Wit and Humor.

Bar Bloomerism has begun to advertise; and we never knew anything "fail" which said that. The following is from the St. Albans Messenger:

Ho!! Woman! Ho!!

To those who sympathize in the noble aim of emancipating woman from her present low, fallen, degraded, despised, down-trodden, soul-depressing subserviency to man, after a sad experience of six thousand years, these presents are sent,

GREETING:

THE undersigned, having shaken off the manacles of custom, snuffed off the coil of fashion, and became a free and independent member of reformed humanity, has opened a shop on Hens Peck Lane, in Vixenburg, where she will keep on sale, for ready cash, a large assortment of Boots, Pants, Vests, Dickeys, Collars, and all other articles suitable for ladies attire.

She has also on hand Bloomer Cutes, and Camilla Cigars, of recent importation, with an excellent variety of Swissbelin razors, all of which are adapted to the wants of emancipated female independents, and will be afforded at cheap rates for ready cash.

Respectfully submitted by

PAULINA OLIVIANA PUTTS.

P. S. & N. B.—In my absence at the Woman's Rights Convention, at Worcester or elsewhere, my husband Bellour, who is my authorized agent, will be found in the shop, or in the adjoining kitchen.

P. O. B.

Given under my hand as aforesaid in the year L. of Universal Pants. 7ff

A Fortunate Editor.

The editor of the Advocate, published at Bath, being about to start on a ramble in search of "health and vigor, both of body and mind, and subscribers for the Advocate," briefly announces the fact to his readers, and then adds: "During our absence our paper will not suffer, but, on the contrary, will be much bettered. Our better half, who has been pronounced by a competent judge 'the smartest man of the two,' will have jurisdiction over its columns. She is a staunch democrat, and decidedly opposed to the new innovation on female costume; and our only fear is, that when we return our readers will insist upon our going again."

A lady rather ignorant upon agricultural matters, sent to the country the other day for some nice milk, which was carefully delivered to her by the hand of a friend who procured it. The lady very carefully placed it in her cellar in a nice open vessel, with the determination of having an extra nice breakfast on her rich milk. Breakfast came, and her husband looked in vain for the anticipated luxury. "Wife," said he, "where is that nice milk you were speaking of last night?" "Oh dear, it is too bad!" she replied sorrowfully, "the milk this morning was all covered over with a thick, yellow scum, and I had to throw it away."—Cin. Nonpareil.

TOO GOOD TO BE LOST.—We heard of a conversation which took place a few evenings since, between one of Elmira's fair daughters and a young merchant of this place, which runs thus:

The merchant was speaking of the excellent qualities of a young female friend of his, and closed his remarks by observing that "she was a noble, generous hearted lady, and one that was right here," accompanying the last words with a gesture which bordered near the heart. Her reply was "fudge, that's half cotton!"—[Elmira Democrat.

A NEW CORPORATION.—A member of the Vermont Legislature recently proposed to introduce a bill "to incorporate the Free Soil party," who might "by that name sue and be sued, embrace and be embraced, annex and be annexed, have a common seal, and enjoy all the rights, privileges and planks still left of the Buffalo platform;" with a second section declaring the "natural song of the said corporation to be 'Old Mortality,' which will be sung annually."

BAD ENOUGH ALREADY.—A very nice young gentleman once offered to negotiate a loan of a business man, on a piece of very "doubtful" paper, carelessly adding, that he would endorse it as additional security to the lender.

"Humph,' was the reply, 'the note is bad enough without the addition."

☞Among the Exhibition curiosities there is the portrait of a "celebrated General," modelled in soap. An ingenious young friend of ours says "he does'nt know who the celebrated general may be, but he imagines it must be Washington." Well done, youngster!—Punch.

Wonder if John Bull remembers whom that celebrated General lathered.

SPEAKING IN PUBLIC.—"Julius, did you ever speak in public?" "In course I did." "What?" "At the perlice." "And what did you say, Julius, at the perlice?" "Not guilty, Mr. Snow. What else could a gentleman say under de pwessha ub de suckumstonces?"

Petroleum, or ROCK OIL,

A NATURAL REMEDY!

