CHRONTCI TRWSBIR,

H. C. HICKOK, Editor. O. N. WORDEN, Printer. LEWISBURG, UNION COUNTY, PENN., WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, 1851.

Volume VIII., Number 17. Whole Number --- 381.

AN INDEPENDENT FAMILY JOURNAL.

in the formation of the occur, was to fix a waste I have ever looked upon.

swell the number of visitors.

healthful influences of this favored resort. peets, knowing that when he is under the They talk as though the presence of me- sed, the family tie must be broken, and chanics polluted the air. I pity such erea- they separated from all the heart loves. tures, and am greatly mistaken if their But I must change my subject. 11 species is not doomed to come to an end o'clock, A. M., is the fashionable bathing but intelligence and purity of character, warm up again. From the bathing hour among the hotels and boarding houses, are not so often the result of accident, and till the dinner hour, I sat listening to venting their discontent on the good things pointing to them with my cane, "have a joint laps, and distribute the shares. Nothing their discontent on the good things pointing to them with my cane, "have a joint laps, and distribute the shares. Nothing their discontent on the good things pointing to them with my cane, "have a joint laps, and distribute the shares. Nothing their discontent on the good things pointing to them with my cane, "have a joint laps, and distribute the shares. Nothing the property of the the strength and brilliancy of these higher dinner table at Cape May is to me a place secwling look to windward. and nobler graces of our natures. Cape of great self denial. To make a plain din- For my part I had been tossed about the times, and of society. An old gentle- is best adapted to my stemach, amid the against its rocks and snags, to think much man from Philadelphia is here spending innumerable luxuries surrounding me, in- of a little compulsory tranquillity. On it took from four to six days to reach the beginning with turtle soup and ending amusing to watch the characters of my half dozen of wealthy Philadelphia families tite becoming a philosopher. After din- ted with one or two of them, as if we were many of them sufficiently large to accom- poor to afford them any picking; so they fell ter with vehemence, and passed a unani. her present position was, and bestowing a indifferent disposition, spoke nothing but near liftle sitting room where his mother to 2000 persons. Buildings here are large, get through with by tea time; then a out of the way in traveling." but not elegant; paint can not be used for walk on the beach, a chat with a few "I never do," replied the gentleman I moment his eyes rested on his sister's face, lowing is the dialogue that took place be- are very unlucky, don't you?" impregnated with salt as to destroy lead the arms of Morpheus, sweetly dreaming actor everywhere the same. You may was calm and satisfied. No smiles were into common English. and oil in a very short time. White wash of home and absent dear ones. Such is a witness the same kind of absurdity among exchanged, such as might have befitted "Where are you from,my little lass?" is substituted for paint, and at a distance day at Cape May for me.

There is here very little clear, bright means of their gratification are at hand. flings upon it here a different color. I at nothing but the girl; and the girl "From New York! What were you stick was going to hit me?" sun shine, such as we have in the interior. Crabbing, fishing, gunning, bowling sa- wish I could see something strange." | smoothed his hair with her fingers, ar- doing there ?" The air is almost constantly filled with loons, billiard tables, shuffle boards, nis which remarks and breathing "Keeping my father's room, sir; he is late, you would not have been in such a Perhaps, my dear sir," said I, blandly, ranged his threadbare dress, and breathing "Keeping my father's room, sir; he is late, you would not have been in such a property of the said of th

Issued on Wednesday mornings at Lewisburg. damp and soft. I have slept between ap foolish, are here in abundance. In mat-shall undertake to prove it. Let us peep the boy was probably four years younger. Union county, Pennsylvania.

