"Take Him Out!"

The best joke that we have heard related of the believers in "spiritual knockings" is told of a man in Norfolk county, in this state, who a few weeks since visited the house of a neighboring farmer, and as soon as the dishes were removed from the supper table proposed to have a "sitting' with the family in the kitchen, to see if his dear guardian angel, St. Luke, would make some new revelation.

After sitting in death-like silence for about ten minutes, some one hinted the possibility of the gentleman's being mistaken about his receiving communications from St. Luke; whereupon the spiritualist brought his fist down upon the table with decided emphasis, and exclaimed:

"Gentlemen, I know that I've had communications from my dear guardian angel, St. Luke. Yes, you may laugh as much as you like, but St. Paul is in the room veore! Yes, his blessed spirit is here, I feel something n-e-o-w in my t-r-ous-ers! Yes, I-oh! ah! ki! yi! take him cout! take him cout!"

And here the gentlen an leaped from his chair, grasped with both hands that portion of his pantaloons which is usually worn thinnest, and begged the spectators in the most pitcous tones to "take him cout, or he should die on the spot."

Requesting the ladies to leave the room. the gentlemen present made an examination of the spiritualist's pantaloons, and found them to contain a mouse, that by the stillness of the company had been induced to leave his quarters and search for crumbs upon the floor. It is not known whether the gentleman still believes that he is watched over by his friend St. Luke, as he now avoids all spiritual assemblies and is immediately silenced when he attempts to introduce the subject of spiritual knockings by the mischievous boys exclaiming, "Take him eout I take him cont " - Boston Museum.
