☞ A brother editor remarks, that he does not prepare a paper to be thrown aside without reading, as is done by many who take a paper, and, without ever knowing its contents, declare it is of no use to them. We hope our paper has no such patrons—we do, from the bottom of our——ink-stand.

See here, boys and girls, young men and maidens, how do you spend your leisure time? If you spend it in snoozing in some corner at home—in idle conversation about your neighbors, beaux, and "the girls"—in ignorant or angry disputation about religion or politics—in silly, shallow slang at stores, taverns, shops, kitchens, parlors, or elsewhere; if you spend time as foolishly as this, we can tell you a much better way. Go to your common fireside, and let some one of you read aloud, a good book, or magazine, or newspaper, and let all the others listen attentively. This will learn you to read, and give you more true knowledge, and more happiness, than a year of "loafing" among filthy, rude companions, or gabbling, ignorant girls. In this way you may please and benefit your parents, brothers and sisters, or your master and fellow apprentices or clerks. How many "idle words" are foolishly spoken—how many vicious thoughts and deeds, there are, consequent upon mis-spent time! In shops, if one person could read aloud, it would be infinitely better than the worthless conversation often carried on there. If you have any time to spare from work, from business, or from study, after taking sufficient exercise, and have not convenience at your hands, go to a library or reading room, and there spend your time and money. This you will never regret. But shun the billiard room, the grog-shop, and all the other varied haunts of vice and pollution, (by whatever names called,) as you would the gates of hell—Good advice!

Telegraphic Verbosity.

We hear frequent complaints of the brief, incomplete, and unsatisfactory accounts which the telegraph furnishes of events and proceedings in different parts of the country. It is said to furnish just enough to spoil the details when they come to hand. Much of truth as there is in this charge, we imagine the telegraph, or those, more properly, who cater to it lightning uses, are equally open to opposite complaint. Certainly, a great part of the matter published under the the head of telegraphic despatches is the most useless an unimportant stuff imaginable, which would not be noticed if received by due course of mail in papers, but which, as it is paid for at the rate of a cent a word or so, editors think they must spread out in their most prominent type.

A daily reader of city journals will not want for illustrations of this state of things but here is one, occurring in the Congressional report of the New York Journals that is more ridiculous than most of those we daily meet:

"Mr. Evans asked Mr. Fitch to yield the floor.

"Mr. Fitch positively refused.

"Mr. Evans said something.

"Mr. Fitch said something in reply."

Of what immense importance it is in these days of Congressional verbosity, I know that "Mr. Fitch said something," and Mr. Evans said something in reply!" What emotions do such startling sentences, charged to paragraphs, waken in the mind! How the soul thrills, as the great fact is translated to it, that "Mr. Evans said something," and what a yearning ache of feeling flows over it, as one is told the fact, comes the further solemn fact that "Mr. Fitch said something in reply!"—[Springfield Republican.

The Doctor and his Patient.

Some years ago, two English clergymen visited America. One of them was converted by the Rev. Dr. Patton to puseyism. Some years after, Dr. Patton had occasion to visit his proselyte at his own house. To the Dr.'s amazement, wine was upon the table at dinner, and this hopeful scholar partook, too. "What means this, brother; did you not learn to abstain in my country?" The challenged backs out from the total abstinence practice directed the Doctor to his medical man, who was also at the table, for an explanation. "Then it is by your prescription that my brother has betaken himself to wine again?" "It is, sir," was the reply. "How long have you been prescribing wine to my friend as a medicine?" "About seven years, I think." "And has it removed the disease?" I can not just say that it has." "Well, now," asked Dr. Patton, "is it your usual practice to continue the same medicine for seven years, when it does not succeed in removing the disease?" "I confess," was the reply, "that that is a thought that never struck me." Men never see their own inconsistencies when their appetites or interests are concerned.

Mrs. Swissheim gives the following unique character to George Lippard's writing. Lippard must feel highly complimented:

"We know no name for your style, and have not learned that my critic invented any other than the "Lippard Style," which must mean a style that requires the writer to be born with St. Vitus' dance, to be inoculated for the Delirium Tremens, take the nightmare in the natural way, get badly frightened at a collection of snakes, and write under the combined influence of these manifold causes of inspiration."

