

H. J. STABLE, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

GETTYSBURG, PA.

MONDAY MORNING, JULY 11, 1864.

CALLS FOR VOLUNTEERS.

In response to a call from the President, Gov. Curtin on Tuesday issued a proclamation for twelve thousand militia volunteers...

The Cheapest in the Market.—It was said, the other day, at some public meeting at the North, that "newspapers were now the cheapest article sold."

The Harrisburg Patriot & Union has passed into the hands of a joint stock company possessing the means and ability to make it one of the first Democratic papers of the country.

A Madam.—The New York dailies, last week, stated that there were two bodies claiming to be the Democratic National Committee...

It is evident that the Democratic National Convention, which will assemble at Chicago on the 29th of August, will have enough good names presented to insure the selection of a candidate upon whom the entire Democracy of the country can rally.

Adjourning of Congress.—Mrs. Tuxton's Congress adjourned sine die on Monday last, but previous to it passed a bill imposing an additional income tax of five per cent.

Resignations.—Judge Leach, of Ohio, Solicitor of the 6th Auditor's Bureau, and 3d Auditor Atkinson, of Ohio, Mr. Chase's appointees, have resigned.

The President has appointed the first Thursday in August as a day of humiliation and prayer.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.—TRUTH FROM A REPUBLICAN SOURCE.

We invite the attention of all thinking men in the Republican party, to the article signed below. It is from the Newburyport Herald, an able, independent, conservative Republican paper.

"Now we have to say of the Democratic party, that, separated from all connection and aid, it is the party of the country, and its public speaking, essential truth. All other organizations have been temporary, based upon false principles, and often aiming to sustain wrong measures."

The Boston Post says the Herald will find the organization of the Democratic party as durable as its principles, and that the mutations it may experience will only add to its power, and afford it the discipline necessary to increased wisdom and ability to control the national policy.

President Lincoln has issued a proclamation putting the State of Kentucky under martial law. The World says it is:

The proclamation of martial law in Kentucky is an insult to the loyal and patriotic Union men of that State. Almost alone she drove out the Morgan raiders, and she has lent in proportion to her population, and in addition to her organized militia, as many men to the war as any other State.

Another great meeting was held in St. Louis on Monday, as noted in the World. The Convention meeting exceeds everything of the kind held here for many years.

The President has appointed the first Thursday in August as a day of humiliation and prayer.

The War News.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT THE REBELS INVADE MARYLAND. PENNSYLVANIA THREATENED.

MUCH EXCITEMENT.

[From the Age of Wednesday.] The Confederate expedition across the Potomac is led by General Early, who succeeds Ewell in command of Stonewall Jackson's celebrated division.

The column of the enemy which marched from Winchester to Harper's Ferry, found the Federal advance at Lostown. A skirmish took place and the Federal troops retired to Harper's Ferry and Washington.

[From the Age of Thursday.] There is some interesting news from Arkansas. As soon as General Steele heard of the capture of the gunboat Queen City, he ordered the Confederates to retreat.

[From the Age of Friday.] The Confederates advanced across the Potomac on Friday last, General Hunter's advance guard arrived at Charleson, in Western Virginia, seventy miles south of Parkersburg.

[From the Age of Saturday.] The Confederates advanced across the Potomac on Saturday last, General Hunter's advance guard arrived at Charleson, in Western Virginia, seventy miles south of Parkersburg.

ambulance train was abandoned with its load of wounded. All the troops who could be spared were ordered to march to the rear. The sixteen cannon were spiked.

THE ALABAMA RUNNERS. The Confederate steamer Alabama has been attacked and sunk by the Federal iron-clad Kearsarge. Captain Semmes accepted a challenge to fight from Captain Winslow of the Kearsarge.

A small expedition has sailed up the Mississippi from New Orleans, under General Gustaf. It has landed at Fort Anderson, on the Mississippi river, near Port Hudson.

[From the Age of Thursday.] There is some interesting news from Arkansas. As soon as General Steele heard of the capture of the gunboat Queen City, he ordered the Confederates to retreat.

[From the Age of Friday.] The Confederates advanced across the Potomac on Friday last, General Hunter's advance guard arrived at Charleson, in Western Virginia, seventy miles south of Parkersburg.

THE REBEL INVASION.

A FIGHT NEAR FREDERICK, MD.

[From the Age of Friday.] At ten o'clock yesterday a fight was in progress between Frederick and South Mountain between a large force of the rebels and the troops of Major General Sigel.

[From the Age of Saturday.] The Confederates advanced across the Potomac on Saturday last, General Hunter's advance guard arrived at Charleson, in Western Virginia, seventy miles south of Parkersburg.