PROCURED FROM A WELL IN ALLEGHENY CO., PA., Four Hundred feet below the Earth's surface! It is put up in bottles just as it flows from the well, without admixture of any kind. It gets its ingredients from the bowels of mountains which it passes over in its ascent of thousands of years are blended together in such a form as to defy all human competition. The Petroleum is the result of the MINERAL WATERS which its virtues in most chronic diseases are acknowledged not only by physicians but by the community at large. These mineral waters flowing out from the earth impregnated with most special substances of different properties and holding them in such complete solution as to render the aid of chemistry to detect them, is a simple proof to the fact that these are compounded by the master hand of Nature for the alleviation of human suffering, and ease. If Petroleum is a medicine at all, it is a good one, for Nature never half does her work. It will everything to be found in the list of the noted in the drugstores, and got a bottle, and I applied some that night to the sores, and the next morning you could see a marked difference in the foot, and has continued to ever since. I can assure you it operated almost like a charm—I never saw anything heal like it in me life.

I want a small quantity yet to effect a perfect cure; you will please let the bearer have some and he will pay you for the same. Very respectfully your friend.

VAUGHN'S

LITHONTRIPTIC MIXTURE!

Large Bottles—Only One Dollar.

The Proprietor of the Great American Remedy "VAUGHN'S VEGETABLE LITHONTRIPTIC MIXTURE," induced by the urgent solicitations of his Agents, throughout the United States and Canada, has now

Reduced the Price

of his popular and well known article; and from this date, henceforth, he will put up but one size only,—an quart bottle:—the retail price will be

ONE DOLLAR

The public may rest assured that the character of the Medicine, its strength, and curative properties WILL REMAIN UNCHANGED, and the same care will be bestowed in preparing it as heretofore.

As this medicine, under its reduced price, will be purchased by those who have not hitherto made themselves acquainted with its virtues, the proprietor would beg to intimate that his article is not to be classed with the vast amount of "Remedies of the day;" it claims for itself a greater healing power, in all diseases, than any other preparation now before the world; and has sustained itself for eight years by its superior medical virtues, and, until this reduction, commanded double the price of any other article in this line.

NOTICE PARTICULARLY, this article acts with great healing power and certainty, upon the

and all other organs, upon the proper action of which life and health depend.

This medicine has a justly high repute as a remedy for

Dropsy and Gravel,

and all diseases of that nature. It may be relied upon when the intelligent physician has abandoned his patient,—and for those distressing diseases, more especially DROPSY, the proprietor would earnestly and honestly recommend it. At its present price it is easily obtained by all, and the trial will prove the article to be the Cheapest Medicine in the World!

☞Please ask for pamphlets—the agents give them away they contain over sixteen pages of receipts, (in addition to full medical matter) valuable for household purposes, and which will save many dollars per year to practical housekeepers.

These receipts are introduced to make the book of great value, aside from its character as an advertising medium to the medicine, the testimony in favor of which, in the form of letters from all parts of the country, may be relied upon.

IT IS A FACT,

ONE self-evident, and worthy of every consideration, that no Miller can make good clean flour without he has good clean wheat. I suppose you wish to know the remedy. I tell you—it is to get one of Bergstresser's Wheat Scourers, or Smut Machines. He being an old, practical and experienced Millwright has invented, got up and put in successful operation the best Wheat Scourer now in use. Any person ordering a machine and afterwards finding that it does not prove to operate as represented, there shall be no sale, as these machines are to be warranted good. Further recommendations are thought unnecessary. He is now having a supply made at Lewisburg, by Messrs. Geddes & Marsh. Orders for machines, or letters of inquiry, will be promptly attended to. NOTES—Promissory, Judgment and Joint Notes (blanks) [illegible] this office.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL DISCOVERY!

PEPSIN!

The true DIGESTIVE FLUID or GASTRIC JUICE—a great Dyspepsia Cure!

Prepared from Rennet, or the true stomach of the Ox, after directions by Baron LIEBIG, the great physiological chemist, by J. S. HOUGHTON, M.D., No. 11 N. 8th St. Philadelphia, Pa.

A TRULY wonderful remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Constipation and Debility, coming after Nature's own process, by Nature's own agent, the Gastric Juice. ☞Half a teaspoonful of this fluid infused in water, can digest or dissolve Five Pounds of roast beef in about two hours, out of the stomach.

Digestion is chiefly performed in the stomach by the aid of a fluid which freely exudes from the inner coat of that organ, when in a state of health, called the gastric juice. This fluid is the great solvent of the food—the purifying, preserving and stimulating agent of the stomach and intestines. Without it there can be no digestion, no conversion of food into blood, no nutrition—but rather a foul, torpid, painful and destructive condition of the whole digestive apparatus.

