In the summer of 1849, I had a small field of 41 acres in clover, which I pastured a while, and then let the clover grow until it was fit to cut for seed. With a large plow and three strong horses, I plowed it, then harrowed it effectually, and let it lie until 28th of September, when I toded it. In the harvest of 1850, I cut bargain. RECOMMENDATIONS.

There this day carefully impacted a conductor or lightning Red, with vane and index, erected by Mr. Thomas Arainage, on helicyne Radne, Goneseter, and have no hesitation in saving that it is not only the less I have ever you, but that it is the only one I have yet examined that is constructed on strictly scientific princi-ples. It is with much pleasars that I recommend his conductor to the attention of owners of buildings.

left with Editor of the Lewisburg Chronicl I am well satisfied that the Magnetic Lightsing Red. I am well satisfied that the Magnetic Lichtsing Red, manufactured by Mr. Thomas Armitage, of Philadelphia, is the best that has ever been made. There spent several years in the study of the laws of electrisist and magnet ism and have no heatathin in avains that these Rols are constructed upon the only principle of asfety. The electric shock is reserved and dispersed by the magnet at the top of the rod, and it would be impossible, according to the laws of affinished and repulsion. Fit a building to be injured by a stocks of lighting when protected by one of these rods. I have been acquainted with Mr. Armitago for several years, and before he commenced the manufac-tage of these rods I examined the principle on which they are constructed, and full convinces that their adoption would be atta aled with complete success. The increasing of the country, is ample commendation of their utility an superiority. TRACY F. WALLER, M. D. Rhing Sun, Philad. Co., April 10, 1852.
