

MONDAY MORNING, DEC. 12, 1864.

CONGRESS.

The second (short) session of the 38th Congress commenced at Washington on Monday. A quorum was present in both Houses, and after some preliminary proceedings a joint committee was appointed to wait upon the President to inform him of the readiness of Congress to receive any communication he might have to make.

In the Senate a bill was introduced authorizing the purchase or construction of revenue cutters for the lakes. In the House a resolution was adopted instructing the committee on ways and means to report a bill amending the constitution so as to repeal the clause which declares that no tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any State.

The annual message of the President was received in both Houses on Tuesday at one o'clock P. M. together with the reports of the Secretaries of the Treasury, Navy and Interior. The usual number of copies of the President's message were ordered to be printed.

In the Senate no business of interest was transacted, and after a brief executive session it adjourned. In the House a bill was introduced and referred to prevent transactions in gold or silver coin or bullion for more than the expressed value, or the sale of lawful money of the United States for less than the specified value.

In the House a bill was introduced and referred to prevent transactions in gold or silver coin or bullion for more than the expressed value, or the sale of lawful money of the United States for less than the specified value. Another bill was introduced and also referred, to amend the internal revenue law in relation to the tax on cigars.

In the Senate, on Thursday, Mr. Davis gave notice of a resolution for "the restoration of peace and the Union." In the House, the committee on military affairs was instructed to inquire into the expediency of amending the naturalization laws that persons who have left the country (deserted the draft, or have deserted after being drafted, shall be required to pass through the same term of probation, &c., as prescribed for aliens.

Mr. Fish, President Lincoln's Annual Message today. If those who voted for his reelection did so for the purpose of protecting the war indefinitely, they will preserve by their message that they possess to carry out their views. The President says: "Such a document affords no scope for particular comment. It is beneath it. It is idle to dispute what nobly will remember, and as for commendation, even the Republican organ will be at a loss where to bestow it. Mr. Lincoln holds out an offer of peace, he has nothing more original to say on this interesting subject than to reiterate and expand his Niagara manifesto.

Hon. Edward Bates, Attorney General of the United States, under President Lincoln, has resigned his position, to take effect from January 1st, 1865. His advanced age, and physical inability to discharge the arduous duties of the office, are given as the reasons for the resignation. Hon. James Speed, of Kentucky, has been appointed by the President to fill the vacancy.

Ex-Secretary Cass has been appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, vice Chief Justice Taney, deceased. Major General John A. McClernand, Brig. Gen. E. A. Paine, and Brig. Gen. Neal Dow, have resigned their commissions in the army.

Secretary Stanton, it is reported, will recommend to Congress an amendment to the enrolling act, so that drafted men cannot have such facilities for escape. We direct attention to the Prospectus of the New York World for 1865, in our advertising columns. In everything that goes to make up a first class journal, the World is not excelled in this country.

Printing paper is still going up, and as a consequence publishers are raising their prices. The Chambersburg papers, after the first of January, will be published at $2 50 per annum in advance. Death of a Catholic Clergyman.—The Rev. Andrew Bohn, for many years pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, in Williamsburg, N. Y., died on Monday week, aged forty-two years. He was a graduate of Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md., an institution which numbers on the Alumni roll many of the first Catholic ecclesiastics in this country, among whom are the late Archbishop Hughes and the Most Reverend John McCleary, the present Archbishop of New York.

Escaped.—On Sunday night last six prisoners escaped from the Hagerstown Jail. Among the number was Parker Cramer, recently convicted of manslaughter, for the killing of a man named Wright. Killed.—Deputy Provost Marshal James Irons of Harrisburg, was killed at Scranton on Friday week, while attempting to arrest some deserters. His remains were taken home to Harrisburg.

One of Edward Everett's sons wishes to be secretary of the legation at London, or anything else in the diplomatic line. A report of the distinguished orator is at the head of the ordinance bureau of the Navy Department, and a nephew is consul-general of Egypt.

The oldest United States Senator is Jacob Collamer, of Vermont, who was born in 1792, and the youngest is Benjamin Harney, of Oregon, who was born in 1827.

A LARGE "CORPORAL'S GUARD."

The office-holders have a great deal to say about the Democratic party being "wiped out" in the late elections, and have boasted that there was but a "corporal's guard" of the supporters of McClellan. But the official returns, when collected, will admonish these croakers to beware of future elections. We think that McClellan had received a larger vote, by nearly half a million, than had any other defeated candidate; that he had more votes than any successful candidate in former elections, with one exception; and that the Democratic vote was larger last month than that cast by them on any former occasion, in the same States, by many thousands.