TERMS-$1.50 per year, for cash actually in advance; $1.75, if paid within a parently damp sheets every night since I ters of dress, it is the custom to $1.75, if paid within a parently damp sheets every night since I ters of dress, it is the custom to $1.75, if paid within a $1.75, if pai Advinished a reason of the same ladies in four and five difference or debility of the nervous system, where regular grade frem fine to rich, richer, Communications of the same ladies or debility of the nervous system, where regular grade frem fine to rich, richer, the same ladies or debility of the nervous system, where regular grade frem fine to rich, richer, the same ladies in four and five difference or debility of the nervous system, where regular grade frem fine to rich, richer, the same ladies in four and five difference or debility of the nervous system, where regular grade frem fine to rich, richer, the same ladies in four and five difference or debility of the nervous system, where regular grade frem fine to rich, richer, the same ladies in four and five difference or debility of the nervous system, where regular grade frem fine to rich, richer, the same ladies in four and five difference or debility of the nervous system, where regular grade frem fine to rich, richer, the same ladies in four and five difference or debility of the nervous system, where regular grade frem fine to rich, richer, the same ladies in four and five difference or debility of the nervous system, where regular grade frem fine to rich, richer, the same ladies in four and five difference or debility of the nervous system, where regular grade frem fine to rich, richer, the same ladies in four and five difference or debility of the nervous system, where regular grade frem fine to rich, richer, the same ladies in four and five difference or debility of the nervous system, where regular grade frem fine to rich, richer, the same ladies in four and five difference or debility of the nervous system, where regular grade frem fine to richer. there is no ulceration of the lungs, the sea richest. This constant, senseless change, breeze and sea bathing have a good effect. employs much of the time that should be storm is not down a single breath, and it my bottle of wine " weted to Hessar C. Hickor, Esq., Editor—and those on business to 0. N. Womber, Pathisher.

Office on Market street, between Second and Third, over the Post Office.

O. N. Womber, Progressor.

by the advice of physicians, it is for and mind. The Bloomers have not made ter all !" chronic affections of the bowels, or general their appearance yet on the Island, but Then there were hurrying steps, and young woman would awake, and I cardebility without any apparent disease, they are expected every day. Indeed if I clamming doors, the flitting lights through nestly hoped—I confess the fact—that she are expected every day. Indeed if I clamming doors, the flitting lights through nestly hoped—I confess the fact—that she are expected every day. Indeed if I clamming doors, the flitting lights through nestly hoped—I confess the fact—that she are expected every day. Indeed if I clamming doors, the flitting lights through nestly hoped—I confess the fact—that she are expected every day. Indeed if I clamming doors, the flitting lights through nestly hoped—I confess the fact—that she are expected every day. Correspondence of the Lexisburg Chronical debility without any apparent disease. The large through with everything the whole house; then hasty reckonings, might prove to be as pretty as I was sure who would find me a passage to France, only half doing it. So you are always Cape Island, N. J., July 14, 1851. Curome affections of the chest are better were a nady, and shrugs, she was disconsolate. You may suppose, who would mad me a passage to France. only half doing it. So you are always complaining of ill luck. Now this very Mr. Entron: When I left home I did removed at the various mineral springs, ance in the Biother style, to showing a not intend visiting this place; but when In the mere substantials of life, that is, much of the upper end of the body as the and fights with the sleeves of greateouts; therefore, that it was with some anxiety I him, and nobody could understand what fault of yours is the cause. No doubt it are carried almost irresistibly to Cape that the heart of man, or rather the stom- enough of that. are carried almost irresistibly to Cape that the heart of man, or rather the sions chould be with an erection of the May; whether in the pursuit of health or ach of the epicure, could desire, for more forms homeless, clinquing the land of the everything promptly and in its proper recreation, the tide of popular feeling, full information on that subject I enclose Ocean. To this end I have been endeay forms, bonneted, yet shapeless, clinging daughters of Eve. She was obviously the there, tends strongly, I may say over you a bill of fare, [too voluminous to cring to contemplate it; in other words to to stout arms, as we all floated out into mother of the two children, but although time—God sends him. Father told us whelmingly, toward the cool sea breeze print, Etc.] Where they get all their run my mind out upon its rolling surface, the night whelmingly, toward the coor sea breeze print, tand the invigorating surf. They appear good things from, I am at a loss to know, and down into its deep caverns. But the "The diet is deserted," said my friend, quite as helpless and dependent as the litto take it for granted that the chief design for this is the most desert, barron looking more I have thought, and gazed, the more "pro loco et tempore."

great bathing establishment at Cape May.

