Pianos, PARTICULAR attention is given to the selection of Pianos; and when so selected, in addition to the manufacturers' guarantee, the Pianos are guaranteed by me. MASON & HANLIN, CARBON ORGAN AND MELODIANS. The recent improvements in these instruments are such as to fully warrant saying they are FAR SUPERIOR to any other make. One of the best evidences of their merit is, that their improvements are imitated by other makers. The new style, four stop organ, has a Sub-Bass and Octave Couplet, making it an instrument especially adapted to Church and Sabbath School purposes. DESCRIPTIVE CIRCULARS will be sent by mail to persons desiring them. Pianos used regularly. Pianos taken in exchange. No. 30 East Market St., York, Pa. June 12, 1865. PETER BENTZ.

Railroad House, NEAR THE DEPOT, HANOVER, YORK CO., PA., the undersigned would respectfully inform the public generally, that he has leased the Hotel in Hanover, near the Depot, formerly kept by Mr. Jeremiah Kohler, and will spare no effort to conduct it in a manner that will give general satisfaction. His table will have the best the market can afford—his chambers are spacious and comfortable—and he has laid in for his bar a full stock of choice Wines and Liquors. There is a stable for horses attached to the Hotel. It will be his constant endeavor to render the most satisfactory service to his guests, making his house as near a home to them as possible. He asks a share of the public patronage, determined as he is to deserve a large part of it. Remember the Railroad House, near the Depot, Hanover, Pa. A. P. BAUGHNER, Oct. 3, 1865.

Reeves' Ambrosia, THE Original and Genuine Ambrosia is prepared by J. ALLEN REEVES, and is the best hair dressing and preservative ever used. It stops the hair falling out, causes it to grow thick and prevents it from turning prematurely grey. It eradicates dandruff, cleanses, beautifies and renders the hair soft, glossy and curly. Buy it, try it and be convinced. Don't be put off with a spurious article. Ask for Reeves' Ambrosia and take no other. For Sale by Druggists and Dealers in Fancy Goods everywhere. Price 75 cents per Bottle—$6.00 per dozen. Address REEVES' AMBROSIA DEPOT, 62 Fulton St., New York City. Oct. 18, 1865.

That he knows how to do all jobs of the kind will not be questioned by those who have a knowledge of his long experience at the business. Come on with your work, and you will be satisfied when you take it away—and for which he will receive Cash or Country Produce. ADAM HOLTZWORTH, Mar. 20, 1865.

Attracting Attention, THE superior Pictures taken at MUMFERS SKY-LIGHT GALLERY, on West Middle St., are attracting universal attention. Good judges pronounce them superior to any ever taken in this place. Call and examine for yourselves. Oct. 16, 1865.

Selected Poetry, KITTY RIDER, Keeling by the stream I saw Kate, the farmer's daughter, Drinking in her rosy palm Dipping up the water. She had thrown her hat aside, Her hair was loose and straggled; Each unconscious char displayed, Made my love the bolder. So I loved, tenderly, Went and knelt beside her, Drank with her from out the stream, Blushing Kitty Rider. And I said, "The poets think 'Tis a fine thing, Shall we not, together drink Always, love, waters? Many years have passed us by, Like the flowing water, But I drink life's stream to-day, With the farmer's daughter."

Choice Miscellany, "Proceed with thy Elephant," In Columbia county, O. G., resides an old fellow renowned for his belligerent disposition, who is generally known as Friend Shavey. Born and bred a Quaker, he was long since read out of meeting on account of his quarrelsome propensities, but he still pertinaciously clings to the plain clothes and the plain language of his earlier days, possibly as a protection against the wrath which he is continually provoking by his overbearing and irritable demeanor. He is always the owner of the cross-eyed dog in the neighborhood, the most troublesome, brawny steers, etc., and is continually in hot water, with some of his neighbors in consequence of the depredations committed by his unruly live stock. A few days since Van Amburgh's messenger, travelling through Columbia county, was obliged to pass his residence. A little before daylight, Nash, the keeper of the elephant, Tippon Saib, as he was passing over the road with his elephant, discovered this pseudo-Quaker seated upon a fence upon the roadside, watching a bull, which he had turned out upon the road, and which was pawing and bellowing, and throwing up tremendous dirt generally. In fact, from the fury of the animal's demonstrations, one would really have taken him for one of the identical breed that butted a locomotive off the bridge. "Take that bull out of the way," shouted Nash, as he approached. "Proceed with thy elephant," was the reply. "If you don't take that bull away he will get hurt," continued Nash, approaching, while the bull reloaded his belligerent demonstrations. "I won't trouble myself about the bull, but proceed with thy elephant," retorted Friend Shavey, rubbing his hands with delight at the prospect of an approaching commotion, the old fellow having great confidence in the invincibility of his bull, which was really the terror of the whole county. "Proceed with thy elephant," retorted Friend Shavey, rubbing his hands with delight at the prospect of an approaching commotion, the old fellow having great confidence in the invincibility of his bull, which was really the terror of the whole county.

