Election—Tuesday, Oct. 8, 1850.

Just as we are going to press we learn by a gentleman direct from Harrisburg, that Hon. Jesse Miller died at his residence in that place, on yesterday forenoon, of congestion of the liver. He had been ill since Friday last, but was not considered dangerously so. He has occupied a conspicuous place in the politics of the country for many years, and was Secretary of the Commonwealth under Governor Shunk.

As conductors of an independent press, we have yielded to the wishes of a respectable number of our Democratic subscribers, in admitting to our columns the Address of the Committee appointed at the meeting in New Berlin, last week. Our paper takes no stand in party contests, but our columns are open to all parties, to a reasonable extent, and under proper restrictions, of which we must, of course, judge for ourselves.

Foreign News. Late accounts from Europe state that the war between Denmark and Schleswig-Holstein has broken out afresh; and on the 25th of July a battle was fought at Idstedt, between 40,000 Danes and 30,000 Holsteines, which began at day break, and lasted eleven hours, and resulted in a loss on both sides of about 7,000 men, killed, wounded, and missing. The Danes remained in possession of the field, but did not pursue the retreating Holsteines, who retired in good order. Both sides are preparing for another fight. This war is likely to be protracted and sanguinary.

The Russians have had several battles lately with the Circassians, and met with overwhelming success.

President Taylor's death created a profound sensation throughout Europe. The English papers speak of him in terms of high respect, and the French government officially directed that badges of mourning be worn, as is usual upon such occasions.

Bold Robbery. The Sunbury papers state that the house of Lewis Dewart, Esq., in that place, was entered by burglars, on Monday night a week, and robbed of a gold watch, a pair of gold spectacles, a piece of silk handkerchiefs, and from $99 to $120 in money, mostly in old gold coin. They also opened Mr. D.'s paper case, and examined the deeds, mortgages, notes, &c., which were found scattered over the floor, and took all the silver spoons, and some iron ones, from a closet in the back room. The villains made their entrance through an outside cellar-door, struck up a light, leaving some matches on the floor, and made their escape through one of the front windows. They also made an attempt the same night to rob the county Treasurer.

Camera-Township.—This is a new township erected at the last Court, out of that part of Coal township lying south of the Mahoning mountain, and named Cameron-township, in compliment to Gen. Simon Cameron. The division was a proper one, as the mountain is made the natural boundary, and there is no coal south of the mountain. Coal township is now substantially a Coal township throughout, and contains probably more coal than any township in the Union.—[Sunbury Amer.]

The State of Superior.—A resolution has been submitted to the Michigan Constitutional Convention, to inquire into the expediency of the formation of a territorial government for the Upper Peninsula, (on Lake Superior,) and its ultimate admission in the Union as a State, with the assent of the people of the State of Michigan and of Congress.

Delusion.—Five persons have arrived at Euston on their way to Long Island, in search of Captain Kidd's treasures, which a mesmerizer-professor has revealed to them.

The White House, at Washington, is said to be unhealthily as a place of residence, that Mr. Fillmore has hired for the season a small house at Georgetown.

The Canal Commissioners have appointed George Crane Esq., to be Superintendent of the work on the Shamokin Dam.

What the Neighbors say.

John M. Baum, Esq., of the Union Times, has been nominated for the Assembly in Union county, by the Democratic Convention. We congratulate friend Baum on his nomination, and should be pleased to do so on his election, in October, if the thing can be done in old Union.

John Walls, Esq., of Lewisburg, was at the same time appointed delegate to the 4th of March Convention. This is a good appointment, and a deserved compliment, as there are few more steadfast and true democrats in the county, than Mr. Walls.—[Sunbury American.]

We are glad to see that the late excellent Representative from Union county, has been re-nominated for the same place. Ever faithful and attentive to the interests of his constituents to which he was devoted with a fidelity that was visible in all his acts—sound, intelligent and sagacious, with a pleasing and affable deportment that secured him the friendship of all with whom he came in contact—he deserved this mark of their confidence and approbation. His re-election will prove gratifying to any friends who reside out of the limits of his district. He is every way worthy to represent the Whigs of Union.—[Perry Telegraph.]

The Democrats of Union county have nominated Maj. John Cummings, of Selinsgrove, for Congress; John M. Baum Esq., the talented young editor of the Times, for the Legislature; and John Walls, Esq., of Lewisburg, was appointed Representative delegate to the next State Convention. The delegates from seven townships dissented from the action of the Convention. We hope the difficulty will be reconciled.

