that the secessionist could have had a peaceful dissolution of the Union had they really desired it, and had the people of their States, after a free and fair discussion, decided to separate from the Union. So we told them at the time; so some of the leading Republican orators told them—all in good faith."

THE WORLD ABOUT US.

The world "free" has gone out of fashion, and "loyalty" has taken its place. Men who were once called "loyalists" are now called "loyalists" and "loyalists" are now called "loyalists."

LET US SEE WHAT LOYALTY MEANS.

Let us see what loyalty means in the vocabulary of these people—the loyal men, and what he does. The loyal man is in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war—by other people—believes in suppressing the rebellion utterly—without blood on his own.

A WORD ABOUT "LOYALTY."

The word "Loyalty," as interpreted and applied by ignorant and impudently reactionists, has grown insufferably sickening to the senses of all decent men. This word has only come into fashion since the despicable tale of Abolition commenced, and was never heard of before, because among a free people the slavish sentiment it embodies had no existence, sought no expression.

By all the standard lexicographers "Loyalty" is defined to be "Fidelity to a Prince or Sovereign; the quality of kind personal devotion to sovereigns, and their courts, to their babies, lackeys, millinery, and peticotees, which breaks out through the columns of the 'Court Journal' of Europe, and shows the unvarnished lands the devotion of the people instead of being concentrated on a great fundamental law, which secures their rights and limits the power of their public servants, is frittered and unbecomingly and spangled bodies, 'rule for their profit.' It is downright funny to read the toadyish stuff which newspapers print in such countries about the movements of His or Her Majesty.—Every day or drink that King James recorded for the edification of his faithful subjects, and the squalls and smiles of the royal infants are not suffered to go without a chronicle. Even in England, which is blessed with a free press, and a free constitution, the servility of the newspapers when royal personage are spoken of, is curious and amusing. The English have an abominable love for pageantry—for the fanciful and splendid surroundings of royalty. They pay dearly for it, the effects of the most loyal people being now divided between the Queen and the nine interesting children, which in rapid sequence and with commendable punctuality she presented to the nation during her marriage. They absolutely jingled the bells, and hung out the flags and made as great fools of themselves over that ninth baby as though it had been the last and only hope of preserving the royal succession. They would laugh at them for this amiable weakness—this jig, shouting, lubberly glee at the successful adjustment of a new leech to the public treasury. But the laugh is on the side of the Abolitionists. The Abolitionists of Abolition d'innation have humbled in the dust this people who used to make merry over the servility of their neighbors.
