OUR CANDIDATES.

There is not a Democrat in Pennsylvania who has not just reason to be proud of the nominees selected by the Convention which met at Harrisburg on Thursday week. Not alone because both are soldiers, an brave and as gallant as men dare be, but because in all things they are such men to the party and the people should delight to honor. Apart from the brilliant military career which each of them can present, and the numerous honorable scars which both of them bear upon their bodies, they possess all, and more than all, the requisite qualifications to fill with honor to the State the offices for which they have been respectively named. They are both men of finished education, of high intelligence, and of the purest morals; men against whose public or private character no single word of reproach can be truthfully uttered.

Col. W. W. H. Davis was, at the breaking out of the war, editor of the Doylestown Democrat, one of the ablest and most influential country papers in the State. He went into the struggle at its commencement, commanding a company in the three months' service; he afterwards raised the 104th regiment Pennsylvania volunteers, at the head of which he was always to be found gallantly leading his men, until it was dismissed the service at the end of the rebellion. His right hand was almost entirely shot away, and he now writes ringing editorials with his left, notwithstanding he was also severely wounded in that arm.

His paper was before and throughout the war, and still is, soundly Democratic. Had Colonel Davis been willing to sell his political principles he might long since have been a Brigadier General or something higher. He preferred rather to maintain his political integrity, and continue to command the gallant 104th, though during much of the time doing the duty of a Brigadier, and at other times that of a Major General, with only a Colonel's rank and pay. Such is our candidate for Auditor General.

Lieutenant Colonel John P. Linton, of Cambria, our candidate for Surveyor General, was, throughout the war, the actual fighting Colonel of the 54th, Jacob M. Campbell, the Republican nominee for the same position, was little more than an ornamental or useless appendage. It was John P. Linton who led the gallant 54th where there was danger. Always at the head of his men, he was severely wounded several times. He is a lawyer by profession, and we believe was a law partner of Hon. Cyrus I. Pershing before entering the service. A staunch and devoted Democrat throughout his life, he still adheres firmly to the great principles of the party.

Such are the nominees of the Democratic State Convention. Are they not worthy of honor? We shall give a fuller sketch of each of them hereafter.

We hope our candidates, both of whom are fine public speakers, will challenge their opponents to stump the State. Let us have an open canvass and a full discussion of the questions at issue. We'll bet on the white man's candidates on the stump or elsewhere!

THE STATE CONVENTION.
The Democratic State Convention was one of remarkable fullness and strength. Every Senatorial and Representative district in the State was represented, in nearly every instance, by the delegates originally chosen. There were not more than half a dozen cases of substitution. Very many of the ablest and purest Democrats in the State had seats in the Convention, and were active participants in its harmonious deliberations.

The prevailing tone of the body was a feeling of confident and trustful hopefulness, combined with an inflexible resolve that seemed to subordinate all other sensations. The Democracy of Pennsylvania have resolutely determined to win in the coming contest, and we have no doubt that they will most triumphantly succeed.

The platform is a full, firm, open and honest expression of the political creed of the Democracy of this great State. It is eminently conservative, and will commend itself to the heart and the conscience of every right thinking voter in this Commonwealth. In strong contrast to the platform of the Republican party, it will command the respect and challenge the admiration of every man who reads it.

From this day the Democratic party of Pennsylvania takes a new era in its existence, and "marks with a white stone" the lucky day which will hereafter be recognized as the commencement of a renewed lease of power. It seeks the ascendancy, which it will surely attain in the coming contest, not for the sake of any petty emoluments of office, for these things it cares but little, but that it may be once again in a position which will enable it to lead this great nation along the peaceful ways of increasing prosperity and renewed and continuing greatness and glory.—Lancaster Intelligencer.

ABOLITION TICKET.

Abolition County Conventions have not been attracting much attention here during the last several years, their honors having become a trifle too cheap. And thus it was with the gathering in the Court-house on Monday last—if not "more so." The Convention was not full, whilst but few outsiders were present, nearly all of whom came for the sole purpose of preventing their names from going upon the ticket. Several of the best and most popular men in the party were here, and although urged and urged again to allow themselves to be nominated, persisted in declining—some because of the Democratic majority existing in the county, and others because of the certainty that McConaughey would be at the head of the ticket to weigh it down were it over so strong otherwise. Thus deserted, McConaughey, (who, by the way, was allowed by the other leaders to have the Convention in his own hands,) was compelled to take such material as was left, and the following ticket was the result: Senator, D. McConaughey, Gettysburg. Assembly, Philip L. Honck, Butler. Troop-master, James Kitzmiller, Gettysburg.