"I've seen your countenance before," as the rat said to an observant grimalkin.

ANOTHER SCIENTIFIC WONDER!

PEPSIN:

The true DIGESTIVE FLUID or GASTRIC JUICE—a great Dyspepsia Curer!

Prepared from Rennet, or the fourth stomach of the Ox, after directions by Baron LIEBIG, the great physiological chemist, by J. S. HOUGHTON, M.D., No. 11 N. 8th St. Philadelphia, Pa.

A TRULY wonderful remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Constipation and Debility, curing after Nature's own process, by Nature's own agent, the Gastric Juice. ☞ Half a teaspoonful of this fluid infused in water, can digest or dissolve Five Pounds of roast beef in about two hours, out of the stomach.

Digestion is chiefly performed in the stomach by the aid of a fluid which freely exudes from the inner coat of that organ, when in a state of health, called the gastric juice. This fluid is the great solvent of the food—the purifying, preserving and stimulating agent of the stomach and intestines. Without it there can be no digestion, no conversion of food into blood, no nutrition—but rather a foul, torpid, painful and destructive condition of the whole digestive apparatus.

Pepsin is the chief element or great digesting principle of the gastric juice. It is found in great abundance in the solid parts of the human stomach after death, and sometimes causes the stomach to digest or eat itself up. It is also found in the stomach of animals, as the ox, calf, &c. It is the material used by farmers in making cheese styled Rennet, the effect of which has long been the special wonder of the dairy. Curdling of milk is the first process of digestion. A calf's stomach can curdle nearly one thousand times its own weight of milk. Baron Liebig states, "one part of Pepsin dissolved in sixty thousand parts of water, digests meat and other food." Diseased stomachs produce no good Gastric Juice, Rennet or Pepsin. To show that this want may be perfectly supplied, we quote the subjoined

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE!

Baron LIEBIG, in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry says: "An artificial digestive fluid, analogous to the Gastric Juice, may be readily prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the calf, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be softened and digested in the same manner as in the human stomach."

Dr. BERZELIA, in his famous treatise on Food and Diet, published by Fowlers & Wells, New York, page 55, states the same great fact, and describes the method of preparation. There are few higher authorities than Dr. Berzelia.

Dr. COMBE, in his valuable writings on the Physiology of Digestion, observes that "a diminution of the due quantity of the Gastric Juice is a prominent and all-prevailing cause of Dyspepsia," and he states that "a distinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely afflicted with this complaint, finding everything else to fail, had recourse to the Gastric Juice, obtained from the stomachs of living animals, which completely succeeded."

Dr. GRAHAM, author of the famous works on Vegetable Diet, says: "It is a remarkable fact in physiology, that the stomachs of animals, macerated in water, impart to the fluid the property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestive process."

Dr. SIMON, in his great work, the Chemistry of Man, (Lea & Blanchard, Philad., 1846, pp 542, 543,) says: "The discovery of Pepsin forms a new era in the chemical history of Digestion. From recent experiments, we know that food is dissolved as rapidly in an artificial digestive fluid, prepared from Pepsin, as it is in the natural Gastric Juice itself."

Prof. DUNGLISON, of the Jefferson College, Philad., in his great work on Human Physiology, devotes more than fifty pages to an examination of this subject. His experiments with Dr. Beaumont, on the Gastric Juice, obtained from the living human stomach and from animals are known. "In all cases," he says, "digestion proceeded as perfectly in the artificial as in the natural digestions."

As a DYSPEPSIA CURER, Dr Houghton's preparation of Pepsin has produced the most marvelous effects. It is impossible to give details of cases in the limits of this advertisement—but authenticated certificates have been given of more than TWO HUNDRED rapid, wonderful, and permanent cures. It is a great NERVOUS ANTIDOTE, and particularly useful for tendency to bilious disorder, liver complaint, fever and ague, the evil effects of quinine, mercury, &c., also for excess in eating or drinking.

