PEPSIN:

The true DIGESTIVE FLUID or GASTRIC JUICE a great Dyspepsia Curer! repared from Rennet, or the fourth stomach of the Ox, after directions by Baron Liento, the great physiological chemist, by J.S. Hoventon, M.D., No. 11 N. 8th St. Philadelphia, Pa.

A TRULY wonderful remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Jaundier, Liver Complete. A Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Constipation and Debility, curing after Nature's own process, by Nature's own agent, the Gastric Juice. (1) Half a teaspoonful of this fluid infused in water, can digest or dissolve Five Pounds of roast beef in about two hours, out of the stomach.

Digestion is chiefly performed in the stomach by the aid of a fluid which freely exudes from the inner coat of that organ, when in a state of health, called the gastric juice. This fluid is the great solvent of the food—the purifying, preserving and stimulating agent of the stomach and intestines. Without it there can be no digestion no conversion of food into blood, no nutrition but rather a foul, torpid, painful and destructive condition of the whole digestive apparatus.

Pepsia is the chief element or great diges ing principle of the gastric juice. It is found in great abundance in the solid purts of the human stomach after death, and sometimes causes the stomach to digest or eat itself up. It is also found in the stomach of animals, as the ox, calf, &c. It is the material used by farmers in making chees styled Reunet, the effect of which has long been the special wonder of the dairy. Curdling of milk is the first process of digestion. A call's stomach can curdle nearly one thousand times its own weight of milk. Baron Liebig states, "one part of Pepsin dissolved in sixty thousand parts of water, dign-ts meat and other food." Diseased stomachs produce no good Gastric Juice, Rennet or Pepsin. To show that this want may be perfectly supplied, we quote the subjoined

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE! Baron LieBiC, in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, 237s. "An artificial digestive fluid, analogous to the transition digestive fluid, analogous to the transition of the stomach of the calf, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be softened and digested in the same manner as in the human stomach."

Br. BEREIRA, in his famous treatise on Food and Bict, published by Fowlers & Wells, New York, page 55, states the same great feet, and describes the method of preparapublished by Fowlers & Wells, New York, page 35, state the same great fact, and describes the method of prepar-tion. There are few higher authorities than Dr. Percria Dr. COMBS, in his valuable writings on the Physiolog of Digestion, observes that "a diminution of the du quantity of the district Juice is a prominent and all-pre-valled course of Dynamics." of Digastion, observes that "a diminution of the dequantity of the distric Juice is a prominent and all-prevailing cause of Dyspersia," and he states that "a distinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely affilicly with this complaint, finding everything else to fall, had recourse to the Gastric Juice, obtained from the stomach of living animals, which completely succeeded."

Dr. 616 MIAM, author of the famous works on Vegetable Diet, says: "It is a remarkable fact in physiology, that the stomache of animals, macerated in water, impart to the finish the property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestive process.

Br. 818 ION'S great work, the Chemistry of Man, Len & Bianchard, Philad, 1846, pp 521, "A) says: "The discovery of Pepsin forms a new crain the chemical history of Dression. From recent experiments, we know that food is dissolved as rapidly in an artificial digestive fluid, prepared from Popsin, as it is in the natural Gastric Juice diself."

Prof. Bl NGLISON, of the Jefferson College, Philad, in his great work on Human Physiology, devotes more than 5fty pages to an examination of this subject. His experiments with Pr. Beaumont, on the Gastric Juice, distance from the living human stomach and from animals, are known. "In all cases," he says, "digestion occurred as perfectly in the artificial as in the natural digestions."

Dr. Hoofland's Celebrated German Bitters, for the cure of Liver Complaint, Jaunetice, Dyspepsia, and Chronic or Nervous Bebility, is deservedly one of the most popular medicine of the day. These Bitters have been used by thousands, and a friend at our elbow says he has himself received from the use of this remedy an effectual, permanent cure of Liver Complaint. We are convinced that in the use of these Bitters, the patient consideration strongth and vigor—a fact worthy of great consideration.
They are pleasant in taste and smell, and can be used by persons with the most delicate stomachs, with safety under any circumstances. We are speaking from experience, and to the afflicted we advise their use.

Dr. Hootlan's German Betters, manufactured by Dr Jackson, are now recommended by some of the most prominent mombers of the Faculty, as an article of much efficacy in cases of famile weakness. As such is the case, we would advise all mosthers to obtain a bottle, and thus ave themselves much sickness. Persons of debilitated constitutions will find these litters advantageous to their leadth, as we know from experience the salutary effect they have upon weak systems.

De. Hosfand's German Bitterz.—Here is a preparation which the leading presses of the Union appear unanimous in recommending, and the reason is obvious. It is male after a prescription furnished by one of the most celebrated physicians of modern times—the late Dr. Christopher Wilhelm Hoofland, Professor to the University of Jena, Private Physician to the King of Prussis, and one of the greatest medical writers Germany has ever produced. He was emphatically the enemy of humbug, and therefore a medicine of which he was the inventor and endorser may be confidently relied on. He specially recommended it in Liver Complaint, Physpepsia, behility, Vertigo, Acidita eleter of the Stomach, Constipation, and all disordered condition of the appropriate of its effects from their own individual experience. Under these circumstances, we feel warranted, not only in calling the attention of our readers to the present proprietor (Dr. C. M. Jackson's) preparation, but in recommending the article to all afflicted.

Mong Evidence .- The Philadelphia Saturday Gazette, the best family newspaper published the United States, the editor says of Dr Hoofland's

German Bitters—

It is seldom that we recommend what are termed Patent Medicines to our readers' patronage and confidence, and, therefore, when we recommend Dr. Hooffand's German Bitters, we wish it to be distinctly understood that we are not speaking of the nostrums of the day, that are noised about for a brief period and are forgotten after they have done their guilty race of mischief, but of a medicine long established, universally prized, and which has met the hearty approval of the Faculty itself.

Evidence on evidence has been received (like Evidence on evidence has been received (like the foregoing) from all sections of the Union, the last 3 years, and the strongest testimony in its favor, is, that there is more of it used in the practice of the regular Physicians of Philadelphia, than of all other nostrums combined—a fact that can easily be established, and fully proving that a scientific preparation will meet with their quiet approval when presented even in this form. That this medicine will cure Lique Complaint and Dyspepsia, no one can doubt, after using it as directed. It acts specifically upon the Stomach and Liver. It is preferable to Calomel in all bilious discuss. The effect is immediate—they can be administered to FEMALE OF LYBANY with safety and reliable benefit, at any time.

Beware of counterfeits! This medicine has attained that character which it is necessary for all to attain to induce counter feiters to put forth a spurious article at the risk o the lives of those who are innocently deceived.

Look well to the marks of the Genuine. They have the written signature of C.M.JACKSO upon the wrapper, and the name blown in the bottle, without which they are spurious.
