" Possibly our sage western judges suffer unjust repreach at times," writes one who knows, " from the conduct of some of door East of Kine's Horel : among them; but having lived in their midst, I can bear witness to the truth o the following circumstances: A farmer, residing in this region, had remarked du- Delaine. ring the sittings of the Circuit Court, a part of his cornfield to be beaten down in a regular track of ten or twelve paces in length, as if by the ranging of some am mal to and fro. Anxious to detect the cause, he ensconced himself one day among the thick leaves, and observed, about the hour of adjournment, one of the judges cautiously approaching the spot. Arrived at the path, he commenced pacing it gravely up and down, with knit brow and air of cogitation, and at length, drawing a small chip from his pocket, he spat Factory in Connecticut, a large stock of fine on one side of it, balanced it an instant on his finger, flipped it up in the air, and watching it descend intently, exclaimed as cerdingly low. it fell, "Wet for defendant-dry for Brass Clocks. 30 hours. finest finished, 3 50 to 4 50 2 plaintiff;" then stooping down : " Plaintiff has it!" The former avoided all litigation from that moment!"

Tallowpathy.

In these days of Homeopathy, Hydropathy and other 'pathies, it is best to try all things and hold fast that which is good. The following prescription for a cold, has been taken from an old black letter book, A. D. 1430, and will, perhaps, suit the Silver Table Spoons, tastes of some, better than the new fash ioned cures for the same complaint.

Putte your feete in hot water As high as your thighes; Wrappe your head up in dannelle As lowe as your eyees.

Take a quart of rum'd graelle, When in bedde, as a dose : With a number four dippe, Well tallowe your nose.

I've flogged the fiery bulls of Bashan, and broken their horns off! Say! don't stand there, whistling and smoking, like a blackguard in a bar-room ; jest jump to me, and I'll take the conceit out of you, you darned old cooking store on wheels "

Do you know that there are some people who can never say a plain thing in a plain way? They must mince and mouth, and adopt the "high faluring" style in everything they do or speak. Of such was the old maid whom O laped encountered on a canal packet-boat. "Dil you ever see the Niagara Falls ?" said a lads passenger to her. "No I never met them but I've heard them highly spoken of ! As a entaract, merely, their reputition was

ANOTHER SCIENTIFIC WONDER!

The true DIGESTIVE FLUID or GASTRIC JUICE-a great Dyspepsia Curer! Prepared from Revnet, or the fourth stomach the Ox, after directions by Baron Lizato, the great physio ogical chemist, by J S. Hacoures, M.D., No. 11 N. 8th St Philadelphia. Pa.

A TRI LY wonderful remedy for Indigestion,
Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Liver Complaint,

own process by Nature's own agent, the Gastric Juice. Critalia traspoontul of this fluid infused in water, can digest or dissolve Five Pounds of roast beet in about two hours, out of the stomach Digestion is chiefly performed in the stom-ach by the aid of a fluid which treely exudes from ving and stimulating agent of the stomach and intestines. Without it there can be no digestion, no conversion of food into blood, no nutrition -but rather a foul, torpid, painful and destructive condition of the whole digretive apparatus. Pepsin is the chief element or great diges ing principle of the gastric juice. It is found in great about fance in the solid parts of the human stomach siter death, and sometimes causes the stomach to digest or eat itself up. It is also found in the atomach of animals, as the ox, call. &c. It is the material used by farmets in making cheese styled Rennet, the effect of which has long been the special wonder of the dairy. Curdling of milk is the first process of digestion. A call's s'omach can curdle nearly one thousand times its own weight of milk. Baron Liebig states, "one part of Pepsin di-solved in sixty thousand parts of water, dige-ts meat and other food " Diseased stomache produce no good Gastric Juice, Rennet or Pep-in. To show that this want may be perfectly supplied we quote the subjained

SCRENTIFIC EVIDENCE:

Baron LIEBIG, in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, 8432: "An artificial digestive fluid, analogous to the Gastrie Juice, may be readily prepared from the maccus in unbrane of the stomach of the calf, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be softened and digested in the same manner as in the human stemsch."

Br. BEREHA, in his famous treatise on Food and Dirt, published by Fowlers & Wells, New York, page 25, states the same great fact, and describes the method of preparation. There are few higher authoraties than Dr. Percrin. Dr. Codiffe, in his valuable writings on the Physiology of Digestion, clas-rives that "a diminution of the ducquantity of the disastric Juice is a prominent and all-prevailing cruse of Dyspensia," and he states that "a distinguished professor of maintine in London, sho was severely affliced with this complaint, finding everything else to fad, had recorrse to the Gastra Juice, obtained from the stomach of litting arimals, which completely recorded.

Br. GRAHAM author of the famous works on Vegelable Diet, says: "It is a remarkable fact in physiology, that the stomach is of animals, macerated in water, impart to the fluid freching a kind of artificial digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestive proces."

and of effecting a kind of artificial direction of them in newice different from the natural directive proces.

Bernstian's great work, the Chemistry of Man, (Iea & Blanchard, Phinal, 184e, pp. poll, b., says. "The discovery of Fepan forms a new era in the chemical history of Direction. From recent experiments, we know that food is dissolved as rapidly in an artificial direct we find, prepared from Pepsin, as it is in the natural Gastrie Juice itself.

Prof. DUNGLISON, of the Jefferson College, Philad, in his great work on Human Physiology, devotes more than fifty pages to an examination of this sudject. His experiments with Dr. Beaumont, on the Gastrie Juice, obtained from the living human stumsch and from animals, are known. "In all cases," he says, "direction occurred as perfectly in the artificial sin the natural digestions."

Persons of debilitated constitutions will find these Bitters advantageous to their health, as we know from experience the salutary effect they have upon weak systems.

Judge M.M. Noan, a gentleman of great scien the and literary attainments, said in his "New York

Weekly Messenger, Jan 6, 1950-Dr. Hassland's Germen Bitters.—Here is a preparation which the leading presses of the Union appear unanimous in recommending, and the reason is obvious. It is made after a pre-scription furnished by one of the most colebrated after a pre-scription furnished by one of the most celebrated physicians of modern times—the late Dr. Christopher Withelm Hordland, Professor to the University of Jenn, Private Physician to the King of Prussia, and one of the greatest medical writers Germany has ever produced. He was emphatically the enemy of hassing, and therefore a medicine of which he was the inventor and endorser may be confidently relied on. He specially recommended it in Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Pebrilty, Vertigo, Ackidity of the Stomach. Constitution, and all complaints srising from a disordered condition of the stomach, the Liver and the Intestiner. Nine Philadelphia papers express their conviction of its excellence, and several of their Editors speak of its effects from their own individual experience.

That this medicine will cure Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, no one can doubt, after using it as directed. It acts specifically upon the Stomach and Liver. It is preferable to Calemei in all labinar diseases. The effect is immediate—they can be administred to results or interaction.