Artemus Ward on the Negro, Fellow sitters, the African may be our brother. Scornfully respectable gentlemen don't snuff themselves tell us, and for arguments sake I might be inclined to grant it, though I don't believe it myself. But the African isn't our wife and our uncle. He isn't several of our cousins, and all our first wife's relations. He isn't our grandfather and our aunt in the country. Scarcely. And yet numerous persons would have us believe that he is a run Congress and several other grosser. Now that you are going to do about it? He's an awful nuisance. Praps he isn't to blame for it. Praps he was created for some wise purpose, like Bill Dredger, so 'n' he ain't to blame for it. Praps he was created to see it. Any rat here, and he's a rat, he couldn't go off somewhere quietly by himself, where he could gratterly his ambition in vain was, without having a eternal fuss kicked up about him.

Bear this in Mind, When you are about a railroad station or depot, where trains of cars are standing on the track, especially when the locomotives to them, never stand on the track, either in front or in the rear of the train; for, when you least think of it, the cars may suddenly move and strike you, and when they hit you they are sure to knock you down and move over you. Always stand aside the track under all circumstances. The most dangerous place to stand is on the track in the rear of the train. Cars are very deceptive to persons who do not understand the philosophy of momentum. A train may seem to move slowly, yet owing to its great weight it moves with force, and it is very dangerous to get in the way of it, unless one pays special attention to it, he may, before he is aware of its moving, be run over and lose his life.

Old stories, Old stories of the war are constantly coming to light. It is stated that when Gen. Bragg was in command at Augusta, Ga., last winter, Jeff. Davis telegraphed to him to hold the State at all hazards, stop up the roads, destroy the supplies and crush Sherman. At the close of the desperate rebel President inquired, "What is your possible force for this purpose?" Gen. Bragg replied, "Five proclamations and one brigade."

A good story is told of a recent smash up on a Western railroad. A soldier who, in coming from Baltimore to Rock Island, had met with four accidents, was on this occasion in a car that completely turned over. Making his way through a window and gaining an upright position, he looked around him and sootily inquired: "What station do you call this?"

Rather Rough Honeymoon, On last Friday morning an athletic young farmer, in the town of Gettysburg, took a fair girl, tall, bluish, from her parents, and started for the first town across the Pennsylvania line, to be married, where the ceremony could be performed without a license. The happy pair were accompanied by a sister of the girl, a tall, gaunt, sharp-featured female of some thirty-seven summers. The pair crossed the line, were married, and returned to Wellsboro to pass the night. People at the hotel where the wedding party stopped, observed that they conducted themselves in a rather singular manner. The husband would take his sister-in-law, the tall female, and talk earnestly to her, gesticulating wildly all the time. Then the tall female would "put her foot down" and talk to him in an angry and excited manner. Then the husband would take his fair, young bride into a corner; but he would not sooner commence talking to her than the gaunt sister would rush in between them and angrily join in the conversation. The people at the hotel, excited by this meant about nine o'clock that evening. There was an uproar in the room which had been assigned to the newly married couple. Female shrieks and masculine "swears" startled the people in the hotel, and they rushed to the spot. The gaunt female was pressing against the door of the room, and the tall female, mostly undressed, was barring her out with all her might. Occasionally she would kick the door far enough open to disclose the stalwart husband, in his Gentleman Greek Slave apparel. It appeared that the tall female insisted upon occupying the same bed with the water at the door, that her sister was favorably disposed to the arrangement, and that the husband had agreed to it before the wedding took place, and now indignantly repudiated the contract. "Won't you go away now, Susan?" said the newly married man, softening his voice. "I won't go away now, Susan?" cried the tall female, "I'll cut up as much as I want!" she sharply replied. "I'll cut up as much as I want!" she sharply replied. "I'll cut up as much as I want!" she sharply replied.

