Hogs in the Orchard.

One neighbor, in Western New York, praising the fruit grop of another, remarked that the land must be in very good order. "The secret is not in the soil," John replied, with a twinkle in his eye, "but on it. Do you see those grunters there? My pork brings me fifty cents a pound—eight in flesh, and the balance in fruit. I began to pasture my orchard ten years ago with hogs, and since that time I have had no trouble with wormy fruit, Apples as a general thing, don't fall from the tree unless something is the matter with them. ### Cheap Mode of Feeding Horses.

J. Fish, of Bildwinsville, N. Y., writes to the Rural New Yorker, that he has a cut oats straw; moistens it with water; throws in four quarts of shorts, mixes thoroughly, and feeds. At noon gives straw again, and two or four 'quarts of shorts clear. At night mixes hay and straw—equal parts of each—cuts a basketful and mixes shorts again as in the mering.

Feeds also all the potato and apple parings, cabbage leaves, etc., to him: His boxes is free free covers. Finally, the strain and they will be sent to you secure from but. mixes shorts again as in the merning.

Feeds also all the potate and apple parings, cabbage leaves, etc., to him: His horse is free from cough, lively, healthy and they will be sent to you secure from the cough, lively, healthy and fat; and this practice he is confident saves him 50 per cent, the cost of keeping of the money. saves him 50 per cent, the cost of keeping a horse the usual way. This is an important item in these days of high feed.

How to Make Corn Bread.

The Louisville Journal publishes the following recipe for making corn bread : Corn Bread.--The corn crop the present year is one of almost unexampled abundance. Other crops in some parts of the country have been comparatively light, but the corn crop has almost everywhere turned out bountifully. There will be corn in the land, therefore, enough for man and beast. We shall have corn bread, consebeast. We shall have corn bread, consequently, provided we can keep on the right obstruction, or STOPPAGE OF NATURE nide of the cooks, and get them to make it, which it is not always easy to do. Corn effectual in restoring to health all who are sufwhich it is not always easy to do. Corn bread, if it is properly made—and upon this everything depends—is the best, most palatable and wholesome bread that can be placed upon the table. It requires some skill, considerable art, to make it well, and they "Act like a Charm," in strengthening the skill, considerable art, to make it well, and they are and tried various other remedies in vain, owe a renewal of their health and strength wholly to the efficacy of the real reason why many persons fail to the absence of this in its manufacture is the real reason why many persons fail to appreciate properly corn bread. It requires the proper kind of porn—the white sweet—to make good corn bread, and the meal should be fresh every day or two.—Then it requires an egg and a little milk, and some other fixings. A little sweet potato improves it, and perhaps a small quantity of flour also. We have eaten it when DR. HARVEY'S GOLDEN PILLS.
