SAML ANDERSON,

Lewisburg, May 29, 1850.

Three more dead bodies have been found in the river in this neighborhood. The first was a worken apparently 25 years old, found on the 20th inst., near the shore on Shamokin Island, between this place and Northumberland. An Inquest on the body was held the next day by Frederick Lazarus, Esq., of this place. Her dress was a blue ground calico with a vine in it, and open in front. A boy was discovered op Saturday last above Northumberland, and an Inquest held by Esq. Cake of that place. On Saturday last, we understand, a little girl was discovered in the bottom of the river, several miles above Northumberland. These are no doubt some of the victims of the catastrophe at Nescopec .-Sunbury American.

Pittsburg, Sept. 23 -The excitement nereases among our colored population in relation to the Fugitive Slave Law. Nearly all the waiters in the hotels have fled to Canada. Sunday thirty fled ; on Monday forty; on Tuesday fifty; on Wednesday therty; and up to this time the number that have left will not fall short of three hundred. They went in large bodies, armed with pistols and bowie knives, determined to die rather than surrender.

A young man named Steele, about eightern years of age, hung himself near Parkersburg, Va., a short time since. He had attended an execution by hanging, and afterwards repeatedly expressed his admiration of that manner of death.

THE WINTER SESSION OF THE

LEWISBURG ACADEMY WILL commence on MONDAY the 28th of OCTOBER. In this Institution, sli the Branches of a thorough Academic course will be not the sole design of Education and should not be made so; its highest aim is to strengthen and bring out into action, the intellectual and moral powers of the student. Throw around him all the facilities necessary to his progress, and af-ford him all proper aid, but do not flatter him with the thought that he must rely upon another and not upon his own efforts for success. Independent self-relience is one of the first lessons that should be learned in a school room. This kind of early mental training prepares one for vigorous and manly exertion in after life, and thus gives him a marked advantage over the ignorant and unedocated. The main efforts of a Teacher should, therefore, be directed to the fornation of sound habits of study, for when this end is reached, the progress of the pupil becomes
