An Inquiry.

Mr. Epiron-As some of the beetly of Union county are so opposed to the erection of a Railroad through it, as to foresten a " second whiskey insurrection ' to obstruct the only means of making it, would it not be as well to attempt held them to their word, and let this end of the county take its money and intest it in Bridges to reach the Railroad on the other side of the River? A perpetual feil on both opponents and friends of the Road, down to the third and fourth gene- New York. ration, would be more profitable to the north chd of the county than a Reilroad. Héartey.

We can not agree with out correspondent. We own no town lots or farms, all of which would be greatly increased is value by a Railroad on this side of the River. But every rich man and every poor man, would save money by paying his equal three of the $200,000 even, rather than here to pay 2 to 25 cents toll per head every time his family should go to or from the Railron4. Besides, Bridges showst always get into the hands of a few men, and become much more of a monopoly then Beffways. There is no real danger of paying the $200,000-but the ENDLESS BRIDDE TAX would be cretain 5 it would be a creat loss in itself, and the loss to Union county property, prospectively, would be three times $200,000. Northumberland county would soon be our superior in numbers, business, and wealth. No-the Railroad instead of Tell Bridges.
