PHILADA., June 26, 1854. The history of our city has not a parallel to the state of affairs existing for the fairly adopt Casar's motto: Veni, vidi, vici! The most sanguine expectations have been more than realized, both as regards the execution of the law against liquor celling on Sunday, and the effects. and the latter has furnished the most substantial argument for the entire suppression of the rum traffic, that has ever been presented to the community.

Proclamations have heretofore meant really nothing, and have only been issued because extorted by the most flagrant abuses, and hence people were not at all prepared for the state of affairs to which they

Indeed our beautiful city has for a long time been a " by-word and hissing" among our moral neighbors of " Gotham" and " Athens," and no wonder. 1 have seen from my window, of a Sabbath afternoon, from five hundred to one thousand engaged in a regular pitched battle, with an incessant discharge of firearmsdare-devils in broad daylight, running as close to the opposite party as a safe retreat would warrant, and firing with deliberate aim into the midst of the crowd ; committees engaged in tearing up pavements, and detachments busy in carrying the bricks and paving stones thus procured, to the forces in action ; and this not for a single day, but repeatedly. Of course it would be scarcely just to charge all this directly
