When we knocked at the We'll all in the end find against us is booked." door for almittance, they answered it together; if we rang the bell, husband and wife invariably appeared side by side; all our requests and demands were received by both, and executed with the utmost nicety and despatch.

The first night, arriving late by ceach from Newcastle, and merely requiring our tea and a good fire, we were puzzled to understand the reason of this double attendance, and I remember my brother wondering whether we were always to be waited npon by these Siamese Twins! On ringing the bell, to retire for the night, they both appeared as usual; the wife carrying the bed-room candle, the husband standing at the door. I gave her some directions about breakfast for the following morning, and the husband from the door quickly answered for her.

They both attended me into my bedroom, when the old lady, seeing me look with some surprise towards her husband, said, "There's no offence meant by my husband coming with me into the chamb-CT-HE'S STONE BLIND !"

"Poor man!" I exclaimed. "But why, then, does he not sit still? Why does he accompany you everywhere?"

"It's no use in your speaking to my old vife," said the hurband, " she can't hear you-she's QUITE DEAF!"

I was astonished. Here was compensation. Could a pair be better matched? Man and wife were, indeed, one flesh; for he saw with her eyes, and she heard with his ears! It was beautiful to me, ever after, to watch the old man and woman in their inseparableness. Their sympathy with each other was as swift as electricity, and made their deprivation as naught.

I have often thought of that old couple, and can not but hope, that as in life they were inseparable to each other, so in death they might not be divided, but either be spared the calamity of being alone in the world .- Chambers' Journal.

Arithmetical Puzzle.

A very ingenious arithmetical puzzle has been going the rounds of the papers, and has considerably exercised the brains of mathematicians. It is stated thus : arrange the nine digits and the cypher so that their total addition shall be one hundred. We have seen in several papers a tempts at a solution, but in every case four of the digits were compounded into fractions, and the writers asserted that it could not be done without the use of these fractions. The Salem Gazette, however, offers the following simple solution, which answers the requirements of the problem :

OWE-NOTHING SOCIETY .- A Southern editor advertises that he wishes to unite himself to an "owe-nothing society," and hopes all his subscribers will do likewise. The Christian Secretary adds to the above: "we should be glad to join such a society ourself, but cannot do so without the cooperation of all our subscribers."

THE MODERNS VS. THE ANCIENTS. The old direction to young men seeking wisdom was, "Know Thyself." This explains the origin of the new political association-for it is quite plain that the following out of such an injunction by most people, would make them complete Know Nothings !

A new Poor House, in Cook County, Illinois, was recently inaugurated by grand ball. The idea is indicative of progress, and the example may be useful. Opening a Poor House with a ball! "This is a great country."

The Richmond (Va.) Dispatch states that a Relief House has been opened in that city, and that on Thursday 163 poor it. persons, and on Friday as many more, were furnished with food. In order to do anything in this world worth doing, we must not stand shivering on the bank, and thinking of the cold and the danger, but jump in and scramble through as well as we can. Punch thinks that the American fathers | buy.
