Stitching a Button Hole.

"The best shot I ever knew, was a tailor, at Albany. He used to be very fond of brousin' in the forest sometimes, and the young fellows were apt to have a shy at Thimble. They talked of skirts of the forest, the capes of the Hudson, laughing in their sleeves, giving a fellow a basetin, having a stitch in the side, cuffing a fellow's ears, taking a tuck-in at lunch, or calling a mint julip an inside lining, and so on; and every time any of these words came out, they all laughed like anything.

"Well, the critter, who was really a capital fellow, used to join in the laugh himself, but still grinnin' is no proof a man enjoys it; for a hyena will laugh, if you give him a poke. So what does he do, but practice in secret every morning and evening at pistol-shooting for an hour or two, until he was a shade more than perfection itself. Well, one day he was out with a party of them same coons, and they began to run the old rig on him as us usual. And he jumps up on end, and in a joking kind o' way, said: Gentlemen can any of you stitch a button-hole, with the button in it? Well, they all roared out like mad.

"'No, Sirree,' said they, 'but come, show us, Thimble, will you? that's a good fellow. Tom, fetch the goose, to press it when it's done. Dick, cabbage a bit of cloth for him to try it upon. Why, Tom, you are as sharp as a needle.

"'Well,' said he, 'I'll show you.'

"So he went to a tree, and took out of his pocket a fippenny bit, with a hole in the centre, and putting it in a small nail, which he had provided, he fastened it to the tree."

"'Now,' said he, taking out a pair of pistols, and of ammunition, from the bottom of his prog baskyt, where he had hid them. 'Now,' said he, gentlemen, the way to stitch a button-hole, is to put balls all round that button, in a close ring, and never disturb them; that's what we tailors call workmanlike,' and he fired away, shot after shot, till he had done it.

"'Now,' said he, 'gentlemen,' that button has to be fastened,' and he fired, and drove the nail that it hung on, into the tree. "And now, gentlemen," said he, "I have stood your shot for many a long day; turn about is fair play. The first man that cracks a joke with me, on account of my calling, must stand my shot, and if I don't stitch his button-hole for him, I am no tailor; that's all."

"Well, they all cheered him when he sat down, and they drank his health; and the boss of the day said: "Well Street," said he, "you are a man."

"There you are again, said Street; that is a covered joke at a tailor being only the ninth part of one. I pass it over this time, but let's have no more of it."

"'No, Sirree, no,' said boss; 'on honor now, I didn't mean it. And I say, too, let there be no more of it.'"

The Telegraph in Alabama.

The prejudices in the upper part of this State to the magnetic telegraph do not seem to be removed. The people attribute the drouth to it. The North Alabamian says that the following proclamation was found posted near the line of Marion County. It is printed verbatim:

THE STATE OF ALABAMA } this the 5 May 185[illegible]
Marion County }

Notice to the Managers of the Tellegraft Ware you ar hereby forwarned to not to put up the ware any more for it shal not Stay up any more long at a time if you do not let it stay down the hole country is going to Just go before your Eyes and tare it down and cut the post and throw a way the glasses and throw a way the ware and shin the first man sais any thing A garast it and throw his hide a crows A pole and split 000000

Jump up John the Wolf ketcher

The North Alabamian relates the following story: One of the men engaged in building the line through the "infected region" when it was first put up, eight years ago, tells an anecdote of an old lady who is now prominent among the believers in the new theory. Our informant says that when they were putting up the wire opposite the dwelling of the old lady referred to, she came out and insisted that they should put it further from the house for, says she, "Supposin' thar should be a war, and they should be sendin' cannons and bombs along the telegraft and they should bust right here and tear everything all to pieces, I should like to know who's a gwine to pay for it? Take it away off thar, for I don't like the pesky thing no how!"—Mobile Tribune, May 17th.

WOMAN.—It is seldom that Julius Cæsar Hannibal says anything not worth quoting, but the following is extra good:

"Dey may rail against woman as much as dey like, dey can't set me up against dem to be fust in lub, fust in a quarrel, fust in de dance, de fust in de ice cream sloon, and de fust, best, and de last, in de sick room. What would we poor debils do without em? Let us be born as young, as ugly, and as helpless as we please, and a woman's arm am open to receibe us. She it am who gubs us our fust guster oil, and puts close 'pon our helplessly necked lims, and cubbers up our naked foots and toses in flannel petticoats, and it am she who, as we grow up, fills our dinner basket wid doenuts and apples as we start to skool, and licks us when we tears our trowsis."

"Ned, who is that girl I saw you walking with?"

"Miss Hogg."

"Hogg, Hogg—well, she's to be pitied for having such a name."

"So I think," rejoined Ned. "I pitied her so much that I offered her mine, and she is going to take it presently."