You may want to know how 4000 per. grandour, the may want to know how If a man is crossed in love, makes a bad sons spend their time in such a place as mighty wheely regard thein speculation, or takes the gout, he is off to this. My way of doing it I will give you, place, such as I am master on, is so that the stand. Its virtues are as potential in by giving you this day's experience as far and palsied to give utterance to the over ted, loring one another, and ourselves lost habit, the authority and duties of the pathod the pathod to give utterance to the over ted, loring one another, and ourselves lost habit, the authority and duties of the pathod to give utterance to the over ted, loring one another, and congled vigorously; you will not have so much ill luck to the cure of heart-aches as too-aches. If a as the day is spent. Before the sun made whelming awe inspired by its thunder tones, in the unsteady crowd. woman takes a fit of hysteries (which they bis appearance I was strolling down the tell me is not a rare thing about the was sea altere, some three miles, picking up tering season.) though the husband may sea shells and Cape May diamonds. As I have resisted all former entreaties, he passed along in my walk, I came across knocks right under, and the next boat for several wrecked vessels that afforded me cinen on board. A speedy cure, though not a speedy return is generally the result.

Something and and melancholy in the ap- to join in plunging into the boding surf-(not pearance of a ship, wrecked and broken exactly "boding." cither:)—delightful, is n't it! thing that stirred and winced at the conthe solitary family eat. Two or three of To me the Cape May fever in Philadelphia upon the sand. How piereing must be but! am not one of those, just now being com-To me the Cape May lever in Philadelphia and the Cape May lever in Philadelphia and the control of the news that informs the sailor's humble pelled to stay here all summer and signing to sail three several cadences, as if it had three other, and suggested the propriety of our did you get to her?" young the old, the gay, the grave, the siek, family of the loss of their protector, he to the well, the rich, the poer, and even the whom they have always looked for bread. maimed, the halt, and the blind, all turning. When the rich and the great fall, the their faces toward the ocean, as though it world mourns; but I cannot conceive how were a modern Bethesda which need but any grief can be as bitter and heart breakbe entered to drive away all the aches and iteg as that which must overwhelm the sorrows that our poor fallen humanity is family of the poor man, when he who has heir to. Alas, how many are doomed to labored for them, and suffered for them. disappointment! The reduced fare from is suddenly stricken down; the wife left Philadelphia, now only one dollar, car. friendless, the children without bread. riage hire included, has done much to driven and scattered abroad without any one to care for them. If my heart has well the number of visitors.