The action of the Union County Convention in the appointment of Representative delegate was very ill-advised. Union & Juniata now send but one Representative, and of course have but one delegate between them. The appointment of a Representative delegate several months previous to the usual time, and without consulting Juniata county is therefore aggressive and will not be submitted to by the Democrats of this county without an effort to secure their rights.—[Juniata Register.]

A correspondent in the Bloomsburg Star, writing from this place under date of the 12th inst., speaks thus of our town, and its educational facilities. The word school, by the way, is quite a modest term to apply to a University.

Lewisburg is continually thronged with a large number of strangers, and is destined ere long to outstrip all the towns on the West Branch in business and population. As for leanness, it now surpasses any town in the State. The number of students attending Professor Taylor's school is quite large—say one hundred and fifty—all of whom are rapidly advancing in knowledge under the care of the principal. The citizens have not yet finished Maraudizing their streets, nor have they obtained that long-talked of Market House, which so troubled the editors of the Chronicle and Williamsport Gazette. Time, however, will no doubt accomplish it.

Yours Truly, TRAVELER.

Town Council.—This distinguished body of men have at last turned their attention to the subject of Cultivating the soil; under their special direction East Northampton Street, is now being plowed and excavated. As yet they have grown no corn or vegetables, but most of the buildings along the street, since they commenced their operations, have grown an additional storey in height. Well, this is an age of improvement, and the Town Council are no longer in being behind the age. That's right.—[Easton (Pa.) Sentinel.]

This singular epidemic seems to prevail in other places besides Easton, if we may judge from the appearance of some of our streets. But there's nothing like rising in the world.

The last Perry Freeman copies one of the popular series of articles on the "Credit System," written for the Chronicle eight months since, by Mrs. Sarah Hepburn Hayes, of this place; but gives the author's name as "Miss Sarah Hayes." This metamorphosis not being strictly in order, Judge BAKER will please make the proper correction, nunc pro tunc.

More Editors in the field. R. W. Weaver, Esq., of the Bloomsburg "Star," and J. G. Freese, Esq., of the "Democrat" are announced as candidates for Prosecuting Attorney of Columbia county. Well, gentlemen, we can't take sides in that contest, but we'll hold our hats, very cheerfully. What wearing and freezing there will be!

Millard Fillmore is the first President of the United States born in the nineteenth century.—[Ex. Paper.]

Not exactly. He was born January 7th in the year 1800, which was the last year of the 18th century, and not the first year of the present century, as you would have us believe.

The Bank of Northumberland has commenced issuing $10 bills from a new plate, to supply the place of the counterfeit $10 bills recently put into circulation. The new notes are beautifully executed. We are informed the cost of the plates was about five hundred dollars.

The Northumberland Democratic County Convention met on Monday last, and we learn, nominated Maj. Wm. L. Dewart for Congress, and re-nominated John B. Packer, Esq., for the Legislature.

The population of Danville appears to be only 3,300—at least 1500 less than when its works were prosperous. Sunbury numbers 1213—a gain, it is said, of 105 in ten years. At this rate the estimate of "K." in our last, that Lewisburg contains 3000, will fall 1000 or 1200 short.

Cotton Mills—Read the article on the first page—and save the paper for future reference. More anon on that subject.

This day the law goes into effect; under penalty of $25 fine against individuals passing them; which does not apply however, we believe, to those who receive them.

The vacant places in President Fillmore's Cabinet, have been filled by the following appointments: For the Department of the Interior, Hon. T. M. McKennan, of Pennsylvania; Secretary of War, Hon. Chas. M. Conrad, Louisiana. Both excellent selections.

The contract for building a Bridge across the West Branch of the Susquehanna, at Lock Haven, was awarded to Fleming & Kirkbride, on the 9th inst., for the sum of $21,300. The Bridge is to be finished on the 1st of October, 1851.

The Bill to admit California, passed the United States Senate on last Tuesday week by a vote of 34 yeas to 18 nays.

The CONVENTION appointed for the purpose, by the Democratic Meeting, held in the Grand Jury Room, at New Berlin, on the 12th inst., met by appointment at Lewisburg, on Saturday, the 17th inst., and after a free interchange of opinion, unanimously report the following ADDRESS, To the Democracy of Union County.

