A Wisconsin Debating Club.

"Gentlemen," said the Chairman, "the question for this evening is, Which conferred the greatest benefit on man, Mr. Christopher Columbus, or Gen. George Washington? On the affirmative, Messrs. Van Dreezer, Dusenbury, and Penix; on the negative, Messrs. Foster, Milligan, and Sampson. Mr. Van Dreezer has the floor."

Mr. V., the village lawyer, a smart, dapper looking man, arose, and taking a sup of water from the tin cup which was before him, did depose and say:

"Mr. President, and Gentlemen Ladies — I rise to advocate the affirmative of the question; that is to say, that I affirm that Mr. Columbus did a greater benefit to mankind than Gen. Washington. In order to more fully disgust the interrogatory just propounded, to enter fully into the merits of the case, I will give a brief, succinct and condensed account of Mr. Columbus's life and exploits. Sir, echo answers, the greatest man of his times. Sir, Columbus was the offspring of a man of the same name, who was an indigant basket-maker in a small town called Rome, situated on the river Tigris, a stream which takes its rise in the Pyranine mountains, and flows in a south easterly course into the Gulf of Mexico. At an early age, Columbus evinced a decided talent for the sea, and occupied the leisure hours of his infancy in perusing books of travel and works of navigation. It was while engaged in these pursuits that he inadvertently met with the works of Robinson and Crusoe, and Captain Cook, and the definition he made from them was that far away over the trackless main hitherto untrodden by the foot of man, was an undiscovered country.

"As he approached to manhood, he was filled with a desire to discover that country which he so often saw in his youthful dreams; actuated by this desire, he petitioned the great Pontifical Pope of Rome to give him three yawls and a jolly boat to carry out his design. That distinguished man at first refused, but his wife Cleopatra, being pleased with the promising looks of Mr. Columbus, actuated with a magnanimity which is a caricature of her sex, prevailed upon him to grant Columbus's request, whereupon, providing his vessels with stores and men out of his own pocket, Columbus got ready and on a certain day of a certain month, and in a certain year he set sail from the Holy See of Rome, and after a long and tempestuous trip, he set foot at last upon the Plymouth Rock, in the Island of Juan Fernandez; it was on that occasion that he exclaimed—"Breathes there any man with soul so perfectly dead as never to himself has said, this is my own, my native land!"

"Sir, Mr. Columbus did not survive the hardships of that voyage, and was taken prisoner, by the King of the Cannon Ball Islands, and with all his crew cast into chains and slavery, where he died an ignominious natural death, with his whole crew, leaving not one behind to tell the tale. Peace to his ashes and their'n.

"Sir, the discovery of this continent was the greatest invention of year 1500. Fernandes Island was the stepping stone to the settlement of this country, Sir. United States, North and South America, Oregon and Asia, Hindostan, France and China, and many others too numerous to mention—behold these countries traversed by steamboats, railroads and telegraphs, and ask yourself, would these things have been if it hadn't been for Columbus? and your reply would certainly be, Certainly no, Sir. If it hadn't been for Columbus, Gen. Washington would'nt have been a man—but suppose he had, what then? What did Washington ever do that was any great benefit to this country? There is much said about his talents for war. To be sure he performed several masterly retreats, but what is that an evidence of?—Sir, it is that he was a coward"——

"Gen. Washington a coward?" screamed Foster, the village doctor, in a voice of thunder—"Gen. Washington a coward? Who so base as dare say it? Look at him at the battle of the Nile, look at him at Waterloo, the Cowpens, on the Plains of Marathon, at the Pyramids, at Sullivan's defeat, at Bad axe; and, sir, look at him at the battle of New Orleans!"——

"Gen. Washington at the battle of New Orleans!" exclaimed a huge backwoodsman, gesticulating violently. "Mr. Speaker, is there such an ignoramus in the house? Sir, any school-boy knows that the battle of New Orleans was fit before Gen. Washington was born. Let the gentleman read Plutarch's lives, the lives of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence, or let him read Arkwright's history of the Black Hawk War, and he'll find that Gen. Henry Dodge fit the battle of New Orleans." * * * *

EXCUSABLE.—Whilst a regiment of volunteers were marching through Camargo, a Captain [a strict disciplinarian,] observing that one of the drums did not beat, ordered a lieutenant to inquire the reason. The fellow on being interrogated, whispered to the lieutenant:

"I have two ducks and a turkey, in my drum, and the turkey is for the Captain."