One to care for them. If my heart has This reduction of fare is a matter of ever known the bitterness of grief, it has great annovance to the aristocracy. I been when I have seen the tear of the heard one saying that it was much more widow, mingled with those of her children. pleasanthere when fare was high. They fall upon the plain coffin of him whose could then monopolize to themselves the death has crushed all their worldly pros-in America ere our children become old, hour. Yielding to fashion and enstom, I Perhaps no one thing tends more rapidly of course took my place in the dominions After a long continental ramble, I was to the breaking up of these foolish dis. of old Atlantic. At that hour the breakers glad to have the prospect of getting home tinctions in society than the cheapness and are in fine order, and the thousands of ba- again; but an embargo was laid upon me facility of travel. The railroad car, and there had a delightful time. The trouble at Boulogue. It blew great guns from the the steamboat, are doing more in one year is, you become so excited in battling with opposite side of the Channel. The genius towards counlizing society, than all the the waves, and so charmed with the de- of Albion was not just then in the mood preachers of socialism combined could lightful sensations produced by the rolling for receiving visits, or welcoming the rebring about in a century. I trust the day waters that you are apt to remain in too turn of absentees; and so the steam-packet is not far distant when men will be es- long. Some remain in for half an hour. lay fretting in the harbor, and rubbing teemed for what they are and not, as now, Five minutes, however, suffices me. I fear her sides previshly against the pier; while for what they have. A fool may be rich, after a half hour's bath I should never her intended passengers were distributed cleaks. but intelligence and purity of character, warm up again. From the bathing hour among the hotels and boarding houses, should therefore, entitle their possessors Johnson's brass band discoursing sweet of the table d'hote, and mounting every to esteem, and to rank in proportion to music from the portico of our Hotel. The now and then to the garret to throw a his 42d season. When he first came here cluding some thirty varieties of dishes, the second day I rather liked it. It was place. The same distance is now traveled with fine ripe peaches and cream; I say, companions stealing out from beneath the in five hours. Formerly at a cost of from to make a plain dinner under such circum- veil of conventionalism; and it was better $15 to $20; now the fare is one dollar. A stances, requires a crucifying of the appe- than amusing to become actually acquaincomposed the company. Now you see ner, a short nap was indulged in, then a indeed men and women, and not the mere thousands, of every condition in life, bath- ride up the beach with a real full blooded automata of society. Taking them in the ing in the cooling surf at once. Shoema- Jersey team. Before we got far we were mass, however, a good deal of the distinctkers, tinkers, beat-builders, doctors, law- met by swarms or large green flies, that ion observable among them depend on the vers, and the rest of mankind, are all rep- went to work introducing themselves to mere circumstance of age. We old genresented here to the number of thousands. the passengers in a manner that left very tlemen sat coolly sipping our wine after Where a few rude shanties inhabited by fine impressions, if not the best feelings, dinner, rarely alluding in conversation to wreckers once stood, you now see quite a They were something like our horse fly. our pleasant dilemma; while the green respectable looking town, containing five They may be such here, but in this in- hands, after a whirl round the billiard-tachurches, and some twenty-five hotels, stance our horses were unfortunately too ble, drank their glasses of brandy and wamodate 300 to 400 guests. The accommo- upon us, and not liking the short-sword mous vote of censure on the Captain for slight, sweeping glance upon the bystand- German. The little boy answered only was at work, he was crying and complaindations are still considered insufficient to exercise of these Jersey greens, we beat a his breach of faith and unsailor like tim ers, the ship, and the gloomy sky, she with a negative or affirmative. The coming bitterly. meet the wants of the crowds that annu-retreat, having, as we think, consecrated idity. ally flock here; and measures are now Poverty Beach with our blood. After "This is pleasant!" said I, smiling at neous matters, and with a gentle hand, and words of French, and some of English, and wood, and a great stick flow up and hurt under way to build another monster hotel, such a conflict, I felt it my duty to comone of these outbreaks, which occurred some whispered words, extracted from his we were able to understand what she told my hand so. You know it's just my luck." large enough to room and board from 1800 mence this epistle to you, which I want to late at night, "one always meets something bed of rags, a small, pale, little boy. The us with no more difficulty than arose from "Come and sit down by me, James, I

But in most cases where persons are here spent in rational, heathful exercise of body is pitch dark! The captain's a trump af-lost have I become amid the vastness, the "Only the venue changed to shipboard," little girl, who kissed it affectionately in in the formation of the ocean, was to have a waster made ever honsel upon.

You may want to know how 4000 per-grandour, the majesty and subdimity of its gasped I against the wind. "Yes, and more than that! He bought the dutiful morning fashion of Fatherland; some bread with a penny as he went along, it far easier after a little while to do

Yours with a headache.

Oh for the Souls of Olden Time!

Oh for the Souls of olden time! When, clad in peace, they stood sublime, Long taught by Christ before them-Nor gold nor jewels had they, then,

To hamper and enslave them, But wealth of bonest, free-born men., The wealth that goodness gave them.