FELLOW CITIZENS:

It has become our duty to address you, briefly but plainly, on the subject of your political rights and the present posture of your political affairs. We are Democrats, deeply attached to the principles and usages of the Democratic party; and we have witnessed an attempt in this Commonwealth to crush these principles by the power of money, and to pervert, by low, corrupt intrigue, the time-honored organization of the Democratic party into an engine which shall destroy the sacred rights of the people.

The faction which has attempted and is now endeavoring to perpetrate this political fraud, has been for years laying its plans, drilling its forces, and perfecting its organization; an organization which if successfully established, must result in the complete destruction of the Democratic party. The first manifestation of its designs and mode of accomplishing them, was seen in the year 1845, when the organization of the Democratic party was broken, and its regular nominee defeated, and Simon Cameron was elected to the U. S. Senate by Whig votes—he being a democrat in name but false to the spirit and obligations of Democracy.

The bribery attempted at the late Williamsport Convention, furnishes another illustration of the operations and spirit of this same faction. Does this faction still exist? Look at the late delegate election in Philad. a county, (see the Pennsylvania of Aug. 12th,) where Wm. B. Rankin of Williamsport notoriously acted as inspector, and tried to cheat Democrats out of their votes, and that too for the apparent purpose of betraying the political power and influence of that District into the hands of this same faction. Look too at Millin county, where intrigue has been triumphant, and where allegiance to Simon Cameron is arrogantly proclaimed as the true test of Democracy.

But, Fellow Citizens, our more important and immediate business is nearer home. Here in Union county this same faction has attempted by disreputable means to override and suppress popular opinion, and defeat the people's will. But they have taken one step too many, and overreached themselves; they have added the final weight to a burden that had already become oppressive, and will now no longer be borne in silent submission. We have arrived at a crisis in our local political affairs when it behooves us to be on the alert, and firmly to resist encroachments upon our rights and liberty. This combination of desperate politicians, a leading branch of which is located in this county, is evidently prepared to sacrifice every principle of Democracy, in order to accomplish their selfish and mercenary purposes. Not satisfied with encroaching themselves from the spoils of office, and official influence, they now turn around and use the very means and influence thus acquired to destroy the purity, and value of the delegate system, suppress the voice of the people, and subvert that great Democratic party through which they obtained such large emoluments. Their own selfish interests is the exclusive object of their pursuit. They do not, in reality, profess to regard the principles and usages of the Democratic party, any further than they can use them for their own purposes. Priding themselves (at least the Chief of the faction in this county,) upon their pecuniary resources, as the only political or social principle of any value, and practically disregarding all others, they seem to consider themselves entirely above, and independent of, the rights, and opinions, and interests of the masses of the people—and look down upon those rights and opinions with cool and contemptuous indifference, and trample upon them, when it suits them to do so, with purse-proud, reckless insolence. These same men, as is well known, have for years past exerted every means in their power to control the elections of our State for sinister and mercenary purposes, and have invariably opposed the nominees of the party, when such as could not be controlled and used by them. The same game was lately tried in this county.

To prove this we need only refer to the recent delegate elections, and the proceedings of the self-styled Democratic Convention held in the Court House in New Berlin, on the 12th inst. So strong was the evidence of fraud and misrepresentation, and the common opinion of the gross injustice perpetrated in packing that convention, that fourteen out of forty delegates refused to go into the convention, and it is notorious that the wishes and preferences of at least four or five districts for whom delegates were present, were totally misrepresented in the action of the convention. It is so notorious as to need no argument that the votes given for the Congressional candidate by the delegates from Kelly, Lewisburg, East Buffalo, Centreville and White Deer, were directly the opposite of the wishes of the people of those districts, and if a fair, and open, and honorable choice of delegates had been made, no delegate in favor of that candidate could ever have been elected. But as Maj. Cummings candidly confessed, in his speech to the convention, that he did not visit those districts at all, the selection of those delegates was undeniably the work of this same faction.

