Ministering Spirits.

We are told of "ministering spirits," by the lips that can not lie; and it were a sacrilege to doubt their mission. But they come never to terment or terrifythey held no communion with the eye or car of sense. In that solemn hour, when the soul hovers half way between two worlds, when the veil of earthly vision grows transparent with the dawning light of eternity, it may be-it must be-that revealings through that veil are sometimes

A little girl in a family of my acquaintance, a lovely and precocious child, los her mother at an age too early to fix the loved features in her rememberance. She was frail as beautiful; and as the bud of her heart unfolded, it seemed, as if won by that mother's prayers, to turn instinctively heavenward. The sweet, conscientious, and prayer-loving child was the idol of the bereaved family. But she faded away early. She would lie upon the lap of the friend who took a mother's kind care of her, and winding one wasted arm about her neck, would say, " Now tell me about my mamma!" And when the oft-told tale had been repeated, she would ask, softly, "Take me into the parlor, I want to see my mamma!" The request was never refused; and the affectionate sick child would lie for hours, contentedly gazing on her mother's portrait. But

Pale and wan she grew, and weakly -Bearing all her pains so meekly, That to them she still grew dearer, As the trial hour drew nearer."

The hour came at last, and the weeping neighbors assembled to see the little child die. The dew of death was already on the flower, as its life-sun was going down. The little chest heaved faintly-spasmodi-

" Do you know me, darling ?" sobbed, close in her ear, the voice that was dearest; but it awoke no answer. All at once a brightness, as if from the upper world, burst over the child's colorless countenance. The eyelids flashed open, the lips parted, the wan, cording hands flew up. in the little one's last impulsive effort, as she looked piercingly into the far above.

" Mother!" she cried, with surprise and transport in her tone-and passed with that breath to her mother's boson.

PURE FRESH COD Liver Oil.

WHIS new and valuable Medicine, now used by the medical profession with such astonishing efficacy in the cure of Palmonary Consumption Scrofula Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, general Debilety, Complaints of the Kidneys, &c. &c., is prepared from the liver of the OD-FISH for medicinal use, expressly or our sales.

[Extract from the London Medical Journal.] C. J. B. WILLIAMS, M. D., F.R.S., Professor of Medicine in University College, London, consulting physician to the Hospital for Consumption, &c, says; "I have prescribed the Oil in above four hundred cases of tuberculous disease of the Lungs, in different stages, which have been under my care the last two years and a half. In the arge number of cases, 206 out of 234, its use was followed by marked, unequivocal improvement, rarying in degree in different cases, from a temporary retardation of the progress of the disease and a mitigation of distressing symptoms, up to more or less complete restoration to apparent health. "The effect of the Cod Liver Oil in most of these cages was very remarkable. Even in a few days the cough was mitigated, the expectoration diminished in quantity and opacity, the night sweats ceased, the pulse became slower, and of better volume, and the appetite, flesh and strength were gradually improved "In conclusion I repeat that the pure fresh Oil from the Liver of the Cod is more beneficial in the treatment of Pulmonary Consumption than any agent, medicinel, dietetic or regimenal, that has yet been employed."

As we have made arrangements to pro cure the Cod Liver Oil fresh from head cription of CASTINGS is kept on quarters, it can now be had chemically pure, by the single bottle or in boxes of one dozen each.

Its wonderful efficacy has induced numrous spurious imitations. As its success depends entirely on its purity, too much care can not be used in procuring it GENU- Wood --- and all INE.