Treasurer, Wm. F. Baker, Gettysburg. Commissioner, Samuel Wolf, Mount Pleasant. Director, Solomon Menes, Germantown. Auditor, Elias Norris, Strasburg. As all parties in making nominations are expected to have some regard to the record, character and popularity of their nominees, the question arises, how could such a nomination as McConaughey's have been made—unpopular as he is—liked by nobody, indeed disliked by everybody—not having the confidence of a single individual who knows him—cold-blooded and selfish in all things and known to be so—in short, a full-grown and graduated Pharisee, with no longer power to conceal his real character? The answer is handy. The Chambersburg Abolitionists considered the venture too risky, and such was the case, with several exceptions in this county. There was really no one willing to run but McConaughey, and his nomination became a matter of course. Almost anybody could have defeated it. This accounts for the position given him on the ticket—a position which, empty as it is, no doubt is flattering to him, because it gratifies his ambition "to have his name in the newspapers;" and as he (or someone) is a good deal of the magazine in his composition, he may even have hopes of getting money in his pocket by the operation, and this purpose he always clings to with the tenacity which characterizes the bull dog's grip upon a bone.

We have no space for further comment today. That the ticket has many weak points—that it is weak all over—sensible Republicans admit. But Democrats must be in mind that it is headed by a man who is desperate in more ways than one—and that it is the ticket of a party which is making its best struggle for success. They are calculating upon the apathy of the Democracy, with the hope that by constant and unceasing efforts, individually and otherwise, they may steal a march on us, and thus carry their point. Democrats, arouse! The campaign will be short—let it be a vigorous one. Let each and all be vigilant and active. Remember what there is at stake. Taxes are crushing the people, and they are threatened with social and political degradation. Recollect then, and let it nerve you to the work, that every vote withheld from the Democratic ticket, as well as every vote given to the Abolition ticket, is a vote in favor of continued extravagance and onerous taxation, and in favor of negro suffrage and negro equality. Bear this in mind, and KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE!

Mr. Cyrus G. Boals, Assistant Assessor of the 10th District, has been appointed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, to the position of Inspector of Tobacco, Snuff and Cigars, for the 16th District. This is in addition to the commission which he now holds as Assessor.

It is generally supposed that almost anybody would have capacity enough to discharge the duties of this new "Inspectorship," and if the supposition be correct, why did not McConaughey & Co. (Co. very small) get the place for either Honck, Kitzmiller or Baker, the soldiers on the Abolition ticket? If capable, there would have been a fitness in giving the place to one of them; but there is no fitness in asking the people of Adams county to elect them to positions for which they are not qualified.

The "Inspectorship" being a sure thing, it goes to a civil favorite; but nominations on the Abolition county ticket not being at all certain, a few of them are given to soldiers, with the calculation, of course, that they shall bolster up a ticket which McConaughey's name would render hopeless without. Such is the "friendship" which Abolition leaders manifest.

The Republicans in the Legislature have for two winters defeated all propositions for the relief of the people of the Border, last winter even voting down a bill to allow the sufferers to put their losses in an assessed basis. In view of this glaring and outspoken hostility by the Republicans of the State, it is the balm of humbuggery in the candidates of that party in Franklin and Adams to solicit votes on that issue. The history of the last two years proves that it is only to the Democratic party that the sufferers of the Border must look for aid. The Democrats in the Legislature have always voted FOR relief—the Republicans have always voted AGAINST it.—Which should be trusted?

Some "loyal" lawyer has received a fee of $500 for securing the Presidential signature to papers of pardon for a Virginian named Foster. There is no telling how much the loyal patriots have already made in this way or how much they will make hereafter. "Influence" brokerage has got to be a vast affair in Washington since shoddy came into power.

A deadly cattle distemper, called the Rinderpest, or Russian plague, has made its appearance in Great Britain—principally in Scotland and the northern counties of England. Whole herds have been swept away. What is worse, a similar disease has appeared among the children, which has been traced to the use of milk. Much alarm exists.

In six years there have been eleven revolutions in Haiti—the negro Republic. Somehow the darkness never got their "political rights" fixed exactly right.