This being whispered to the Captain he exclaimed:

"Why did'nt the drummer say he was lame? I do not want any of my men to do their duty when they are not able."

Another Rescue

BY

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP!

I WAS on the verge of the grave, and so far gone that my family and friends had lost all hopes of my recovery, and while in this situation having been rescued by the use of S HANCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, I wish to testify, with grateful emotions to Dr SCHENCK & Co. the unsolicited testimonial I have received from the use of his invaluable medicine.

Early last fall I contracted a violent cold, and in consequence of which I had chills, alternated with fever, pain in my right breast and shoulder-blade, with a hard cough and no expectoration. I kept getting worse until I took my bed, and had the attendance of my family physicians. I was under their care about four weeks, and at the expiration of that time was reduced so low that despair took hold of myself and friends, and even my physicians abandoned me, and gave me up to die with the hasty consumption. My appetite was gone, my fever very irregular, I was and night sweats, pain in my breast and shoulder, attended with a distressing cough while was very thirsty, my flesh had nearly all gone, and I was so weak that I could scarcely raise my head from the pillow and was truly an object of pity to behold. My friend had been sent for to come to die, and my sickbed was surrounded by kind and sympathising neighbors, who had come to witness my departure from this world. While in a ray of hope had hold of my recovery, a neighbor, Mr. David Conrad, proposed to try SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, with a view of loosening my cough and relieving me of the tough phlegm, and as a means of affording temporary relief remarking at the time, that I was not to look for the syrup to be of any permanent benefit, as it was an infallible remedy for the relief of my intense suffering. I took a dose of the Pulmonic Syrup. I found it afforded me relief and continued using it. I could feel its healing influence upon my lungs. I continued to improve under its use, and my friends were much gratified to see me so far recovered from the dead. Although I was become low and I felt somewhat broken hearted, I had a pain in my breast and I did enjoy an unusual share of health. I have for weeks discharged a pint to a half box full of matter every day, with hard lumps, like grains of suet in it. My bowels were somewhat costive and natural, and my appetite was such that I could scarcely refrain from eating me too much. My strength improved, and I regained my flesh. I continued to improve in every respect so much so I recommenced using the Syrup, and the improvement continued until I was restored to my wonted health. I have passed through the most severe of the latter part of winter exposing, and feel as well now as ever I felt in my life, and I am this day willing to testify to the great efficacy of SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP in curing pulmonary diseases.

I feel that this statement should be short, but not lacking in any of its particulars, and I subscribe a certificate of a number of the inhabitants of Tacony, who saw me at different times during my disease, and never expected to see me alive, so as to append the certificate of both ex of Washington, No. 270, I. O. of O. F. who kindly watched over me and faithfully did what they could, to consign me to the tomb; but thanks to Dr. Schenck, for his invaluable Pulmonic Syrup, I have been spared and I am now able to make the following statement for the benefit of suffering humanity.

I reside at Tacony, and am well known by most of the inhabitants, and will be gratified to have any person call on me and learn more particulars of the great virtue of this medicine. JOHN C. GREEN.

June 24, 1851.

The subscribers, members of the Mystic Lodge, No. 270, of I. O. F. of Holmesburg, Pa., do hereby certify that we know John C. Green and he is a member in good standing of the Lodge. We also know that he was afflicted with a low Pulmonary Consumption, and that he, after he gave him up to die; that he is now fully restored to health, and they believe his recovery was produced by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup.

We believe his certificate is correct in every particular.

Holmesburg, Phila. Co., Pa. June 25, 1851.