There is no form of OLD STOMACH COMPLAINTS which it does not reach and also give instant relief! and repeated for a short time, purity of Blood and VIGOR OF BODY follow at once. It is particularly excellent in cases of nausea, vomiting, cramps, soreness of the pit of the stomach, distress after eating, low, cold state of the blood, heaviness, lowness of spirits, despondency, emaciation, weakness, tendency to insanity, &c.

Price, ONE DOLLAR per bottle. One bottle often effects a lasting cure.

For convenience of sending to all parts of the country, the Digestive Matter of the Pepsin is put up in the form of Powders, with directions to be dissolves by the patient in water or syrup. These powders contain just the same matter as the bottles, but twice the quantity for the same price, and are sent by mail, Free of Postage, for $1, sent (post-paid) to Dr. J. S. Houghton, No. 11 North Eighth St. Philadelphia. Six packages for $5.

CAN BE EFFECTUALLY CURED BY

DR. HOOFLAND'S CELEBRATED GERMAN BITTERS, prepared by

Dr. C. M. Jackson,

at the "German Medicine Store,"

120 Arch St. Philad.

Their power over the above diseases is not excelled, if equalled, by any other preparation in the United States, as the cures attest, in many cases after skilful physicians had failed.

These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids. Possessing great virtues in the rectification of diseases of the Liver and lesser glands, exercising the most searching POWERS in weakness and affections of the digestive organs, they are without a safe, certain and pleasant.

Read AND BE CONVINCED.—The Hon. Chs D Hineline, editor of the Camden Democrat, the best paper in West Jersey, says, July 21st—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.—We have seen many flattering notices of this medicine, and the course whence they came induced us to make inquiries respecting its merits. From inquiry we were persuaded to use it, and must say we found it specific in its action upon diseases of the liver and digestive organs, and the powerful influence it exerts upon nervous prostration is really surprising. It calms and strengthens the nerves, bringing them into a state of repose, making sleep refreshing—it will of itself recommend itself. It should, in fact, be in every family. No other medicine can produce such evidences of merit.

From the Boston Bee—editorial, Dec 22d—

Dr. Hoofland's Celebrated German Bitters, for the cure of Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, and Chronic or Nervous Debility, is deservedly one of the most popular medicines of the day. These Bitters have been used by thousands, and a friend of ours informs us he has himself received from the use of this remedy an effectual, permanent cure of Liver Complaint. We are convinced that, in the use of these Bitters, the patient constantly gains strength and vigor—a fact worthy of great consideration. They are pleasant in taste and smell, and can be used by persons with the most delicate stomachs, with safety under any circumstances. We are making from experience, and to the afflicted we advise their use.

Scott's Weekly, one of the best literary papers published, said, Aug 25th—

Dr. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, manufactured by Dr Jackson, are now recommended by some of the most prominent members of the Faculty, as an article of much efficacy in cases of female weakness, &c. &c. In fact, we would advise all mothers to obtain a bottle, and thus save themselves much sickness. Persons of debilitated constitutions will find these Bitters advantageous to their health, as we know from experience the salutary effect they have upon weak systems.

Judge M. M. NOAH, a gentleman of great scientific and literary attainments, said in his "New York Weekly Messenger, Jan 6, 1850—

Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters.—Here is a preparation which the leading press of the Union appear unanimous in recommending, and the reason is obvious. It is made after a prescription furnished by one of the most celebrated physicians of modern times—the late Dr. Christopher Wilhelm Hoofland, Professor to the University of Jena, Private Physician to the King of Prussia, and one of the greatest medical writers Germany has ever produced. He was emphatically the enemy of Academy, and therefore a medicine of which he was the inventor and endorser may be confidently relied on. He specially recommended it in Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Debility, Vertigo, Acidity of the Stomach, Constipation, and all complaints arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, the Liver and the Intestines. Nine Philadelphia papers do the same. Conviction of its excellence, and several of their editors speak of its effects from their own individual experience. Under these circumstances, we feel warranted, not only in calling the attention of our readers to the patent proprietor (Dr. C. M. Jackson) preparation, but in recommending the article to a trial himself.