The Democratic County Convention meets to-day. Give us a good ticket, and then, with a vigorous effort, let us beat the niggers "out of their boots."

THE BENDERSVILLE FAIR.—The preparations for the Agricultural Fair at Bendersville, on the 19th, 20th, and 21st of the present month, are progressing finely, and no effort will be spared to make everything satisfactory to exhibitors and visitors.

The prices of admission have been fixed as follows: Footman, 25 cents; Man and Horse, 50 cents; One-horse Buggy or Carriage, 1 person, 75 cents; each additional person, 25 cents; Two-horse Buggy or Carriage, 1 person, $1; each additional person, 25 cents. Admission tickets good for one entrance only.

Family tickets will be $1, admitting the holder, his wife and minor children during the entire Fair. Life Member Tickets $10, entitling the holder, his wife and minor children to all the exhibitions of the Society after the purchase of such ticket. These Life Memberships should commend themselves to general attention, as they certainly are a good thing for the holder, whilst the proceeds are no doubt of considerable service to the Society.

DEATH OF REV. MR. CATANI.—Rev. J. B. Catani died at Conowingo Chapel, on Friday morning last, after a few weeks' illness. Mr. Catani was for many years Superior Conowingo Chapel, was widely known and respected—and dies lamented by all who enjoyed the pleasure of his acquaintance. His remains were interred at the Chapel on Saturday morning, amidst an immense concourse of sorrowing people.

Rev. David Scoop, of this place, has received and accepted a call from the Lutheran congregation in Middleburg, Schuylkill county, N. Y., and has left with his family for his new field of labor.

Prof. Chas. F. Himes has been appointed Professor of Natural Sciences in Dickinson College, Carlisle. He is a son of Wm. D. Himes, Esq. of New Oxford, and is a gentleman of fine attainments.

Major Jacob Siders recently sold his property in New Chester, to Mr. Joseph Todd, of York county, at $2,250 cash. Todd intends opening a public house in the spring.

Major Siders has since purchased of H. D. Watters the property nearly occupied by the Globe Inn, in this place, long occupied by Wm. Gillette, now RECEIVED, at $1,000 cash.

THE DEMOCRATS AND THE SOLDIERS.

The soldiers in Iowa have nominated a State ticket in opposition to that of the Republicans, and the Democrats, after examining into the principles of the nominees, have accepted and endorsed them as their own. This is doubling on the Republicans a team which will find it hard to beat. In fact, as in the case of the soldiers' nominees, all the nominees of the Republican party amount to nothing. In this city the Republicans said that all the offices should be given to soldiers, but took good care to put none but old hacks, whose sides are worn with the harness and whose cigars are drunk the brandy and smoked the cigars, and the office-holders pocketed their thousands of dollars, and a good many good things to be amused with promises, but not good enough to share the emoluments of office. This is so well understood in our city that the soldiers have become disgusted, and the result at the polls will show how ineffectual are the hypocritical professions of the Republicans, and how their nominees the brave men just returned from the labors and carnage of the field.

The truth is, that while the Republican party are everywhere trying to overreach the soldiers by tricks and deception, the Democrats are recognizing their claims in the most substantial manner. In Iowa they have adopted the soldiers' ticket; in this State they have placed two brave soldiers upon the State ticket. In Philadelphia they have nominated three soldiers, Colonel Biddle, Adjutant Weaver and Captain Kelly, for lucrative offices. So long as the Republican party could use the soldiers to prop their tottering political edifice, they were loud in promises and worthy commitments. But when the soldiers asked for a fulfillment of previous pledges, they were dodged, and banished from the centers of power for lucrative offices. How to Equalize Taxation.—The New York World, dwelling upon the legalized wrong of exempting about half of the property of the land, in several States, from the real estate tax, suggests that the Federal Government tax the Bonds, and says: "Exemption of the bonds augments the burden of municipal taxes on other property. Taking the bonds would diminish the tax on the real estate, and thus relieve upon other property. If the average level taxation is, say, two per cent. on other property than Federal bonds, it would be equitable for Congress to impose a tax of two per cent. on all Federal securities owned in the United States; throwing off, in this way, a sufficient amount of revenue to pay the tax to the public revenue the same." * * * Supposing the tax to be two per cent. it would be simply the withholding of that amount by the Treasury; that is, the Government would pay five and three-tenths per cent. interest on a seven and three-tenths obligation.
