Altogether, we ask what country paper is so obligingly supplied with entertaining matter, from far and near, as the Lewisburg Chronicle?-This week it literally realizes the familiar description of the Post Boy of old-

"News from all nations Lumbering at his back."

"Come, gentle Spring! etherial mildness, come!" well loaded wagons passing through town roofs. The flame arising from such a quancularly winterish and unsociable.

Reasons considered.

A distinguished citizen of this county has exercised his undoubted privilege by writing to numerous members of the Legislature against the Division project. A tion. The writer says-

1. "Union is note one of the smallest counber in the House of Reps."

There are we believe trenty counties in Waterloo he lost an arm. the State with less territory than Union; thirty-six with less population; and forty-so much injustice to the people as to cut so small a county into two nurrow strips, and to place the scale of justice at the very extreme verge of both, viz Lewisburg and Schinsgrove!"

4. "The average width of the land in the new county that is susceptible of cultivation, would be not more than 5 or 54 miles wide."

The writer refers only to the extensive valley of Middlecreek, which has also important tributaries. But how came he to overlook PERRY, and the valley of Little Mahantongo? How could be forget the snug dells and the rich uplands of WASH. Butter ....... 15 INGTON and MIDDLECREEK? And how could be ignore the existence of the back lands "susceptible of cultivation in and Chapman —of the fertile River flatts of Miffinburg.
