The Democratic fires burn brightly in old Centre, and you will hear a good account of us through the ballot-box.

S. H., Jr. The Ball Rolls On!

The Democracy are full of entl confident of success, and their political demonstrations begin to partake of the character of 1841, the precursors of the glorious victory that then rested upon the Democratic banner. The imposing demonstration at Reading on Saturday was indeed a grand mass meeting, as the Whigs christened their Harrisburg failure in advance. Such a demonstration will rouse even Old Berks to renewed exertions, and iuspire the Democracy of the whole State with renewed courage and to renewed exertions as the tidings reach them.

At Pittsburg, on Friday evening, at a few hours notice, the masses turned out to meet and welcome General Houston and General SHIELDS, and a meeting that far outnumbered even the great mass meeting of the recent Free Soil Convention held on the same spot.

And such is our intelligence from every part of the State. The Democratic fires burn brightly. Strong in the consciousness of a righteous cause, proud of the character and qualifications of their candidates, and confident of success, the Democracy are moving on in solid phalanx and in cheerful tread to certain victory; while, on the other hand, the Whigs are dispirited, the intelligent of their leaders give up the election of Scorr, and the loud boasting of the press is but the counterpart to the whistling of the belated traveler, who thus endeavors to keep up his courage as he passes the church-yard. True, Whiggery is looking up, but it is because that "same old coon" is flat on his back .- Hollidaysburg Standard.

A Beautiful Tribute.

The editor of the New York Journ al Commerce, one of the oldest and ablest Whig journals in the country, pays the following just and handsome tribute to the character of Gen. PIERCE, the Democratic nominee for President:

" All who have, with an impartial eye, observed the conduct of the nominee of the Democratic party for the office of President, this opportunity to resign my position on the Electoral Ticket as one of the Senatorial must have been struck with his unobtrasive and monly spirit, evinced whenever called upon th act or to speak. These sures in the premises as may be necessary traits of character are rare in public men, and proper. and especially among those who, bred to other pursuits, quit them in time of war for service in the Seld. We heard, however, not only from his political friends, but also from his political opponents, his neighbors and acquaintances, the most friendly and respectful, and often the most enthusiastic testimeny to his high and noble qualities. Even in the time of Judge Woodbury, it is conceded that Gen. Pierce had command of the State, but that he never used his power and influence for himself, as he preferred ever to live among his neighbors as a private citizen, enjoying the honors awarded to him on all hands as the head of the bar of New Hampshire .-His resignation as Senator in Congress, as The following letter from an active an officer of the army when service could and influential Democrat, late a citizen of no longer be rendered, and his refusal to this county, enclosing the money for a accept the office of Attorney General and number of new democratic subscribers to the gubernatorial chair of State, are acts in the "Chronicle," reached us yesterday. harmony with the universal opinion held It will be seen that the writer, like hun- towards him by his neighbors and friends. dreds of the democracy we could name in Gen. One advantage is to divide and throwback a part of the electric fluid harmless to the clouds; in time of a stroke this enables the red to conduct that portion of fluid that belongs ! to the earth without the slightest danger of leaving the conductor. I have this day carefully imposted a conductor of Lightning Red, with vane and index, erected by Mr. Thomas Armitisge, on Bellevue House, Gloucester, and have no hesitation in saying that it is not only the best I have ever seen, but that it is the only one I be-

conductor to the attention of eveners of buildings.

It would satisfied that the Marnette Lightning Rost, manufactured by Mr. Thomas Armitage, of Philistelphia, is the best that has ever been made. I have spent several years in the study of the laws of electricity and magnetism, and have no besitation in saying that these Rods are constructed upon the only principle of safety. The electric shock is received and dispersed by the magnet at the top of the rod, and it would be impossible, sfewaring to the laws of attraction and repulsion, for a building to be injured by a stroke of lightning when protected by one of these rods. I have been sequainted with Mr. Armitage for several years, and be for he enamenced the manufacture of these rods I examined the principle on which they are constructed, and fest convenient that their adoption would be attended with complete success. The increasing beginning for these rods, and the extensive sales in all parts of the country, is ample commendation of their widity and of the country, is anaple commendation of their utility as aperiority.