Where Paris May be Tried, It is amusing, says the Philadelphia Ledger, to see the straits that the sensation correspondents are put in to order to cover up the ignorance they betray about the trial of Jefferson Davis. One of these had the whole affair arranged to his own satisfaction, as coming off in the Supreme Court of the United States, until it was shown that the Supreme Court has no original jurisdiction in the matter. He then turns about and says that Congress may, by appropriate act, give jurisdiction to the Court, & C. For such writers a short course of lessons in the Constitution in some good public school would be of advantage to the public. That instrument says that in all criminal prosecutions the accused shall be tried by a jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law.

A Great Work—A Spiral Railroad to the Top of a Mountain, The Lebanon papers announce that one of the greatest engineering, scientific and mechanical feats in the country, is now being performed at Cornwall, in that county. It is no less than the building of a spiral railway around and to the top of a great Iron ore mountain. It starts from the level of the Cornwall railroad, and revolves around the mountain, at some places over trussel work, at others over high embankments, and again at others through the ponderous cuts in the solid hills of iron ore, until it reaches the very top of the mountain. A great part of the way is completed, a greater part is ready for the sills, while the rest is progressing actively. A powerful locomotive has been obtained to do the work of moving the trains, which is already at Cornwall ready for work. The spiral road proper, when completed, will be over two miles in length, and a work of equal length which cannot be found probably in the world.

The great improvements now going on at Cornwall are under the superintendence of A. Wilhelm, Esq., the manager of the Cornwall Furnaces and the Cornwall Iron Works. Robert W. and William Coleman, dead, and other parties interested.

Rather Strong—Some sensation correspondent, writing from New York, says there are among the ladies of the Fifth Avenue parties from which men are excluded, a set that they are generally to let their wives and daughters remain out all night, without making some inquiry into the business which keeps them abroad. Talk of the tyranny of a man after this; why this is the perfection of meekness and submission. But, if all males are rigidly excluded, how did the correspondents get his interesting facts? Is he a female?

Shocking Outrage—A party of negroes, on Saturday night last, attacked the residence of H. O. Parker, near Raleigh, N. C., took him about fifty yards from the house, and stripped him of his clothing. He then took his wife, stripped her, and whipped her in the most brutal manner. All the provisions in the house were then taken, and about four hundred dollars in greenbacks. A party of citizens from Raleigh, numbering about sixty, summoned by the sheriff of the county, Colonel Lawrence, and the Purinton, the provost-marshal, with four or five soldiers, went out the next day and succeeded in capturing one of the party, who was clearly identified.—Baltimore Sun.

This outrage committed by "loyal" negroes, will be smiled at by "loyal" whites, who are permitted to commit the same upon the darkey, what a "loyal" howl would be raised against such barbarity.

A Black Record—Every man who supports the Abolition Republican enemies of civil liberty must blush with shame as he contemplates some of the measures being fully traced by a contemporary.

The Republican party has existed but ten years. It aspired to the control of public affairs when the very name of a Federal Tax Collector was unknown. It has left a public debt as gigantic as that which exists at the present time, and has imposed the burden of it upon our country. Up to the time it came into power the liberty of the people was held to be a sacred thing. It struck down habeas corpus; it discarded trial by jury; it prohibited free discussion; it filled our bastilles with prisoners, arrested without warrant and imprisoned without trial; it was a record of the most reckless for the exercise of every right claimed by despotic governments.

Several "Republicans" have remarked to us since the election, that if they had believed that their leaders and organs would so completely desert them, they would be now doing, they would have voted the Democratic ticket. These men assure us that they will not be deceived again.—Bedford Gazette.

A mathematician genius has figured up the weight and length of the national debt, in silver dollars. It would take 125 ships of the largest size to carry it, and if the dollars were strung out in a row they would encircle the earth four times and a half, which would be a line about one hundred and ten thousand miles long. At this rate it is not likely that we shall ever see the end of it.

We are disposed to think that the public rates, Mr. Phillips too high as a creator. He would make a failure in any deliberative body in the world. He has not the qualities of a legislator and a statesman. His reputation which he gained during his life.—Huntington Table.

A man named Jameson, in Cincinnati, wishing to curtail household expenses, adopted a novel mode to effect his object. He hired the servant girl one morning when he knew Mrs. J. would see him.—Beulah, discharged servant girl and $12 per month saved.—N. Y. Sun.

