Anecdote of Gen. Scott.

Old Stephen Carmichael, with whom we were acquainted several years since, when residing in Pekin, used to tell with much gusto, the following anecdote of Gen. Scott at Lundy's Lane. We give it in the old soldier's own language :

"My first battle," said uncle Steph., doubling his huge fists and giving his arms a peculiar motion as if handling his musket in the "presentment"-"My first battle was at Lundy's Lane. The men of my company were all newly enlisted, and we were ordered to the attack under the terrible fire of the British. Every time a volley was fired by the enemy, our heads would juke and bow towards the ground, and I tell you, boys, I thought every minute would be my last. But presently, when our men had halted, Scott rode up, and raising himself in his stirrups said to us, American soldiers! pay no obcisance to the British! you don't owe them any! Forward march!' I tell you, boys, after that language I thought no more of the British bullets."-[Peoria Republican.

New Way to Cure Sick Clerks.

The Dayton Gazette, relates the follow ing story of Secretary Corwin. Its humor is characteristic: "To a friend of ours, who saw him the other day at Lebanon, he gave a most amusing, and we doubt not truthful account of the condition of things in the Treasury Department, when he entered upon the duties of Secretary. The Clerks, he estimates, were sick, on an average, about half the time-but it struck him as somewhat remarkable, that, much as they were sick, none of them died. The fact was apparent at a glance, that they did very little work for the public, and the inference was irresistible, that something must be done for them. Accordingly, the Secretary turned physician, and began to prescribe for the invalids. He issued an order that all Clerks who were absent from their desks a certain number of days, say two, on ac count of sickness, should submit to a proportionate deduction from their respective salaries; and that all who were absent longer, say one week, would be required either to die, or resign! The prescription worked like a charm, and in a short time there was not a sick Clerk in the whole Department. A healthier set of men than they are now, Mr. Corwin declares, can not be found any where."

Ex-GOVERNOR BRIGGS has a good deal of quiet humor in him. As one of the Commissioners to locate the new asylum, he visited the strong Loco Foco town of Middleborough, in Plymouth county. In setting forth its claims, one of the citizens of the place, among other things, declared fully carried out, embracing a course of four years that the people of Middleborough had and entitling the successful student to the degree or for a residence and place of business. never hanged witches, banished Quakers, nor whipped Baptists. "I beg your pardon, Sir," said his Excellency, with that courteousness of manner and speech which has made so many friends, "but you whipped one Baptist last year," (himself, the defeated Whig candidate for Gover

Watty Morrison, a Scotch Clergyman, was a man of great wit and humor. On one occasion, a young officer scoffed at the idea of its requiring so much study to prepare a sermon, as ministers usually pretended, and offered a bet, that he would preach half an hour on any passage in the Old Testament, without the least preparation. Mr. Morrison took the bet and gave him for a text, "And the ass opened his mouth and spake." The boasting officer was little inclined to employ his eloquence on that text; and the humorous Morrison won the wager and silenced the scoffer.

That is nothing to take credit for ; they have husbanded every school ma'am sent up there yet, and it is no more than fair that they should begin to provide for the children .- [Green Bay Advocate.

They have appointed a gentleman in the city of Glasgow, Scotland, to a new and rather singular office, viz., "Smoke Inspector." It is not the same kind of office as that in our sister city, Boston, to stop the pipe and eigar smokers in the streets, but to prevent chimneys from smoking under a penalty; the world is improving.

A NATURAL REMEDY!

PROCURED FROM A WELL IN ALLEGHENY CO., PA. PROCURED FROM A WELL IN ALLEGHENY CO., PA., Four Hundred feet below the Earth's surface! It is put up in bottles, just as it flows from the well, without admixture of any kind. It gets its ingredients from the beds of substances which it passes over in its secret chain-nel: they are blended together in such a form as to defy all human competition. The *Petroleum in this respect is like MINERAL WATERS, whose virtues in most chronic chronic cases are acknowledged not only by physicians but by the community at large. These singular fluids flowing out from the earth, impregnated with medicinal substances of different properties, and helding them in such complete solution as to require the aid of Chemistry to detect them, bear ample proof to the fact that they are compounded by the master hand of Nature for the alleviation of luman suffering and disease. If Petroleum is a medicine at all. the master hand of Nature for the alleviation of human suffering and disease. If Petroleum is a medicine at all, it is a good one, for Nature never half does her work. It will continue to be used and applied as a Remedy, as long as man continues to be affiliated with disease. That it will cure every disease, we do not pretaint; surfant it will cure a great many diseases, lithrito incurable, is a fact which is proven by the evidence in its favor. Its discovery is a new era in medicine, and will enure to the health and happiness of man.

SCROFULA.—The Petroleum is a great medicine in Scrofula and Klug's Evil—in all those diseases originating in a deprayed condition of the blood and other fluids of the body. It will cure pains and enlargements of the bones and joints, Blotches, Blies, Erysipelas, Pimples on the face, Tetter, Scald-head, Ringworm, and the various Skin diseases. It has cured numerous cases of Rhamatism, Neuralgia, Gout. &c. A woman in Franklin county, Pa., was creed of a rhamatic affection of six years' standing: the

I feel myself under a debt of graffinde to the proprietor of the Petroleum, the use of which great meeticine has entirely cured my wife of a violent attack of the unsation. She had halored under an attack of the disease for about two months, suffering the most intense pain; the greater part of the time confined to her bod, and unable to do anything. The pain in the limbs was very great, attended with a great deal of swelling. The Petroleum had a happy effect, for the first two or three applications the swelling diminished and the pain left her. I continued to apply the medicine daily for about two weeks, which entirely relieved her, and she is now as well as ever she was in the life. I feel confident that the Petroleum is one of the greatest molicines in the world for rheumatic pains and swellings.

JUICE-a great Dyspepsia Curer! Prepared from Rennet, or the fourth stomach of the Ox, after directions by Baron Livara, the great physiological chemist, by J.S. Houghton, M.D., No. 11 N. Sch St. Philadelphia, Pa.

ANOTHER SCIENTIFIC WONDER!

The true DIGESTIVE FLUID or GASTRIC

A TRULY wonderful remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Jaundiee, Liver Complaint, Constipation and Debility, curing after Nature's own process, by Nature's own agent, the Gastrie Juice. [7] Holf a teaspoonful of this fluid infused in water, can digest or dissolve Five Pounds of roast beef in about two hours, out of the stomach. Digestion is chiefly performed in the stomch by the aid of a fluid which treely exudes from the inner coat of that organ, when in a state of health, called the gastric juice. This fluid is the great solecut of the food—the puritying, preser-ving and stimulating agent of the stomach and intestines. Without it there can be no digestion, no conversion of food into blood, no nutration—but rather a foul, torpid, painful and destructive endition of the whole digestive apparatus.

Pepsin is the chief element or great digesting principle of the gastric joice. It is found in great abundance in the solid parts of the human tomach after death, and sometimes causes the tomach to digest or eat itself up. It is also found in the stomach of animals, as the ox, call, &c. It is the material used by farmers in making cheese styled Rennet, the effect of which has long been the special wonder of the dairy. Curdling of milk is the first process of digestion. A call's stomach can curdle nearly one thousand times its own weight of milk. Baron Liebig states, "one part of Pepsin dissolved in sixty thousand parts of water, dige-ts meat and other food." Diseased stomachs produce no good Gastric Juice, Rennet or Pepsin. To show that this want may be perectly supplied, we quote the subjoined
