THE COMMUTATION CLAUSE.

[From the Commercial Advertiser, (Repub.)] A few days ago, by a vote of 100 to 50, the House of Representatives voted to retain the commutation clause of the conscription bill. Yesterday, by a vote of 79 to 73, they voted to strike it out. During these past few days the gentle pressure of the Administration, and the resolute determination of the War Department, have been exercised and produced their effect. The law making branch of the Government has yielded to the Executive, and the White House has dictated what statutes the Capitol shall pass.

Two years ago, when Mr. Lincoln hinted his wishes to Congress in regard to a change in the conscription act, the Executive difference and with boldness, and the people now, without blustering, pass a measure repugnant to their better judgments, and opposed to the opinions of the people, and take another departure from the principles that underlie our legislation. A very large majority of the people and of the Republican party favor the commutation clause, but the House is too feeble either to stand up to its own convictions, or to give force to the popular will. So Congress yields first to one Captain officer and then to another, and sneaks behind the Departments to avoid responsibility, whether it be a gold bill, a Mexican resolution, or a conscription act that is in question.

Let the laboring masses remember that the $300 clause was repealed by a Republican Congress at the bidding of a Republican President. They can administer a proper rebuke to the polls.

A CHANGE.

The man who does not see that a great reaction is going on in the minds of the people against the present Administration is either blinded by partisanship or is an indifferent observer of what is going on about him. The people are sick and tired of the joke of Abraham Lincoln, and demand statehood.

The follies and extravagances of his Administration are such as to disgust many honest men of his own party, who will either vote for Fremont, or join the old Democratic party, who want a man at the head of the Nation who will administer the laws impartially, will protect the rights of citizens, enforce the Monroe doctrine, and seek a peaceful peace upon an honorable basis. That there will be a change, this fall, in the National Administration seems now to be a fixed fact. It is right, for it is unsafe to trust such a man as Lincoln, with hundreds of millions of patronage, with the administration of the Government for four years longer. If he is re-elected no man born can foretell the fate of our distracted country.—Cause Serial.

PRINTER ON APOSTACY.

George D. Prentiss, of the Louisville Journal, having been charged with apostacy by the Chicago Journal, thus retorts:

Apostacy from what? What measure of policy that we have supported since the coming in of this Administration do we now oppose? Have we at any time supported such a policy as is enunciated in the emancipation proclamation? Have we at any time advocated the negro's business? Have we at any time countenanced a swindling confirmation of Southern property? Have we at any time shown the highest disposition to approve arbitrary arrests and imprisonments in defiance of the Constitution?

Apostacy from what, we repeat. Is it apostacy to renounce and steadfastly while the President is undergoing all manner of changes? We sustained the President when he opposed the measures that he now supports; was it apostacy in us to apostatize when we apostatized?

Copperheads.—The Eric Observer, one of the ablest Democratic papers in the State, discourses in this wise:

"Copperheads" are getting to be an extraordinarily plenty article of late. The Fremont men will all go support Union "Copperheads," the Loyal Unionists, by voting the Fremont "Copperheads," and in a grand chorus unite in hurling down the Democrats as "Copperheads."

It would appear from this, that as the entire people of the North support one or the other of these parties, they must all be "Copperheads," and that they are divided into three classes—the Lincoln "Copperheads," which includes the administration, its office-holders and those whom they have deluded into a belief that Old Abe is an "honest" man, and fit to be President a second term; the Fremont "Copperheads," or those honest Republicans who know Lincoln's unfitness and manfully oppose him; and the Democratic "Copperheads," who favor the Constitution and desire restoration of the old Union, and that they will be unable to hold the balance of both parties. Who would have thought a few months ago, that by the close of June, 1864, the entire people of the North would be "Copperheads"?

Pretty rough on one family. We regret to learn that Lieut. Robert P. McElhinny, of the regular army, was seriously wounded in the late battle on the Peninsula, and is now in Washington. He was severely wounded at Antietam in the foot, Capt. D. B. McKibbin, his brother, (formerly Colonel of the 158th) is now a prisoner in Richmond; Lieut. Chambers M'Kibbin, another brother, was wounded severely under McClellan on the Peninsula, and Chambers M'Kibbin, Jr., his nephew, was wounded under Sherman at Bragg's Roost, in Georgia, recently. The first three are sons, and the last named is a grandson of Hon. Chambers M'Kibbin, the well known proprietor of the Merchants' Hotel, Philadelphia, who, as well as all his brave offspring, are what the extreme loyal abolitionists delight in designating as copperheads.

Some of the Western Republican papers are terribly put out because Lincoln has determined to run against Fremont. They think he is violating the "but one party" principle by this fictitious course. They also think that one candidate is as much as the Republican party can well bear, and as Fremont was the first, and fairly nominated, they very truly look upon the nomination and acceptance of Abe as the prelude to dissensions and divisions. They term the Convention at Baltimore "disorderly's convention!" and that Old Abe is a regular "splitter." He has "split tails," "split the Union," and now is striving to "split the party."—*Advt.