MORE EVIDENCE.—The Philadelphia Saturday Gazette, the best family newspaper published in the United States, the editor says of Dr Hoofland's German Bitters—

It is seldom that we recommend what are termed Patent Medicines to our readers' patronage and confidence; and, therefore, when we recommend Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, we wish it to be distinctly understood that we are not speaking of the nostrums of the day, that are noised about for a brief period and are forgotten after they have done their guilty race of mischief, but of a medicine long established, universally prized, and which has met the hearty approval of the Faculty itself.

Evidence on evidence has been received (like the foregoing) from all sections of the Union, the last 3 years, and the strongest testimony in its favor, is, that there is more of it used in the practice of the regular Physicians of Philadelphia, than of all other nostrums combined—a fact that can easily be established, and fully proving that a scientific preparation will meet with their quiet approval when presented even in this form. That this medicine will cure Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, no one can doubt, after using it as directed. It acts specifically upon the Stomach and Liver. It is preferable to Calomel in all bilious diseases. The effect is immediate—they can be administered to FEMALE or INFANT with safety and reliable benefit, at any time.

Beware of counterfeits!

This medicine has attained that character which it is necessary for all to attain to induce counterfeiters to put forth a spurious article at the risk of the lives of those who are innocently deceived.

Look well to the marks of the Genuine.

They have the written signature of C.M. JACKSON upon the wrapper, and the name blown in the bottle, without which they are spurious.

BRANT'S PURIFYING EXTRACT

Is now put up in QUART BOTTLES, and is of the same medical strength and efficacy as that in the small bottles.

The great superiority of THIS PURIFIER over SARSAPARILLA and all other similar medicines, may in some measure be understood from the following facts: FIRST—because it not only possesses, in portions of its medication, the PECULIAR EXCELLENCE of more strongly, more powerfully concentrated, and larger quantities of each of these ingredients in each bottle of it than can be found in any bottle of medicine, called Extract of Sarsaparilla.

But, SECONDLY—because THIS PURIFIER also possesses the medical efficacy and healing virtues of several other Roots, Barks, and Vegetables,

the PURIFYING properties of which are greatly superior to Sarsaparilla, and when these are compounded with Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock, Cherry, and Sassafras, they make the most effective and certain and active Purifier of the Blood in the world. So true is this, that to have every desired medical effect, the DOSE is Only One Tablespoonful, three times a Day.

But it is not so with Extract of Sarsaparilla, for in consequence of its medicines (in large bottles) being so much weakened and reduced the DOSE of Sarsaparilla has to be Two, Three, or More Tablespoonfuls—THREE, FOUR, or MORE times a Day, to have any medical effect; and as a bottle of Sarsaparilla only holds sixty four spoonfuls, therefore, so many spoonfuls at a dose, and so many doses a day, will use up a bottle of it in which show that a bottle of Brant's Purifier, will last from Twelve to Sixteen DAYS longer than a bottle of Sarsaparilla; and if its daily medical efficacy (in small doses,) be in PURIFYING and HEALING as the daily large doses of Sarsaparilla, then it PROVES that ONE bottle of this PURIFIER is worth Three, Four, or Five times more than a bottle of Sarsaparilla.

The above comparism does not yet show the great difference in value between the medical efficacy of BRANT'S PURIFIER and SARSAPARILLA. This will appear by the certificates of cures in Brant's Pamphlets, showing that has more efficacy, and cures more impure blood Cases, than TEN Bottles of Sarsaparilla.

If, then, ONE BOTTLE of PURIFIER sells for ONE DOLLAR, One Bottle of Sarsaparilla should sell for TEN CENTS.

CANCEROUS SCROFULA

MR. J. B. HASKIN of Rome, Oneida Co., N. Y., who was cured of Scrofula in 1836, swears to the facts as stated here, in an affidavit in the Supreme Court in the City of New York, on the 26th of December, 1849, under the following circumstances:

A person in the City of New York had manufactured and vended a spurious article of medicine, calling it BRANT'S INDIAN MEDICINE, in imitation of the genuine article. He
