Thoughts on Autumn.

Gone hath the Spring, with all its flowers, And gone the Summer's pomp and show, And Autumn, in his leafless lowers, Is waiting for the Winter's snow.

I said to Earth, so cold and gray,

"An emblem of myself thou art;"

"Not so," the Earth did seem to say,

"For Spring shall warm my frozen heart—

. I soothe my wintry sleep with dreams Of warmer sun and softer rain, And wait to hear the sound of streams And songs of merry tards again.

. But thou from whom the Spring bath gone, For whom the flowers no longer blow, Who standeth blighted and forlors,

Like Autumn waiting for the snow; "No hope is thine of sunnier hours,

No Spring regive the wasted flowers, Nor Sammer warm the freeze heart." J. G. Whittern.