How did they for enemies of the party to croak about the Democratic party being "dead and buried"—as if over a million and a half of Freemen could be annihilated. We never despair of the Republic; the Democratic party will live while there is left a vestige of Constitutional liberty, and will struggle, under any and all circumstances, for the restoration of the authority of the Constitution over the Union of the States. Such was our battle-cry for that we shall still labor, let the hopeful day be deferred even more than "four years more."

HOW IT WAS DONE.

The Juniors True Democrat says we publish this week a letter from Company B, 202d Pa. Vol. It will be seen by it that there were 65 votes cast for President, and that 39 did really vote for McClellan, 35 of whom come out over their own signatures, and state that they are willing to be qualified that they voted the McClellan and Pendleton Electoral ticket. This would give Lincoln 26 votes in the company, and make a majority of 13 for McClellan. Now, by the vote returned from this company to the Prothonotary's office, it appears that only 58 votes were polled, Lincoln received 34 and McClellan 24—making a majority of 10 for Lincoln. How is this? We declare we need some light on the matter. That there was cheating in the army vote, we believed, but we never imagined for a moment that it would be carried on to such an extent as this. The election is a perfect farce.

Congress met last Monday. At no period in the history of the country, says the Age, was the duty of firmness more imperative upon the representatives of the Democratic party than at present. The Administration forces are well drilled, flushed with victory, and eager for new conquests. They have only barely succeeded in defeating the Democracy; for notwithstanding the large majority of electoral votes that will be cast for Mr. Lincoln, it is now apparent that, notwithstanding all the Administration frauds, less than fifty thousand ballots might have been so distributed as to have given a majority of the electoral college to General McClellan. The Democratic party in Congress will represent this minority—an army of more than a million and a half of freemen!

Through submission to the will of the majority, in the choice of a ruler, was promptly yielded, the Democracy have rights and principles which they will never abandon, but will continue to cherish as long as they have a country. They look to their representatives to oppose with all their ability every scheme of wrong oppression, and invasion of the Constitution that may be presented by rampant Abolitionists. They expect every Democratic Senator and Representative to stand firm and unyielding in the ranks; and show that devotion to the cause of constitutional freedom which has marked the course of the Democratic party in days gone by. They ask nothing more, and they will be satisfied with nothing less.

We have heretofore stated that Gen. A. H. Coffroth holds the certificate of election to the next Congress from the Return Judges of this district. If however the Governor sets on the opinion of his Attorney General in the matter of the Judge, and assumes to count the illegal military vote of Bedford county, he will declare the election of Gen. Koons, whose majority in the district, including that illegal vote, is seventy-four votes. These fellows have now all things in their own hands and will do as they please in the matter. We have arrived at such a pass in our elections, that to our Shoddy friends, an illegal vote is as good as a legal one, if it will serve their purposes. Holding elections in these latter days, is simply the exhibition of so many farces; all laws to preserve the purity of the ballot-box and prevent the polling and counting of illegal votes being disregarded and set at naught.—Cham. Spirit.

The Bedford Enquirer takes exception to a Thanksgiving sermon preached by Rev. Mr. Esick, in the Presbyterian church, of that place, by saying: "The proclamation was not read, as is usual elsewhere on such occasions, and its letter and spirit entirely disregarded, and a sermon was preached suited to a nation of the vilest sinners on a day of humiliation and prayer."

Would the Enquirer pretend to say that this is a nation of sinners, to whom humility and penitence are supererogation?—Patriot & Union. Rev. Mr. Esick, pastor of the Fr. Luth. Church, of this place, delivered the thanksgiving sermon, in the Presbyterian church. His discourse is spoken of as having been a very able one.—Bedford Gazette.

The State Guard.—The furloughs of the five thousand State Guards to be furloughed from service in the United States armies, if drafted, will not expire until their service in the States Guard shall have expired. The remainder of the time for which they may be drafted, after deducting the time of furlough, will be in the National service. Those serving one year and are then drafted by the United States will be credited for their services in the State, and the year deducted. On subsequent calls the State will thus receive credit for every volunteer drafted from the State Guard.

Gov. Parker, of New Jersey, says: "After much reflection, I hope uninfluenced by passion or prejudice, I have come to the conclusion that the policy of the present Federal Administration can never restore the Union."

The famous barn of the Shakers in Hancock, Massachusetts, was burned on Thursday morning. It was one of the most complete agricultural structures in the country.

SNOW.—Winter is upon us in earnest. Snow fell here to the depth of nearly a foot on Friday night, shooting good sleighing.

ANOTHER SHOOTING AFFAIR.—On Monday last, Mr. David McMillan, who has charge of the colored school in this place, undertook to correct one of his pupils, named Solomon Devan, a boy of about 17 or 18 years of age. Mr. McMillan approached young Devan with a rod, when the latter drew from his pocket a revolver, and fired two shots at the teacher, neither of which we are happy to state, took effect. Devan has been committed to Jail, to await such punishment as his conduct deserves.

