Row a Constable made his first Levy. In one of the interior counties of Tennessee, an illiterate man name Jake Short. who of law matters, it might truly be said SURGEON DENTIST, - "did not know as much as the law allows him"-by some chance was elected constable.

The next day he was met by a neighbor striding like a military officer, with his saddle-bags on his arm.

"Hold on, Jake," says be.

"The wheels of government never stop!

"Going to make a levy?" "Yes, got the document in my saddle bags." "You had better look out, the last man in, lost by not doing his business according to law." "Can't catch me, I'm up to how it's done," answered the new made official, proudly, never turning his head as he strode along. "Let me see," soliloquizes he, "I am to distrain for rent, attach all the property I can lay hands on."

age? a pillar of the State must have sharp eyes-government expects it." After seeing about the house and bushes for some time, he espied an antiquated porker and her little enes.

"Ahem-I've got'em-I say I'm some" -he ejaculated, as he crept slily around and eaught the unsuspecting porker by the kink in her narratice, that he might lay hands on, and go according to law, (for he had seen a prisoner taken by slapping him on the shoulder while the process was read,) shouting (as he had heard at Court)-"Hear ye-Hear ye-Hear ye-I attach you." All this time the porker was "up and doing" her best licks, but Jake's motto being "never give it up so," hung on to "the forlorn hope like death to a departed colored gentleman."

The poet thus beautifully describes a similar catastrophe :

"Jack fell down, and Jill came tumbling after." The perker fell-and a wheel of government was suddenly heels over head, making a six feet measure, and fracturing some ican. The porker, owing, perhaps, to her having more propellers than the pillar, got under way first, and the little ones doing a small specimen of migrating all the time. "Not a very profitable office," groaned Jake, as he surveyed his dilapidated habiliments. "But a sworn officer and to his duty, and go according to

He now went it strong-it was "nip and take for about a quarter, he then gained, duck on a June bug," nabbing the porker by the organ of hearing.

"I r y Hear y - Hear ye-I command you to appear at is o'clack on Saturday next at Sam Parker's grocery-(the porker was coung ther double on it's in the little causer of beinge, Jake looked around for the lattle ones-not one of which was be seen) and bring with you that pasrlo of cussed pigs, for in the eyes of the law you are accountable for 'em : fail not under pain of the penalty laid down in sworn officer, as the law directs."

A he had done his duty, he loosed his A he had done his duty, it hold; the porker no doubt being accounta-fail to please. JA Lewisburg, Feb. 1851 ble for the appearance of the little ones was in so great a hurry to join them, that she got her head bothered with the understanding of Jake, and sad to relate, " a pillar of the State" fell and great was the fall thereof.

The next day the following was found sticking on a tree: NOTICE.

At Sam Parker's Grocery at 9 o'clock on Saturday next, I will expose an old sow, and a passle of pigs, more or lesswho will appear as the Law directs to be distrained for rent.

It is selden that we recommend what are termed Fair-ent Medicines fo our readers patronnes and confidence; and, therefore, when we recommend Dr. Reedmark Ger-nau flitters, we wish it to be distinctly understood that we are not speaking of the mostrums of the day, that are neised about for a brief period and are furgotten after they have done that goally race of mischief, but of a medicine long established, universally prized, and which has not the hearty approval of the Faculty itself. Evidence on evidence has been received (like there is more of it used in the practice of the regular Physicians of Philadelphia, than of all other restrums resultines.— fact that can easily be established, and fully proving that a scientific preparation will meet with their quiet approval when presented even in this form. That this medicine will care hive Complaint and Dyspessia, no one can doubt, after using it as directed. It acts specifically upon that Scienness and Liver. It is preferable to raisoned in all hissans sinceres. The effect is immediate—they can be estiministered to research or experimental and reliable benefit, of any time.

Beware of counterfeits! This medicine has attained that character which it is necessary for all to attain to induce counterfeiters to put forth a spurious article at the risk of the lives of those who are innocently deceived. Look well to the marks of the Genuine.

They have the written signature of C.M.Jackson opon the wrapper, and the name blown in the bottle, without which they are spurious.
