We have received THREE free-breathing Newspapers-each established upon the rains of Party papers-recently issued upon the principle of the old motto-

"Here shall the PRESS the PROFLY'S RIGHTS maintain Unawed by Influence, and unbribed by Gain; Here Patriot TRUTH her glorious precapts draw, Pledged to RELIGION, LEERIT, and Law."

They are-the Independent Press, by J.W. BARRETT. Williamsport: the Lackawanna Herald, by C. E. LATHROP, Scranton; the Weekly Ledger, by J. Robbins, Schuvlkill Haven. Firm hands and honest hearts will ensure their conductors that success which we heartily invoke for them.

[Correspondence of the Lewisburg Chronicle.] MAQUORETA, Iowa, May 3, 1858.

Since February, when I wrote you last, I have been traveling nearly all the time through Illinois, Iowa, and Wisconsin. I find that the emigration this spring, to all of these States, will double that of any previous year. Hundreds of families from Pennsylvania have already reached reached their destination, in this, (Jackson) county, and thousands more are coming. The emigration from Pennsylvania to this county, is principally from Mercer county. Those coming in are generally well pleased with the change, and will write back flattering accounts to their friends. This now quite thickly settled. Yesterday and the day previous, will be remembered here as being quite an era in the history of Iowa. A large and very enthusiastic meeting was held for the purpose of devising ways and means to build a railroad from Sabula, on the Mississippi, to Cedar taken and pledged, and there is no doubt school.

ducements to emigrants, does not favorably compare with that portion of Illinois lying south of Rock river-particularly Fulton, Knox, Warren, and M'Donough counties. The eastern portion of it is quite broken and rough, and timber is very scarce : added to this, there is no coal nearer than Rock Island-a distance of 100 miles, by land and water. The western part of the county is better adapted to agricultural pursuits, being more level, and better supplied with timber. Iowa is filling up fast, and with the right kind of people; butthough one of the best of the Western States-it never can compare with Illinois, either in point of agricultural resources and wealth, or for population or mineral stores. I have traveled through all the Western States and Territories, and no one of them can or ever will equal Illinois. I have, after looking over the whole western river, in Fulton county, being fully satisfied that it is the best country in the West. son.