Abolitionism is costing more than it will come to. EXCHANGED.—We are pleased to learn that Edward Wible, son of Mr. Joseph Wible of this place, who has been a prisoner in the hands of the rebels for a long time, has been exchanged and reached Annapolis, Md., a few days ago. He was a member of Capt. Hunter's company, Cole's cavalry, and was confined at Millen, Ga., at the time of his release.

William Sweeney, son of Mr. David Sweeney of this place, has also been exchanged, and is now at Annapolis. He is a member of company B, 128th Pa. regiment, and was captured in the battle of the Wilderness. At the time of his release he was at Florence, South Carolina. He writes that more of our boys will soon follow.

George Schriver, who was taken prisoner at the same time with Mr. Wible, died whilst in the hands of the rebels. GREAT ATTRACTION.—Ellinger & Foot's Great Musical Exhibition is announced for Shedd & Buehler's Hall, Gettysburg, on Wednesday and Thursday next—in the evening of the first day and the afternoon and evening of the second day. It is very highly spoken of, and is a very rare drawing crowd horse. Everybody goes. An Indiana exchange says of it:

Everything heretofore exhibited in the way of little people is thrown entirely into the shade by these wonderful curiosities. Com. Foote being a thorough scholar, and as a Comedian, Actor, Orator and Dancer, he has no equal; while his wife is very intelligent and refined in her conversation and deportment; sings and dances. The proficiency in the poetic art these little wonders have acquired under the kind instruction of one of the most talented musicians in America, Miss M. C. Ellinger, is truly surprising.

The Comedian and his Sister will be assisted by the justly celebrated Pianist and Vocalist, Miss Dinger; Cpl. Smith, the Female Character Dancer; and old friends, the Continental Violinists, Franklin and Smith, and Prof. G. H. Brooks, the Blind Pianist and Violinist. These constitute a combination which for variety and talent cannot be excelled.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—Our enterprising friend, J. H. Minigh, is preparing for the holidays. His store already presents a gay appearance. Without taking time to enumerate the articles, he desires us to say, that never before has he been able to present to the public such a complete assortment of Toys, Toy Books, Confections, and Fancy Articles, which now already grace his shelves, suitable for Holiday presents. He also has the best brands of Cigars and Tobacco. It is well worth a visit to his store. The sooner you call the better. Dec. 5. 11

We copy the following articles from the last Chambersburg Spirit: FATAL OCCURRENCE.—On Saturday night last about 10 o'clock, a soldier was shot and instantly killed in an Ale Shop in the eastern portion of the town, under the following circumstances: A number of soldiers were in the house, when a Lieutenant attached to the New York Battery, stationed at this place, entered and demanded to see his passes. Three of them immediately decamped by a back door, followed by the officer who called to them to halt; two of the men returned, but the other kept on his way, when the Lieutenant fired several shots at him from a revolver, one of which penetrated his body, passed through both lungs and lodged in his arm, causing his death in a few minutes.

ALLEGED REBEL SPIES.—The three men captured on the Cumberland Valley cars on the 12th ult., supposed to be rebel spies, are now on trial before a military commission at Harrisburg. Their names it appears are, Williams, Thompson and Fielding. The main evidence against them is the fact that they are, beyond dispute, rebel soldiers and their many contradictory statements. They now allege that they were deserters from the rebel army, and intended delivering themselves to a Provost-Marshal and taking the oath of allegiance. This is, to say the least of it, very doubtful, as they avoided Hagerstown, Chambersburg and Carlisle, at either of which places they could have had the oath administered.

The Chambersburg Expositor of Wednesday says: An order has been issued by the War Department changing the name of the Department of the Susquehanna to the Department of Pennsylvania, and Major Gen. Cadwalader is assigned as commander, with headquarters in Philadelphia. The Junata District has been enlarged to embrace all the border counties, and Brig. Gen. Ferry retained as commander, with headquarters changed from Bedford to Chambersburg. Gen. Ferry and staff arrived here yesterday.

HOW TO SAVE 50 CENTS.—We are still engaged in sending out bills to those in arrears for the Compiler, and hope they will meet with prompt payment. We are compelled to pay very high prices, in cases for paper, ink, and all other materials, as well as for all articles of living, and can only "make both ends meet" by getting the cash from our customers. This has become the rule of business in almost every branch, and "country printers" are left no other course than to adopt it also. The sternness of the necessity will be admitted by all reflecting men.

Our terms for the Compiler are $2 if paid in advance, and $2 50 if not paid in advance. These rates the enormous price of everything used in our business requires a strict adherence to in all cases. Those who have heretofore paid at the end of the year will make fifty cents per annum by changing the time of payment to the beginning instead of the end of the year. Surely, few, if any, will be inconvenienced by adopting this course, and as it will secure a saving of a considerable percentage, no doubt many will at once do so. This is worth attending to.