Oh for the Hands so strong in Right! That, like strange magic near them, When battling in the fiercest fight, Caused cruel Wrong to fear them; heirs was a fight of moral strength,

For man's just elevation From tyrants' feet, and placed at length Upon his birth-right station. Oh for the Joys of olden time!

And for the hours that crowned them, When Touth and Justice stood subline Dispensing blessings 'round them; When bright in peaceful glory shom The rich and jour alike then, raw lads like these every day at home; their age; no remark on the novel circumgives the town a handsome appearance. To those more fond of excitement, the and it is only your own imagination that stances of their situation. The boy looked York."

Begut themselves to strike then. CARL. From Chambers' Journal.

The Child Commodore.

mist, which penetrates everything. Some to galleries, ball alleys, social hops, mag- "you never look! For my part very him his hands, polished them with her a journeyman."

LEWISBURG CHRONICLE kers have some trouble to keep their Ha- nificent balls, indeed everything for the fail to meet with something strange, if I sleeve. This girl, though bearing the "And what brings you to Europe?" vannas dry enough to burn. My paper, entertainment of the grave, the gay, the have only the opportunity of examining. marks of premature age, could not in re-

" Le paquebot va partira minuit !"

in broadcloth; and grim faces, half-visible surprise I beheld emerge from it one of the

For the Lewisturg Chrenicle.

Partametricula, July 11, 1851.

There is nothing going on here at present—

when we were thrown together, it was full half hour—I can not now tell how the ceptain of the ship. It was late beno murders-no interesting, killing fights-no with such emphasis that we both came -in quiet but incessant activity CARL. voices. It gave us, in fact, some confused doing something. But what do was the idea of a mass of heads, legs, arms, and question, for although poor, they were obother appurtenances of the human body, viously not beggars. I at length ventured when we were very hungry, and would not but the whole was shrounded in a sort of to offer a biscuit to the little boy. He lay out our money, we were always sure to woolly covering, the nature of which the looked at it, and then at his sister, but did darkness of the night and the rolling of not stir. The proceeding, apparently, was the ship rendered it impossible to ascertain. contrary to their notions of etiquette; and I thought to myself for a moment that this I presented the biscuit to the mother "for girl gave a cunning twinkle of her eye. the deck under such circumstances; and had no concern in, and handed it to the when my friend and I had gathered our- girl. The little girl bowed gravely, mutselves up, we made the best of our way- tered some words in German, apparently Such was the story of the little commo- course—to stand upon higher ground. and it was no easy task—to the cabin, and of thanks, and dividing the biscuit among dore—a story which was listened to not And yet the heart is exceedingly apt to comparative coziness, my thoughts rever- she kept the smallest to herself, they all ted to that bundle of life, composed, in all began to cat with some eagerness. probability, of deck passengers, exposed to "Hunger!" said my friend-"I told the cold night-wind and the drenching you; nothing else." spray; but I soen fell asleep, my sympa- "We shall see;" but I could not thy merging as my faculties became more think of any theory just then. The family dim in a grateful sense of personal com- it appeared, were starving; they had un-cross; and we saw that it was composed cented the providential windfall, as if it

we shall get at it."

they passed, at the breathing bundle of tention to bestow on any one but the fam- it now.' rags. After a time, some motion was ob- ily committed to her charge. man's or a little girl's, so old as it was in girl puts away the fragments! Let us laid it aside just then. And what diffe- and follow them, even though it costs them by the shoulders that followed—thin, slight stances which have induced them to emi- Forsyth allowed him to take his own time ble to uproot this tendency to meanness. childish; but so intelligent was the look grate to London, to join some of their rel- for it, so it was almost dark before he Congregationalist. she east around, so full of care and anxiety, artices in the business of selling matches thought of leaving his book. Then he that she seemed to have the burthen of a or grinding organs !"

though just out of my trunk, is quite thoughtful, the giddy, the wise, and the Come, let us go out into the street, and I slity have been more than eleven, and mother."