The most respectable resident of Tacony, eight miles from Philadelphia, being well acquainted with John C. Green and the circumstances attending his case, feel impelled, from a sense of impartial duty, to make unsolicited known to the public his entire recovery from the very last stages of a Pulmonary Consumption. So entirely hopeless was his condition having been for a length of time in that rapidly sinking and emaciated state as to be thereby precludes in the opinion of his physicians and friends who watched by his bedside, all hope of even temporary recovery and restoration to his former health. That the careful use of your invaluable Specific Pulmonic Syrup in his case, by his own belief under the immediate blessing of Providence, was the instrument of his previous protracted and to every physician one of the most startling results that the whole role of medical science can produce. And we deem it but equitable rewarded to your merit, and due to you, the great discoverer of an infallible cure for this hitherto remediless disease, a lasting monument, and a word while we unite in the healing art that no human other diminish or destroy. Having witnessed Mr. Green's distressing struggles and sufferings from a confirmed Consumption, we gladly add to the other testimonies in support of the remarkable restorative powers of your Syrup, our unqualified testimony to Mr. Green's perfect recovery, by means of the exclusive use of your wonderful Syrup; and we should indeed rejoice if we could learn of the humble instruments of relief and ease to others who may be unfortunate as to be similarly afflicted.

Petroleum, or ROCK OIL,

A NATURAL REMEDY!

PROCURED FROM A WELL IN ALLEGHENY CO., PA., Four Hundred feet below the Earth's surface! It is put up in bottles just as it flows from the well, without admixture of any kind. It gets its ingredients from the beds of substances which it passes over in its secret channels, and in coming to the surface, in such a form as to defy all human competition. The Petroleum in this respect is like MINERAL WATERS, whose virtues in most chronic chronic cases are acknowledged not only by physicians but by the community at large. These singular fluids flowing from the earth, impregnated with medicinal substances of different properties and holding them in such complete solution as to require the aid of Chymical art to detect them, are compounded by the master hand of Nature for the alleviation of human suffering and disease. If Petroleum is a medicine at all it is a good one, for Nature never half does her works. It will continue to be used and applied as a Remedy, as long as man continues to be afflicted with disease. That it will cure every disease, we do not pretend to say, but that it will cure a great many diseases, which are incurable, is a fact which is proven by the evidence in its favor. Its discovery is a new era in medicine, and will ensure to the health and happiness of man.

SCROFULA—The Petroleum is a great medicine in Scrofula and King's evil—in all those diseases originating in a depraved condition of the blood and other fluids of the body. It will cure pain and enlargements of the bones and joints, Rheumatism like a charm, Pimples on the face, Tetter, Scald-head, Ringworm, and the various Skin diseases. It has cured dumb roan cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout, &c. A woman in Franklin county, Pa. was cured of a rheumatic affect on of six years' standing: the disease was so aggravated as to confine her to her bed during the greater part of that time; she is now well and considers herself entirely restored.

I HEV'N'T SEN yields to the power of Petroleum!

I feel myself under a debt of gratitude to the proprietor of the Petroleum, the use of which great medicine has entirely cured my self of a violent attack of Rheumatism, which laid me under an attack of the most intense pain; the greater part of the time confined to her bed, and unable to do anything. The pain in the limbs was very great, attended with a great deal of swelling. The Petroleum had a happy effect, for the first two or three applications the swelling diminished and the pain left her. I continued to apply the medicine for a short time, after which time my wife never felt, and she is now as well as ever she was in her life. I feel confident that the Petroleum is one of the great medicines in the world for the mitigation of pains and swellings. (Signed)

PETER PUHL, Penn St., Allegheny City.

Chronic Cough cured.

I take pleasure in certifying to the valuable properties of Mr. Kier's Petroleum, for an affection of the breast and lungs, accompanied with severe pain in the chest, and a cough. I took the Petroleum in larger doses than is recommended by the directions, but after thinking it was time to take it, I stopped for the purpose of ascertaining the effect on me. I found it to be beneficial, and have recommended it to my family, for I believe it to be a valuable medicine. The Petroleum produced no unpleasant feeling whatever in the use of it. WM. DAY.