Persons sending us money by mail, let us do so in REGISTERED LETTERS. If mail will be sure to reach us. The Bank of Gettysburg has been changed into a National Association, for the purpose of banking under the laws of the United States, and will hereafter transact business "The Gettysburg National Bank." There has been no change in its organization.

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS.—The Common Schools will close on Thursday, the 15th, preceded by the usual Examinations, as follows:

Tuesday morning, Dec. 13, Miss Welby and Miss Gilbert. Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 13, Miss Swope and Miss Withers. Wednesday morning, Dec. 14, Miss Myers. Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 14, Miss Welch. Thursday morning, Dec. 15, Mr. McClellan. Thursday afternoon, Dec. 15, Mr. Lytle. It is the desire of the teachers and directors to have, not only the parents, but the friends of education generally, attend these examinations. They will be followed by a month's vacation, the next term commencing Jan. 16.

On the 5th of Nov., Mr. GEORGE A. GROOP, of Huntington township, aged 44 years 9 mos. and 23 days. But a few days ago, and he who is the subject of this brief notice was with us, full of life and animation. The elastic step and beaming eye gave promise of long life—of many bright days to be passed and enjoyed in the comforts of a peaceful home. Surrounded with every thing calculated to render the human heart happy, he lived and anticipated the future as a field in which he should be permitted to sow to the seed of a future harvest. The light of pure delights to gladden his spirit and make the path of his pilgrimage pleasant and smooth. But, alas for human hopes! While sketching, with steady hand, his dreams on the canvas of life, Death cast its shadow over the scene, changed the sunlight into gloom, and called him from the speculations of time to the realities of the eternal world. His sun went down at noon, but it set without a cloud, throwing back a light to guide the path of others. He died doubly blessed by the Christian's peaceful death. He died in the arms of Jesus, and the hearts that are mourning over his absence today are cheered by the sweet thought that he has gone to the land of the living, and forever his rest shall be near the Throne. O, what raptures thrill his bosom now! What glories surround his brow! Happy brother! farewell! until we meet beyond the river! Farewell until we are called to parting with another shore, and then if we die the death of the righteous, we shall meet again. "The head that once was racked with pain, Is crowned with glory now; A royal diadem adorns Our happy brother's brow." In the death of our friend and brother, this community has lost a member who was an ornament to the sphere in which he lived and acted. His character was made up of those beautiful traits which are loved and loved in the eyes of his fellow-men, and gain for him their confidence and esteem.

A large concourse of sorrowing friends followed his remains to their last resting place in the little Cemetery at old "Rock Chapel"—a place to which he had been taken, and he lay in peace in Christ. There we leave him, assured that he shall rise again. Requiescat in pace si tibi terra levis! J. M. York Sul. Springs. Election. The World for 1865.

PROSPECTUS.—The Presidential contest has again signified the political destinies of the people of the United States during another term of years, to the control of President Lincoln at the North, and Jefferson Davis at the South. The Democratic party, always identified with the prosperity, growth, and glory of the Republic, may point with honest pride to its record in this great contest. Against an administration wielding the most enormous power of patronage and the most unbridled personal and party influence, and against any government, and reinforced alike by the untold tears of many patriots and sympathizers of all traditions, the Democratic party fought the battle of 1864 firmly and fearlessly to the end.

Defeated in the electoral college, the small majority of popular votes by which it has been so defeated is demonstrably less than the number of persons openly and officially dependent upon the administration as office-holders or contractors in the various departments of the public service. But the result is against us. The Law cannot be administered by men who not only violate its express provisions, but invade also the personal and civil liberties of our citizens, and create that Constitution cannot confer but only guarantee them, and which laws are made to vindicate and guard. The Peace is still borne by men who, in four years, have heaped upon the Union the most enormous burden of debt during the most disastrous and costly of our history, a debt almost as large as that of England, and which policy of a bloated paper-currency doubtless upon the present burden of this gigantic indebtedness. The War will still be waged for years, and a debt almost as large as that of England, and which policy of a bloated paper-currency doubtless upon the present burden of this gigantic indebtedness.

Helpless Negroes at Baltimore.—A letter from Baltimore says it is certain the sudden emancipation of several thousands of helpless negroes will cause great suffering to the unfortunate victims of a false philanthropy. Already they have begun to crowd to Baltimore, where the marble halls andilded saloons of the once aristocratic Maryland club house have been set apart for their reception. A few of the negroes may be well enough to stay on the plantations, to work for their old masters, for the very liberal wages which the latter offer. But almost all the able-bodied men have already been induced to enter the army, and the suffering will chiefly fall upon the helpless women and young children.