[From the Age of Sunday.] The Confederates advanced across the Potomac on Sunday last, General Hunter's advance guard arrived at Charleson, in Western Virginia, seventy miles south of Parkersburg.

John & Conroy.

THE REBEL INVASION.—GREAT EXCITEMENT.—LARGE NUMBER OF HORSES PASSING THROUGH GETTYSBURG.

On Sunday evening, yesterday week, rumors reached us of the advance of the Rebels on the Shenandoah Valley and their appearance on the Upper Potomac.

On Wednesday evening a despatch was received announcing that our troops were engaged with the enemy at Harperstown. Towards evening another despatch came, to the effect that the Rebels were at Green Castle and that the alarm bells were being rung in Chambersburg.

On Thursday night scouts came bringing the information that Gen. Bradley T. Johnson, with 15,000 men, had visited Harperstown, after demanding and receiving $20,000 in money and 1,500 suits of clothing, had left in the direction of Frederick.

On Friday night it was reported that the Rebels occupied Frederick, and that a squad of them appeared seven miles this side. About 10 o'clock a despatch was received from Chambersburg stating that the Rebels were at Harperstown.

On Saturday morning it was, again, by an announcement that the Rebels were falling back from Frederick. A "big scare" was produced on Saturday evening by a report that a party of Rebels had visited "Monterey," on the top of the South Mountain, and carried off 150 horses.

The reports through the country that the Rebels had possession of Gettysburg yesterday, and that they were retreating towards Middletown. He immediately started his cavalry and mounted infantry, with Alexander's Battery, in pursuit of them, driving them nearly to South Mountain.

The latest information received from Chambersburg is that the Rebels were retreating before the army of Major General Sigel, and that they were retreating towards Middletown.

Information was received from Harrisburg yesterday afternoon that General Bullen, with about 1,500 cavalry, had returned to the city of Harrisburg, and that he had captured property in that place.

The latest information received from Harrisburg yesterday afternoon that General Bullen, with about 1,500 cavalry, had returned to the city of Harrisburg, and that he had captured property in that place.

Information was received from Harrisburg yesterday afternoon that General Bullen, with about 1,500 cavalry, had returned to the city of Harrisburg, and that he had captured property in that place.

Information was received from Harrisburg yesterday afternoon that General Bullen, with about 1,500 cavalry, had returned to the city of Harrisburg, and that he had captured property in that place.

Information was received from Harrisburg yesterday afternoon that General Bullen, with about 1,500 cavalry, had returned to the city of Harrisburg, and that he had captured property in that place.

Information was received from Harrisburg yesterday afternoon that General Bullen, with about 1,500 cavalry, had returned to the city of Harrisburg, and that he had captured property in that place.

FROM THE 8TH REG. P. V.

SOUTH OF POTOMAC, June 24, 1864.

Dear Compiler:—Our total list of casualties for the two days ending June 23d is precisely one hundred. Our heaviest loss is in our three right companies, who sustained the heaviest part of the engagement on the 23d.

Sergeant John Shedd, Co. F, arm. Corporal Wm. D. Holtzworth, Co. F, left arm. Corporal Samuel S. George, Co. F, hand. Henry Koon, Co. F, missing. William T. Ziegler, Co. F, missing. John Y. Martz, Co. J, body, slight.

The following were among the wounded: Charles Hyde, thumb amputated; Elijah Francis, arm; Alexander Kipp, hip; Henry Neiman, leg and hand; Samuel Bupp, arm; Peter Weaver, Co. D, hand; Henry Dellinger, Co. E, side; Timothy Moore, Co. H, foot.

SAD DEATH.—A melancholy accident occurred on the evening of the 20th ult., resulting in the almost immediate death of George Gardner, of Lattimore township, this county. He was about returning a corn sheller belonging to a neighbor, and when quite near his residence, one or more trees came down upon the horse, and in endeavoring to make room, the horse made a sudden jump, throwing the sheller and Mr. Gardner violently to the ground, the machine striking him on the breast, and producing injuries on other parts of his body.

The Philadelphia papers announce the death of Rev. Benjamin Keller, General Agent of the Lutheran Publication Society. He died in Philadelphia on the 2d of July, in the 71st year of his age. Mr. Keller formerly resided in this place, and was for many years pastor of St. John's Lutheran congregation. He was a very useful man in the church, and his death will be deeply mourned.

A letter from a friend in Missouri gives us the information that an old citizen of our county, Mr. Daniel Arendt, was drowned on the 23d of April last, in crossing a creek, with the U. S. M. B. There is a mystery about it, as no informant, as the report was probably all day, and he was well acquainted with the fact. Nothing had transpired, however, to explain the matter.—Sun, 25.