Conscious that both themselves, and the candidate for whom they were secretly working, stood no chance at a fair election, they set to work and carried their point by trickery and deception—in some cases hurrying the election to a close long before a proper time; in others, getting men to serve as delegates under false pretences; and in others pledging themselves to a course the very opposite of that which they afterwards pursued. In one district bringing a single delegate to act for two, who was himself hardly a citizen, if his residence was not actually in an adjoining county; and in others carrying their delegates under circumstances that aroused the indignation of the upright and honest democrats of the districts who were thus disfranchised. In Lewisburg for instance, the leaders of this faction, afraid to trust themselves in the hands of the people, secretly picked upon two persons for delegates, (in opposition to the people's ticket of tried and trusty men,) one of whom had not yet established a political character, and the other an avowed Whig. They declared themselves to some in favor of the same Congressional candidate supported by the mass of the party in Lewisburg, and also gave most solemn pledges that they never would vote for Jack Cummings, thus deceiving many of the voters. They prevented the election being held by ballot, thus depriving the voters of a right "estimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only;" and by this means were enabled to brow-beat and coerce men, peculiarly situated, who were thus forced to vote contrary to their wishes, and against the dictates of their own judgment and conscience; and by this means placed rights and privileges which are dear to every American citizen—rights which every man ought to enjoy for himself—in the hands and control of one man or a faction of men.

If such methods of carrying an election are deemed infamous when resorted to by Whig iron masters, and Whig coal operators, we ask are they right and honorable when used by those who pretend to be Union county Democrats? But to cap the climax, as soon as the election closed and they found they had managed to carry the day, (quite a number of the best Democrats in the District, who were present, being so disgusted with the proceedings that they refused to vote at all,) they immediately voted down a resolution of instructions in favor of the very candidate for Congress whom they had just before most earnestly professed to support—thus speedily proving the falsity of their own professions.

In West Beaver, Whigs were permitted to vote so as to give this faction the delegates. In Centreville they rushed in their votes at an early hour, and then forcibly closed the election by driving the president from his chair, thus preventing the friends of the opposite candidate from polling their strength; they then tore up the tally paper and declared their own men duly elected and made out their credentials! And with these facts staring them in the face, they were admitted as delegates by the convention.

We have no objection to the vote received in Convention by Maj. Cummings, so far as it rightfully belonged to him—Maj. Cummings, as well as every other man, is entitled to all the political influence and popularity he can command, or may fairly acquire. But we protest against the action of the convention in nominating him, and repudiate its doings, because, as we have shown, that convention was but a fragment, and in any aspect, its action was not the voice of the Democracy of Union County. And we do not charge this result so much upon him, as upon the factious demagogues already referred to, whose instrument he certainly is, although (which is very doubtful,) he may not be aware of it. They no doubt seized upon Maj. Cummings as the fittest instrument with which to defeat an honest Union county Democrat; yet at the same time, they never dreamed of having him nominated by the conferees of the District. This is evidently no part of their plan. He was first to help cheat Union county out of the nomination, and then be laid down as a stepping stone for some other man to mount up to a Congressional nomination.

We protest against the unheard of manner in which the convention managed the appointment of conferees for this county; regarding it as a gross violation of popular rights. These conferees ought to represent the Democracy of Union county in the conference meeting. But instead of this, it seems they are not to be appointed by the Democracy, or even a fraction of them, but by Jack Cummings himself! They are to be the mere creatures of his will, to be labelled for his use, and disposed of just as he may see proper; to be sold, if necessary, to the highest bidder. It is to be hoped that he will not select any democrats of Union county as conferees, but from the skirts of the Williamsport convention, or the parlor of one of the large cities, pick out a pair of beautiful "Ovenshines," perfect matches, politically and morally, and with this splendid team commence his race through the old 13th Congressional district. One of them he may be certain—all true Democrats will "clear the track!"

We protest against the action of this convention in appointing a delegate to the next 4th of March State convention, as being premature at this time; a doubtful democrat having been selected, and no instructions given. Making it evident to our minds, that the design is to play "fast and loose" to suit the interests of this faction, and if needs be, sacrifice Col. Bigler, although he is the decided choice of nine-tenths of the Democracy of Union county.

We protest against this self-styled Democratic convention, and its doings, and refuse to recognize it—believing that it is substantially the result of the corrupt intrigues of this faction, and does not express the voice of the democracy of this county. And now, Fellow Citizens, shall we longer submit to be thus cheated out of our rights as members of the Democratic party, by a handful of men, who themselves have no political character or integrity, and no popular influence, except what they buy, or can compel by the grinding power of money? We say emphatically, NO! We are neither slaves nor cowards! and in the full confidence of the uprightness of our course, we have resolved to wage an open and organized warfare upon this faction (without regard to consequences, and in defiance of the threats which they have already dared to level at us) until the sins of the past are atoned for, and we are fully restored to the equal rights and privileges which belong to us as members of the Democratic party.