disconsolate young woman, the heroine of us-we did not come. It was worse when would he like it?" "Hurra!" cried the young man. "The your intended romance, and the winner of we landed in London; for there were so "Why I suppose not."

endowed with all her natural faculties, that." tle boy. She held out her hand to the your countrymen?" The vessel had cleared the harbor be- and dress as she had done those of her ing the interruption. fore I met with my friend in the darkness brother, dietated to her the place and pos-dertaken the little voyage without prepa-As the morning advanced, the wind tion of any kind in food, extra clothing, colerated, testifying to the weather-wis- or money; and, under such circumstances, dom of our captain; and my friend and I they sat calmly, quietly, without uttering getting up betimes, met once more upon a single complaint. In a few minutes a the deck. The bundle of life was still more substantial breakfast was before them; there, just without the sacred line which and it was amusing to see the coolness deck and steerage passengers must not with which the little girl commodore acof human figures, huddled together with- had been something she expected, although out distinction, under coarse and taltered ignerant of the quarter whence it should story, and a strange one; and by and by ing escaped her; her sharp look was on every detail; if a fold of her mother's was stupified by my own success. "The common story of the poor," re-cloak was out of order, she stopped ber This question seemed to have occurred the back. I admired that little creature a book he was perusing.

whole family on her back. After ascer | We first tried the mother, but she, in some kindling he scratched his hand very taming by that look, as it seemed, what addition to being of a singularly taciturn, badly. And when he again entered the withdrew her thoughts from these extra- modore of the party, however, knew some "O dear! O dear! I was splitting some boy woke up in a sort of fright, but the the oddity of the circumstances. The fol- want to talk with you. You think you outside work, the air being so strongly friends, and at 10 P. M. I expect to be in had addressed : "I find the human char- for she was his sister, that was clear-he tween us, with her polyglot part translated "Yes, I do, mother, I am always get- twenty marries his first love, and sceroes

"Is it me, sir? Oh, I am from New son?"

"Done, then; but hold, what's that ?" with one of his cold smiles; "a pretty and "Oh, that is nothing; the ship brought should put off breakfast till dinner time, many people there, and so many houses, "And besides, the excuse which is good but I had not much myself. I wished the without a ship, through the waves of the weet, and for many more. And, as a connot met a little German boy with an or- the midst of it, but recollect if you do done. But somebody always comes in place, you will have more time to do with."

"Yes, and more than that! He bought | "That is right, my son. You will find rent. She arranged her mother's hair but the young girl went on without mind-complain of hereafter."

nothing. People are going to Cape May as fist down. We fell, however, upon a bundle Time passed on; the other passengers that I could hardly get my brother along. the Cape finds him and his suffering dul. To me there is as steam can carry them. How would you like of something comparatively soft—some had all breakfasted; but no one had seen but the captain was so good as to let us fore we got there, and we were so tired do likewise .- Zion's Herald.

"Your mother was in Germany. How get something given us to eat"

"Then you had money?"

was just the thing for my boasted demon- her little son." She took it mechanically "We could not get mother away, you stration; but no philosophy could keep -indifferently-as if it was a thing she know, without money-could we, mother jealousy, or wounded pride, at the same patting her upon the back like one fond. time that there is a voice within whisperling a child made for the travelers, whose boasted show one's self a person of spirit and charbut what became of them afterwards I conscience and better judgment will not wholly unencumbered with baggage, poor individuals, when placed in circumstances things !- the mother and the little boy involving this kind of trial. There are clinging on either side to the commodore; certain men, who, when they find them-"Pilgrim's Progress," " they passed on a certainty, attempt to free themselves by

Just my Luck.

May is a living example of the progress of ner, such as experience has convinced me the world too long, and bumped too hard perhaps of hunger, but why don't they brother coughed as he swallowed some night wood," said Mrs. Forsyth to her bler impulses, until it has become a luxury ten, she raised his face, and patted him on son, who had become deeply interested in to them always to be high-minded and looked with a sort of languid curiosity, as thin fragile shoulders; but she had no at- ish this page, I am right in the middle of the power to send forth volitions in the went at it in great hurry, and in splitting between the expression of a due and deliting hurt, and it isn't my fault either."