The first National B. M. of Gettysburg, having determined to increase its Capital Stock to $100,000, there is yet an opportunity afforded to those who wish to make a good and safe investment to subscribe and take one share of the stock. The books are now open for subscription at the Bank. Mar. 25

Mrs. Harlow, wife of Wm. Harlow, residing near Gravelly's church, York county, was so seriously affected by the heat while at work in the field that she died from the effects of it on Tuesday morning a week.

The Compiler will be furnished from this time until after the Presidential Election at SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS, cash in advance.

The Congress which has just adjourned was probably the weakest and most servile of any that ever sat in Washington. It has been a mere registering bureau for the executive heads of departments. Yet it should provide credit for one act—that which provides that the rebel States shall not be represented in the electoral college.

This block Mr. Lincoln's little gun of packing the electoral college with bogus electors from the Confederate States. So far so good.—World.

The abolition journals are painfully exercised in regard to the postponement of the Democratic National Convention. They devote columns to prove that the postponement must result disastrously to the Democratic party, and, therefore, they are very indignant.

The Abolition candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Indiana recently made a speech in which he said "the right of asylum to the right of foreign consular protection." This has so exasperated the Germans of Indiana that they all repudiate the whole Republican ticket.

FROM THE 8TH REG. P. V.

SOUTH OF POTOMAC, June 24, 1864.

Dear Compiler:—Our total list of casualties for the two days ending June 23d is precisely one hundred. Our heaviest loss is in our three right companies, who sustained the heaviest part of the engagement on the 23d.

Sergeant John Shedd, Co. F, arm. Corporal Wm. D. Holtzworth, Co. F, left arm. Corporal Samuel S. George, Co. F, hand. Henry Koon, Co. F, missing. William T. Ziegler, Co. F, missing. John Y. Martz, Co. J, body, slight.

The following were among the wounded: Charles Hyde, thumb amputated; Elijah Francis, arm; Alexander Kipp, hip; Henry Neiman, leg and hand; Samuel Bupp, arm; Peter Weaver, Co. D, hand; Henry Dellinger, Co. E, side; Timothy Moore, Co. H, foot.

SAD DEATH.—A melancholy accident occurred on the evening of the 20th ult., resulting in the almost immediate death of George Gardner, of Lattimore township, this county. He was about returning a corn sheller belonging to a neighbor, and when quite near his residence, one or more trees came down upon the horse, and in endeavoring to make room, the horse made a sudden jump, throwing the sheller and Mr. Gardner violently to the ground, the machine striking him on the breast, and producing injuries on other parts of his body.

The Philadelphia papers announce the death of Rev. Benjamin Keller, General Agent of the Lutheran Publication Society. He died in Philadelphia on the 2d of July, in the 71st year of his age. Mr. Keller formerly resided in this place, and was for many years pastor of St. John's Lutheran congregation. He was a very useful man in the church, and his death will be deeply mourned.

A letter from a friend in Missouri gives us the information that an old citizen of our county, Mr. Daniel Arendt, was drowned on the 23d of April last, in crossing a creek, with the U. S. M. B. There is a mystery about it, as no informant, as the report was probably all day, and he was well acquainted with the fact. Nothing had transpired, however, to explain the matter.—Sun, 25.

The first National B. M. of Gettysburg, having determined to increase its Capital Stock to $100,000, there is yet an opportunity afforded to those who wish to make a good and safe investment to subscribe and take one share of the stock. The books are now open for subscription at the Bank. Mar. 25

Mrs. Harlow, wife of Wm. Harlow, residing near Gravelly's church, York county, was so seriously affected by the heat while at work in the field that she died from the effects of it on Tuesday morning a week.

The Compiler will be furnished from this time until after the Presidential Election at SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS, cash in advance.

The Congress which has just adjourned was probably the weakest and most servile of any that ever sat in Washington. It has been a mere registering bureau for the executive heads of departments. Yet it should provide credit for one act—that which provides that the rebel States shall not be represented in the electoral college.

This block Mr. Lincoln's little gun of packing the electoral college with bogus electors from the Confederate States. So far so good.—World.

The abolition journals are painfully exercised in regard to the postponement of the Democratic National Convention. They devote columns to prove that the postponement must result disastrously to the Democratic party, and, therefore, they are very indignant.

The Abolition candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Indiana recently made a speech in which he said "the right of asylum to the right of foreign consular protection." This has so exasperated the Germans of Indiana that they all repudiate the whole Republican ticket.