A good House for Rent in Lewisburg, and a good Farm for Sale in Kelly township.

Steam Planing Mill.

We are informed that Messrs. John D. Dieffenber and Henry R. Noll have bought ground and are proceeding to the erection of a Steam Planing Mill in Lewisburg, this season.

Tax for a new Court House.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the people of Center county, although it is rated below Union county, and has a better Court House, are about to be taxed for a new Court House.

Union Furnace—Winfield.

This work—only four short miles below Lewisburg—although somewhat delayed in its first movements by those accidents which are common to iron-works, seems now to have surmounted every obstacle, and is producing 80 or 90 tons of metal per week.

The Town Hall Bell, on Monday morning, rang its own funeral knell, and the structure is demolished.

Well, farewell old Town Hall! you answered for the Lewisburg of 1845, but you were too small for the year 1855.

Courts.

The Trial List of Union county has for some years embraced about One Hundred suits per Term—and generally several Terms, or perhaps Years, pass by before a case works, from the bottom to the top of the List.

Before the division of Columbia, its Courts were long and expensive. Since that event, its List is cleared, and business properly attended to.

We could point to several similar examples in smaller counties. The expense of Courts in larger counties, is enormous.

Take, for illustration, the best—the grand county of Lancaster. This county, with its comparatively level surface, and its railroads and turnpikes penetrating its County Seat in every direction, is advantageously located, yet its huge size makes it in many respects burdensome and inconvenient.

Take another example—the moral, well regulated county of Chester. With a taxable list of 15,128, the Commissioners' orders (for ordinary expenses) last year, amounted to $51,172—Union, with 5,779 taxable, paid for all purposes, $9,793.

One week Term (as the Division Law fixes) it is believed will be amply sufficient in Union and Snyder counties, by which all suits will soon be brought to trial in due time, or be dismissed; no new Law Judge would be required; the Associates would be paid, by the State, $30 per year less than are now allowed where over six weeks Courts are held; the travel fees of witnesses and jurors would be less by half; and all the expenses of each Court would hardly be half what the one now is.

The New Berlin Star of this week, has a statement which for baldness of detail and boldness of imposture, outstrips the Star. It gives a statement showing the increase of County Tax in the proposed county of Snyder, in case of a Division, and gives the Tax now assessed in both Counties at $9,902.

The Star says the above is "the ordinary expenses of the County holding but one week's Court," the half of which is now assessed on Snyder county 4,302.

Well, farewell old Town Hall! you answered for the Lewisburg of 1845, but you were too small for the year 1855.

The Star of this week revives the false accusation that the people of Pottsville agreed to construct a Court House and Jail in the event of a removal from Orwigsburg. We showed last fall from the Laws, that Pottsville never agreed to erect the Jail. They agreed to put up the other County Buildings, and they did so. The Jail, by the law allowing the removal, was to be built at the county expense, and was so built. The vast increase of population in the county, and the desperate character of its prisoners, show that the Jail is none too large or too strong.

A gentleman from "Snyder county" informs us that New Berlin's men are leaving printed circulars, to be kept private, with "the faithful" Of course it is useless to guess what they contain. Any fair or honest argument, need not be concealed from the public. "Eleventh hour" Last Cards" are generally as false as they are despised by all sensible men.

The Size of Counties.

One of the arguments most persistently urged against Division in our county, is, that it is "too small to divide." Even the Philad. Ledger comes "to the rescue" of New Berlin, and gravely informs the Divisionists of this county that they are very unwise!

As to population, each county would have 15,000 or 16,000 to start with—a larger number than any new county in the State had when constituted—a number large enough for county purposes, in every respect.

As to wealth, each county would have about $3,000,000 valuation, and be superior in that respect to over two-fifths of the counties of the State, and nearly equal to a majority.

Reliable Data. The following statistics are designed to illustrate the gradual increase of business facilities, as developed by the increase of population, along the River districts of Union county:

Table with 4 columns: River Districts, Population in 1850, Increase, and Whole-Town. Rows include White Deer, Kelly, Buffalo, Lewisburg, East Buffalo, Union, Penns, Selinsgrove, Washington, Chapman, Central and Western, Perry, West Beaver, Beaver, Franklin, Middlecreek, Limestone, Jackson, West Buffalo, Hartley, Millburg, New Berlin.

These facts prove, that from 1840 to 1850, the River districts gained 2366, and the Central and Western districts gained 1130—over 2 to 1 in favor of the River districts.

—The annexed table shows the Votes on the Division (and Bond) trial in 1853, and the last two contests for Assembly. None of these tests were fair and unembarrassed from side issues; but as they afford some clue to popular feeling—and show the fluctuations of public opinion—it will be valuable for reference, estimate, and comparison:

Table with 4 columns: Division, Assembly, 1853, and 1854. Rows include White Deer, Kelly, Buffalo, Lewisburg, East Buffalo, Union, Penns, Selinsgrove, Chapman, Perry, West Beaver, Beaver, Franklin, Center, Middlecreek, Hartley, West Buffalo, Millburg, Limestone, Jackson, New Berlin.

Majorities 181 419 185. —And the Petitions and Remonstrances in round numbers were as follows:

Table with 4 columns: In 1853, 1854, 1855, and Remonstrances. Rows include In 1853, 1854, 1855, and Remonstrances.