Do you want illustrations of the necessity and propriety of this course; or have you doubts of it? Look at the policy and deeds of this same faction, whose despotic will tolerates no freedom of opinion and action, who always require the most blind, unreasoning submission to their wishes from their friends and supporters, yet never hesitate to betray or sacrifice every man, whether friend or foe, who may happen to stand in the way of their selfish schemes—showing by their own perfidy and ingratitude, that they do not merit the fidelity and friendship of others.

They profess to be Democrats, yet always oppose the party, and defeat, or try to defeat its candidates, whenever it suits their purposes. To prove this assertion, and justify our present course, we need not go further back than the New Berlin convention, where this faction passed two resolutions—one in relation to the new Presidency; and the other to bolster up their own misdoings—but I care fully abstained from saying a single word in favor of the Democratic nominees for Canal Commissioner and Auditor and Surveyor General! Thus proving to the world their pre-conceived determination to defeat the Democratic candidates for these important offices; or at least suffer the election to go by default, and thus help the Whigs to an easy victory.

It is asking nothing unreasonable. We do not complain of any majority which may at any time be returned against us, provided that majority is fairly and honestly obtained. But we demand the freedom and purity of the elective franchise in our party proceedings; and we demand that our County Conventions shall fairly represent the Democracy of the county, and not be fraudulently packed to suit a corrupt faction. And we say in conclusion, that as the New Berlin convention resolved to give their "unflinching support" to their own doings, we have determined to array ourselves in an equally firm and "unflinching" hostility to the faction which wrongfully controlled it. To this determination we shall inflexibly adhere.

WAYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the Cure of COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, GHOUP, ASTHMA, WHOOPING-COUGH AND CONSUMPTION.

This truly valuable Remedy for diseases of the Lungs and Throat, has become the chief reliance of the afflicted, and is the most certain cure known for the above complaints. It is a most powerful remedial agent in desperate and almost hopeless cases of Consumption, and also, in diminutive doses, one of the mildest and most agreeable family medicines for common coughs and colds. Read below the opinion of men who are known to the world, and the world to their opinions.

From Rev. Dr. Hitchcock. James C. Ayer, Sir: I have used your Cherry Pectoral in my own case of deep-seated Bronchitis, and am satisfied from the beneficial results that it is an invaluable remedy for the relief of laryngeal and bronchial difficulties. If you permit me to be so particular, I will say that I have used it as a sedative, and as a stimulant, and in all cases, it has been attended with the most happy results.

From the London Lancet. W. A. B. Esq., writes: "I have used your Cherry Pectoral in my own case of deep-seated Bronchitis, and am satisfied from the beneficial results that it is an invaluable remedy for the relief of laryngeal and bronchial difficulties. If you permit me to be so particular, I will say that I have used it as a sedative, and as a stimulant, and in all cases, it has been attended with the most happy results."

From Dr. Brewster, of Wingham Co., Conn., sends us the following testimony: "I have used your Cherry Pectoral in my own case of deep-seated Bronchitis, and am satisfied from the beneficial results that it is an invaluable remedy for the relief of laryngeal and bronchial difficulties. If you permit me to be so particular, I will say that I have used it as a sedative, and as a stimulant, and in all cases, it has been attended with the most happy results."

From Dr. Bryant, Druggist and Postmaster, Chicago Falls, Mass.: "I have used your Cherry Pectoral in my own case of deep-seated Bronchitis, and am satisfied from the beneficial results that it is an invaluable remedy for the relief of laryngeal and bronchial difficulties. If you permit me to be so particular, I will say that I have used it as a sedative, and as a stimulant, and in all cases, it has been attended with the most happy results."

From Dr. J. C. Ayer, Druggist, Lowell, Mass.: "I have used your Cherry Pectoral in my own case of deep-seated Bronchitis, and am satisfied from the beneficial results that it is an invaluable remedy for the relief of laryngeal and bronchial difficulties. If you permit me to be so particular, I will say that I have used it as a sedative, and as a stimulant, and in all cases, it has been attended with the most happy results."

From Dr. J. C. Ayer, Druggist, Lowell, Mass.: "I have used your Cherry Pectoral in my own case of deep-seated Bronchitis, and am satisfied from the beneficial results that it is an invaluable remedy for the relief of laryngeal and bronchial difficulties. If you permit me to be so particular, I will say that I have used it as a sedative, and as a stimulant, and in all cases, it has been attended with the most happy results."
