Wit and humor. Petroleum, or Rock Oil,

March 27, 1852.

Fince nothing can escape the poets' eye, Whether it be of earth, or sea, or sky, It can not be expected that a day Like that which forms my text should pass away Without being naticed by the rhyming crew As something rare, or slingether new. (When I say poets are a; t to see, You must not mink at all that I mean me! In order to assist us in our thymes;

And if I should have something else in view, In name of heaven, is the thing not true?)

And here I challenge air who watch their flocks. Or anything in the pe of weathercocks.

To show me, in their journals of the weather—
And I to them together—
A day on which occurred both snow and thunder, And I to them will cheerfully knock under:

Even the Fourth of I like the can good die.

I the angle proof to the fact that they are compounded by the mostlering and disease. If etroleum is a medicine at all the mostlering and disease. If etroleum is a medicine at all this purpose. Mr. Gives long experience, and reputations as first rate sales are well as the mostlering and disease. That it will cure a sense that the highest market prices will always be obtained.

SCROFULA—The Petroleum is a great medicine in Scroelved.

March II, 1852.

Particular attention will be given to this Branch of the business by Lewis W. H. Even the Fourth of life the can not die,
With all its blood and mercers in the sky.
Was not a day like that the twenty-seven.
Which gave to all the cannot have ever given.
The early not in was midd, like that of May,
And bids in concert song on every pray;
But as the san stoce and rolled along.
The air soon cooled and birds gave to be their song,
And presently the thunders colled as high.

Mn Entron: If you think that queer daynamely, the 27th of las Murch—has or has not been torgotten, and that these lines will be of any use in either case to the readers of the Chronicle, you may publish them, and I will return to Hungary. Respectfully, &c.

Of Mr. Kier's etroleum, for an affection of the breast and a fundamental in the series in the closer pain in the close, and a cough. I took the Petroleum in larger does than is recommended in the directions, but after taking it a tow days be in any family, for I believe it to be a valuable medicine. The etroleum produced no unpleasant feelings whatever in the use of it.

Fittstary, March 16, 1850.

WE "STOP THE PRESS" in order to 'wed to immortal verse' the incident noted "for the Chronicle" as follows, to wit, v-i-s.: In April Eighteen hundred fi ty two I stood on a add the land-cape to view I spied a man in hunt of game In lew of game he found a log chain From off the owners land he did know It ought not to go In place of that he went on the other side

Behind old log- and leaves his treasure to hide We know not for what design Unless for the use of schoolhouses and Churches to cot fine. We are assured by a spirit-rapper's ghost that the above, foregoing, heretofore-quoted gem is all original-not a line stolen from Shakspeare, nor an idea borrowed from two Milton-but was all written in an evening by a single gentleman, with one boot off. and without partaking of any refreshment during the operation !

More True THAN ELEGANT .- The New York Courier, speaking of the doings in the House of Representatives says: JOB "From its first breath, it has not done a good thing. It has cost the country more than half a million of dollars to keep its body and soul sogether, and not the slightest title in the way of equivalent has yet been rendered. Like a graceless truant, it has not done the work it was sent to do, but has spent its time in playing hide and seek in coalition bushes, making mud-pies from the scraping of the political gutter, pulling the feathers out of the old party bantams, breaking up mares' nests and sucking the eggs, hopping on one leg without a quorum, turning sommersetts on the previous question and giving it a crick on the back, swimming on bunkum bladders, practising bloody words, and giving bloody noses."

A Good One .- At a dancing party, not a hundred miles from here, one of the braux got a little corned. He, of course, felt himself as good as may budy. Asking a young indy, who lived in the vicinity a grist mill, to dance, she decaped; whereupon ne instituted a parley, remarking that if he was not good enough to dance with her, he would come down to the mill and be ground over. "Count down," said the lady; "but you will remainer that the first process in grinding will be to run you through the smut machine."

A Good 'Un is told of an old gentieman in this city, whose eight or ten clerks had bored him to death with conundrums. burg; GW Kessler and Roshong & Antis, New Going home one evening he was stopped Berlin; Ju M Taylor, Mifflinburg; S J Crouse, in front of a closed store by a countryman P C Moyer, Freeburg; J H Caslow, Milton who asked-

"Can you tell me, my friend, why this store is closed?"

"Go to blazes!" cried he, "with your -conundrums ! I've been bored todeath with 'em these three weeks."

PADDY MILES. -Two Irish foot Pate. coming on the National Road, saw a milstone, which read 208 miles from Cumberland. After decyphering the letters, one says to the other, "Thread lightly, Mile; that's an auld feller; 208 years anid, and Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dyehis name is Miles from Cumberland."

The Milwaukee Advertiser thus sums up the hanging question : "After a care- parenage which he has received, and he assures ful consideration of all the arguments for and against capital punishment, we have Drugs shall be tully tested before they are offered come to the conclusion that the debt of for sale and warranted to be pure and genuine. nature should never be paid if it can't be collected without an execution."

ARISTOCRATIC WIT .- To ridicule the Secret Ballot Law in the late Rhode Island election, one hundred of the SOME thou-ands in number, of all sizes, for nabobs of Newport turned out in white kid gloves, and put their envelopes containing votes into the box with silver sugar tongs.

"I think," said a farmer, "I should make a good Congressman, for I use their language. I received two bills the other day, with request of immediate payment the one I ordered to be laid on the tablethe other to be read that day six months!"