Pittsburg, March 16, 1850.

"There is nothing like it for Burns"

PITTSBURG, Feb 21, 1850.

I get three dozen of Mr. Kier's Petroleum of Mr. Hassell, and I am free to say to you that there is nothing equal to it for Burns—I have got burnt my hands, and exposing nothing else than going to the store, but found no sooner as I had got home and applied a little of your Petroleum, than the pain left entirely, and in a few hours was entirely well. Mr. Hassell wishes to say to you that he has got a number of orders, and will get rid of the Petroleum in a few days. Yours respectfully, &c. HARVEY MANN.

SAMUEL M. KIER, Esq.—Dear Sir: I have been confined in my bed over five months with Typhoid Fever, and could get no rest, but by using your Petroleum I received a good deal of relief, and continued doing so until using it. I feel myself much indebted to you for your kindness in sending me the Petroleum, and do not know how I could have done without it. I had been thinking all the day before he sent me the Petroleum that I would write to you for some, but I was too weak. I am now able to be about my business, and can recommend your Petroleum to all who may be afflicted with Rheumatism in the feet, and I consider myself as ever sane. I remain yours with esteem, and I am a friend to Kier's Petroleum. (Signed) J. W. SEWARD.

In the case of the wife of the above, the Petroleum proved a perfect cure. She had been afflicted with a lameness in the foot, and had continued so for some time. I procured a bottle of the Petroleum, and applied some to the foot, and in a short time it was entirely relieved, and has continued so ever since. I consider it a valuable remedy, and I am a friend to Kier's Petroleum. (Signed) JOHN SEWARD.

I want a small quantity sent me, and he will pay you for the same. Very respectfully your friend, ALEX. SCOTT.

Price Reduced!

VAUGHN'S

LITHONTRIPTIC MIXTURE!

Large Bottles—Only One Dollar.

The Proprietor of the Great American Remedy "VAUGHN'S VEGETABLE LITHONTRIPTIC MIXTURE," induced by the urgent solicitations of his Agents, throughout the United States and Canada, has now

Reduced the Price of his popular and well known article: and from this date, henceforth, he will put up but one size only,—his quart bottles:—the retail price will be

ONE DOLLAR

The public may rest assured that the character of the Medicine, its strength, and curative properties WILL REMAIN UNCHANGED, and the same care will be bestowed in preparing it as heretofore.

As this medicine, under its reduced price, will be purchased by those who have not hitherto made themselves acquainted with its virtues, the proprietor would beg to intimate that his article is not to be classed with the vast amount of "Remedies of the day;" it claims for itself a greater healing power, in all diseases, than any other preparation now before the world; and has sustained itself for eight years by its superior medical virtues, and, until this reduction, commanded double the price of any other article in this line.

NOTICE PARTICULARLY, the article acts with great healing power and certainty, upon the

and all other organs, upon the proper action of which life and health depend.

This medicine has a justly high repute as a remedy for

Dropsy and Gravel,

and all diseases of that nature. It may be relied upon when the intelligent physician has abandoned his patient,—and on those distressing diseases, more especially Dysentery, the proprietor would earnestly and honestly recommend it. At its present price it is easily obtained by all, and the trial will prove the article to be the Cheapest Medicine in the World!

Please ask for pamphlets—the agents give them away they contain over sixteen pages of receipts, (in addition to full medical matter) valuable for household purposes, and which will save many dollars per year to practical housekeepers.

These receipts are introduced to make the book of great value, aside from its character as an advertising medium for the medicine, the testimony in favor of which, in the form of letters from all parts of the country, may be relied upon.

"Vaughn's Vegetable Lithontriptic Mixture"—the Great American Remedy, now for sale in quart bottles at 6 each, small bottles at 50 cts each. No small bottles will be issued after the present stock is disposed of.