Pepsin is the chief element or great digesting principle of the gastric juice. It is found in great abundance in the solid parts of the human stomach after death, and sometimes causes the stomach to digest or eat itself up. It is also found in the stomach of animals, as the ox, calf, &c. It is the material used by farmers in making cheese styled Rennet, the effect of which has long been the special wonder of the dairy. Curdling of milk is the first process of digestion. A calf's stomach can curdle nearly one thousand times its own weight of milk. Baron Liebig states, "one part of Pepsin dissolved in sixty thousand parts of water, digests meat and other food." Diseased stomachs produce no good Gastric Juice, Rennet or Pepsin. To show that this want may be perfectly supplied, we quote the subjoined

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE!

Baron LIEBIG, in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An artificial digestive fluid, analogous to the Gastric Juice, may be readily prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the calf, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be softened and digested in the same manner as in the human stomach."

Dr. BUCHNER, in his "Pharmaceutische Institut," published by Frederick Wesley, New York, gives the following directions for preparing Pepsin: "Take the inner lining membrane of the stomach of a recently killed pig, cut it into small pieces, and digest for several days in distilled water, with a little muriatic acid, until the whole is dissolved into a uniform pulp. Then neutralize the solution with carbonate of soda, filter and evaporate to the consistence of honey." Dr. GRAHAM, author of the celebrated work on Vegetable Diet, says:—"I shall not here enter into the chemical history of the Gastric juice, or of Pepsin, which is the active principle of that fluid; suffice it to say, that it is the solvent of animal food, and of animal fibre, and that it is secreted by the stomach." Dr. SIMONS, late of the Medical College of Maine, late of Blanchard, Philad., 1849, p. 321, says: "The discovery of Pepsin furnishes a noble era in the chemical history of Digestion. From recent experiments, we know that food is dissolved rapidly in an artificial gastric juice, made from Pepsin, as it is in the natural stomach."

Prof. TURNBULL, of the University of Pennsylvania, Philad., in his great work on Human Anatomy, says: "The gastric juice, or Pepsin, is obtained in a state of purity from the living human stomach; it is an animal ferment, and is called the gastric juice. It is also found in the stomach of the ox, calf, &c., and is employed in making cheese. It is the chief element in digestion, and is secreted perfectly in the artificial as in the natural digestions."

As a DYSPEPSIA CURER, Dr Houghton's preparation of Pepsin has produced the most marvelous effects. It is impossible to give details of cases in the limits of this advertisement—but authenticated certificates have been given of more than TWO HUNDRED rapid, wonderful, and permanent cures. It is a great NERVOUS ANTIDOTE, and particularly useful for tendency to bilious disorder, liver complaint, fever and ague the evil effects of quinine, mercury, &c., also for excess in eating or drinking

There is no form of OLD STOMACH COMPLAINTS which it does not reach and also give instant relief! and repeated for a short time, purity of Blood and vigor or more follow at once. It is particularly excellent in cases of nausea, vomiting, cramps, soreness of the pit of the stomach, distress after eating, loss, cold state of the blood, heaviness, lowness of spirits, despondency, emaciation, weakness, tendency to insanity, &c.

CAN BE EFFECTUALLY CURED BY

prepared by

Dr. C. M. Jackson,

at the "German Medicine Store,"

120 Arch St. Philad.

Their power over the above diseases is not excelled, if equalled, by any other preparation in the United States, as the cures attest; in many cases after skilful physicians had failed.

These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids. Possessing great virtues in the rectification of diseases of the Liver and lesser glands, exercising the most searching powers in weakness and affections of the digestive organs, they are withal safe, certain and pleasant.

Read AND BE CONVINCED.—The Hon. Chs D Ilneline, editor of the Camden Democrat, the best paper in West Jersey, says, July 21st—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.—We have seen many flattering notices of this medicine, and the evidence they exhibit induced us to make inquiries respecting its merits. From inquiry we were persuaded to use it, and must say we found it operate in its action upon diseases of the liver and digestive organs, and the powerful influence it exerts upon nervous prostration is really surprising. It acts like a charm, in many cases, bringing them into a state of repose, making sleep refreshing.

If this medicine were more generally used, we are satisfied there would be less s