"Yes, but if it had not been so dark and they melt .- Sir Walter Scott.

season to do it all by daylight, but I let "My father sent me to bring over you manage your own way to see what would be the result. I have noticed lately that whenever anything is given you to parently damp sheets every night since I ters of dress, it is the custom for gentle- under the first slouched A larger figure was still invisible, except "Yes, sir; and because my brother do, 'wait a minute' is your almost constant

"And what were you to do in London?" sequence of procrastination is crowding the business of an hour into a moment's "I don't see but that is reasonable, mother," said James, looking earnestly "And the little German boy took you to and thoughtfully in her face, "and I will try and do better in the future."

And now, my dear young friends, I

Fellow your Nobler Impulses.

Hardly a day or an hour passes, in our free intercourse with the world, and in the diversified details of business, when we are not called upon to make some decision involving to a greater or less degree the feelings and interests of our fellow-men. The circumstances in which we make these decisions may be more or less trying to our virtue and generosity. Cases not un-"Oh, yes, to be sure." and the little frequently occur in every man's life when the temptation is strong to perform some mean act, under the influence of envy. ing that it would be better to take another only by my friend and myself, but by at yield itself to the suggestion of the meaner least a score of other persons, some of motive. There is a strange delusion which whom will, no doubt, be pleased to see often creeps over the mind in such cirit here reproduced. A collection was cumstances, suggesting that in order to funds had been exhausted at Boulegne; actor, he must do something which his never knew. When we reached London, I approve. As we look around among men, saw them walk up the landing-place- we are struck with the different conduct of and so, like the shadowy figures in the selves situated in this way, will, almost to their way, and I saw them no more." a mean course of action. Even when the For my own part, my theory had gone temptation from without is slight, still much further than I had thought of carre. they will almost surely fall under the doing it. My friend himself was not more minion of the baser and more unworthy come, and the business-like gravity with surprised than I by the story of the little motive, and act accordingly. While there "These persons," said I, dictatorially, which she proceed to arrange it on their girl; and, like the Witch of Ender, when are other men, upon whom you can scarceher pretended incantations were answered by bring an amount of temptation which their nature. They will rise out of every difficulty, every trial, purer and nobler men than before. This latter class have plied my friend; "a story of hardship, till she had set it right; and when her "James, you had better attend to the accustomed themselves to follow their nogenerous, while the others have so long to some of the other passengers, and all with her wan face, and quick eyes, and "Wait a minute, mother, I want to fin vielded to their meaner tendencies, that opposite direction seems to be practically His mother did wait, and although she dead. To the young especially, it is thereserved beneath the tattered cloaks, and at "This is comical," said my friend; "I said nothing, yet she was deeply grieved. fore of immense importance, that they length a head emerged from their folds; a wonder what they are. But they have When he had read that page through, he should early give heed to the better and head that might have been either a wo done breakfast; see how carefully the little feared he would lose the force of it if he more generous impulses of their hearts. expression, and so young in size and soft- now ask them for what you call their story,' renee would it make if the wood was a severe present struggle. When this ness. It was a little girl's, as was proved and get them to relate the romantic circum- brought in five minutes later? Mrs. habit is once formed, it is almost impossi-

FLATTERY.-There is a vast difference cate appreciation of merit, and that false and exaggerated praise which is dictated by adulation. The former is always received with pleasure; but the latter wounds the susceptibility of those on whom it is lavished; to a mind rightly constituted there being nothing more painful than undeserved, or even excessive commendstion .- Home Journal.

FIRST LOVE .- Scarce one person out of one of twenty of the remainder has cause "Was it not your fault to night, my to rejoice at having done so. What we love in those early days is generally rather "Why, no; how should I know the a fanciful creation of our own than a reality. We build statues of snow, and weep when