It is said that almost the whole Mexican population would rise against Maximilian if they had arms. They are expecting aid from the United States.

What's Up?—To find out "what's up," inquire the price of butter, eggs and meat. "That's what's up."

From the New York World, We are permitted to copy the following extracts from a letter received by a member of the Legislature from Kingston, Jamaica, by way of Havana:—

Kingston, October 15, 1865. Ere this reaches New York you will no doubt have heard of the unsettled state of the island, caused by the dissatisfaction of the negroes. The disturbances prevail here in Kingston regarding the superior qualities of the blacks in the interior sections of the island. From what cause the blacks are in rebellion against their own government remains to be ascertained. In Jamaica, as you are aware, the colored people have the preponderance both in numbers and influence. The Legislature is composed of the colored people, in their annual visionary theories. More than three-fourths of the Magistrates and officers of the Colonial Government are colored men, and several of the best educated and most prominent journalists of the island are also colored men. The police, with very few exceptions, are from the African (Hottentot) States, although education is generally diffused throughout the colony, there seems to be an infernal feeling of hatred displayed toward the white minority, on the part of the negroes. The principal cause of this feeling toward the white man is said to be the introduction of a number of ordinary emigrants from the Northern (Hottentot) States, who go about among the half-educated and debased blacks, instilling false and pernicious ideas into the craniums of their willing hearers. These scoundrels preach the doctrine of a free and independent negro republic, to whose end indignantly they would elevate the brutal Sarras (at present residing at Kingston) or some of his unscrupulous henchmen. We have also in our midst a large number of negroes, ignorant and brutal in their instincts, from the neighboring island of St. Domingo, who would not fail in case of a general outbreak to follow in the footsteps of the inhuman maniac of 1793, the Marquis de Lafayette. You will remember that the blacks sent a petition, detailing their financial grievances, to the Queen some time ago, complaining of the high rate of provisions and other necessities of life, and demanding some means of relief. The answer from the home Government was, in substance, "go to work; we have no money to give you; but we have a few barrels of flour in the interior of the island, and since there have been no mutinies and secret plottings on the part of the blacks, encouraged and fomented, as I am aware from a personal experience, by men who should know better than their intelligence and education. There are a great number of educated white families, who, notwithstanding scattered throughout the more remote sections of the island, inaccessible to all assistance in case of an outbreak. In Kingston, we depend for our safety upon a fleet of war vessels, a handful of white troops, and a regiment of African negroes from the Cape of Good Hope, who are to be sent to the island to ward the colored natives of this island, the latter manifest toward the white population. In case of a universal rising all over the island, I anticipate an indiscriminate massacre of white women and children as in former insurrections. It is a shocking matter to realize the fact that the latter manifest toward the white population. Cost of the War in Dollars, The Washington Republican says: "We are officially informed to-day that one thousand and twenty million of dollars have been paid to the army since the beginning of the war. It is also stated that three hundred million of dollars, belonging to one of the best families in the parish, have been first tortured to ascertain the whereabouts of valuables, and then hurried in a most fiendish manner. Terror reigns supreme in the vicinity of Black River, and the police are preparing themselves for the final struggle by arming and barricading their dwellings. My family, as you know, reside in the vicinity of the outbreak, and I am in dread anticipation of receiving news of their slaughter every moment. I must close my letter, for I am unfit to write any farther. R. E. T."

Let us consider, Four millions of negroes could be employed for $200,000,000 at $200 per head, a high average for old men, women, children, & C. The Federal State, County and Town debts in freezing time is full $4,000,000,000. The "prize" won, then, of four millions of free negroes stands thus: Cost of negroes.....$4,000,000,000 Value of negroes.....800,000,000 Loss by war.....$3,200,000,000

As a mercantile job, the freeing of the negroes has not paid, certainly, in dollars.

The New Haven Journal—radical wants President Johnson to issue another proclamation directing that for the free, white and Frege to be returned without that set apart by the New England Gove. But it is not advisable to depose Mr. Johnson and his Cabinet altogether, and set up in stead a Provisional Government with Wm. Phillips as its chief, with the Hon. Charles Sumner as its private secretary, and Milton deceased?

Prof. D. D. Phelps, the champion negro orator, is delighting Boston audiences with abuse and denunciation of President Johnson. We have never heard that he had skinned his musket and went down South with the 5th Mass. Volunteers to help deliver his beloved brethren from bondage. Like all the loud-mouthed liberal vituperators, he only sounded the battle afar off.

The Norristown Herald, whose editors for some time past have been trying to convince their readers that they are equal to the negro, claims the election of Bartlett as a triumph in favor of nigger suffrage.

Emerson E. Burdick has been acquitted. What matter? By false charges against him and his arrest without warrant, his political enemies succeeded in their purpose—keeping him out of Congress!

It has been officially ascertained that Gen. Lee's army when it surrendered contained 285,000 men, and Gen. Johnston's 27,000.

Calhoun's mission to Europe has been postponed until the spring. His mission will relate to the British blockade, claimed of English parties by our government.

We have heard of good many teaching exercises of this kind, but none to equal the following, which a Western man gave vent to lately:—"My father is the only man I ever allowed to be angry to me, without kicking him like thunder."

The municipal election in New Haven, Ct., has been carried by the Democrats.

From the New York World, We are permitted to copy the following extracts from a letter received by a member of the Legislature from Kingston, Jamaica, by way of Havana:—

Kingston, October 15, 1865. Ere this reaches New York you will no doubt have heard of the unsettled state of the island, caused by the dissatisfaction of the negroes. The disturbances prevail here in Kingston regarding the superior qualities of the blacks in the interior sections of the island. From what cause the blacks are in rebellion against their own government remains to be ascertained. In Jamaica, as you are aware, the colored people have the preponderance both in numbers and influence. The Legislature is composed of the colored people, in their annual visionary theories. More than three-fourths of the Magistrates and officers of the Colonial Government are colored men, and several of the best educated and most prominent journalists of the island are also colored men. The police, with very few exceptions, are from the African (Hottentot) States, although education is generally diffused throughout the colony, there seems to be an infernal feeling of hatred displayed toward the white minority, on the part of the negroes. The principal cause of this feeling toward the white man is said to be the introduction of a number of ordinary emigrants from the Northern (Hottentot) States, who go about among the half-educated and debased blacks, instilling false and pernicious ideas into the craniums of their willing hearers. These scoundrels preach the doctrine of a free and independent negro republic, to whose end indignantly they would elevate the brutal Sarras (at present residing at Kingston) or some of his unscrupulous henchmen. We have also in our midst a large number of negroes, ignorant and brutal in their instincts, from the neighboring island of St. Domingo, who would not fail in case of a general outbreak to follow in the footsteps of the inhuman maniac of 1793, the Marquis de Lafayette. You will remember that the blacks sent a petition, detailing their financial grievances, to the Queen some time ago, complaining of the high rate of provisions and other necessities of life, and demanding some means of relief. The answer from the home Government was, in substance, "go to work; we have no money to give you; but we have a few barrels of flour in the interior of the island, and since there have been no mutinies and secret plottings on the part of the blacks, encouraged and fomented, as I am aware from a personal experience, by men who should know better than their intelligence and education. There are a great number of educated white families, who, notwithstanding scattered throughout the more remote sections of the island, inaccessible to all assistance in case of an outbreak. In Kingston, we depend for our safety upon a fleet of war vessels, a handful of white troops, and a regiment of African negroes from the Cape of Good Hope, who are to be sent to the island to ward the colored natives of this island, the latter manifest toward the white population. In case of a universal rising all over the island, I anticipate an indiscriminate massacre of white women and children as in former insurrections. It is a shocking matter to realize the fact that the latter manifest toward the white population. Cost of the War in Dollars, The Washington Republican says: "We are officially informed to-day that one thousand and twenty million of dollars have been paid to the army since the beginning of the war. It is also stated that three hundred million of dollars, belonging to one of the best families in the parish, have been first tortured to ascertain the whereabouts of valuables, and then hurried in a most fiendish manner. Terror reigns supreme in the vicinity of Black River, and the police are preparing themselves for the final struggle by arming and barricading their dwellings. My family, as you know, reside in the vicinity of the outbreak, and I am in dread anticipation of receiving news of their slaughter every moment. I must close my letter, for I am unfit to write any farther. R. E. T."

Let us consider, Four millions of negroes could be employed for $200,000,000 at $200 per head, a high average for old men, women, children, & C. The Federal State, County and Town debts in freezing time is full $4,000,000,000. The "prize" won, then, of four millions of free negroes stands thus: Cost of negroes.....$4,000,000,000 Value of negroes.....800,000,000 Loss by war.....$3,200,000,000