The motto at the head of the Council Bluffs Bugle is—"Terms three dollars; truth though crushed shall rise again, if in advance!"

George Sturges,

SOLE Manufacturer of the Improved Spiral Spring Matresses, No. 32 Walnut St., Philadelphia.

FIVE SILVER MEDALS awarded, viz. Two by the American Institute, New York, Oct. 1851 and Franklin Institute, Philadelphia, Nov. 1852. One at the Maryland Institute, Baltimore, Nov. 1852.

The peculiar improvement in the construction of this Matress is, that all the clumsy and heavy wooden frame work is entirely dispensed with, and its place supplied by a lighter and much more durable frame, the springs are all connected by harness-leather hinges, securely riveted, rendering it impossible for a single spring to fall down or get out of place, and making a Bed so elastic that any part may be raised or beat up, and is thus admirably fitted to the wants of the sick or asthmatic who may require a sitting posture, having the luxurious softness of the best Feather Bed with the lightness and facility of handling of the common Hair Matress.

These improved Spring Beds are incredibly made of the best materials, and will last many years without repairs.

Persons having Hair Mattresses, can have them altered into Spring Bed.

These Beds are well adapted for Hotels, berths of Ships, Steamboats and Hospitals.

Spring Seats for Chairs, Carriages or Church Pews and Hair and Husk Mattresses made to order.—Also an extensive assortment of highly ornamented (in enamel) and plain finished

SALAMANDER SAFES!

Evans & Watson, No. 26 South Fourth St., Philadelphia.

Great Fire at Chestnut & Fifth Sts., Friday morning, Dec. 15th, 1854—EVANS & WATSON'S SALAMANDER SAFES TRIUMPHANT, as they always are when put to the test!

—PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 15, 1854.

Messrs. Evans & Watson, No. 20 South Fourth St.

Gentlemen—We take much pleasure in recommending your Salamander Safes to Merchants and others in want of a secure means of preserving their books, papers &c. from fire, as the one we purchased from you about seven months since has preserved our books, papers and cash in as good a condition as they were when put into it, before the great fire of this morning, which destroyed the entire Block of buildings corner of Chestnut and Fifth streets. The above safe was in use in our office, on the second floor of our building, from which place it fell into the cellar, and remained there until the fire was out. The Safe was then removed and opened in the presence of at least 1000 persons, who witnessed the good condition of its contents. Will you please have the Safe and Locks repaired, as we intend to put it in use again, having perfect confidence in its fire-proof qualities.

Yours, respectfully,
LACEY & PHILLIPS."

Evans & Watson take pleasure in referring to the following, among the many hundreds who have their Safes in use: U. S. Mint, Philada.; Farmers' & Mechanics' Bank, Philada.; Samuel Allen, Esq., High Sheriff, Philada.; John N. Henderson, City Controller; Caleb Cope & Co., No. 183 Market St.; Richard Norris & Son, Locomotive builders, Philada.; Bancroft & Sellers, Machinists, corner 16th and James Sts.; Franklin Fire Insurance Co., Philada.; Pennsylvania Railroad Co., Philada.; Lacey & Phillips, corner 5th and Minor Sts.; Sharpless & Bro., No. 72 South Second St.; James, Kent & Santee, No. 147 North Third St.; W. H. Horstman & Sons, No. 51 North Third St.; Smith, Williams & Co., No. 87 Market St.; J. & B. Orne, No. 185 Chestnut St.

☞ A large assortment of the above Safes always on hand (warranted to stand at least 10 per cent. more fire than any Herring's Safe now in use). EVANS & WATSON also manufacture and keep for sale, Iron Shutters, Iron Doors and Iron Sash, for making fire-proof Vaults for Banks, stores, public and private buildings; Seal and Letter Copying Presses; Patent Slate Lined Refrigerators, &c. HERRING'S

Patent Champion Fire-Proof SAFES, with HALL'S Patent Powder-Proof Locks, which were awarded separate Medals at the World's Fair, London, 1851, and also at the World's Fair, New York, 1853 and 1854. The subscribers are the sole manufacturers and proprietors in this State of the above unequalled Safes and Locks. The reputation of the genuine "Herring's Safe" is world wide, and for the last thirteen years the mercantile community have witnessed and borne testimony to their NEVER FAILING fire proof qualities. More than 12,000 of these Safes have been actually sold, and over two hundred have passed triumphantly through accidental fires. The public are assured that all Safes manufactured by the subscribers are not only guaranteed to be fully equal, but in many respects even superior to those which have been so severely tried by fire. Few will forget their services in the burning of the "Tribune establishment," New York, and at the Great Fire in Strawberry street, at the large fire last July, opposite the Girard House: and still more recently in the Fire at Fifth and Chesnut Sts., in this city, in which these Safes came forth the acknowledged CHAMPION, when many other securities failed. The New York Tribune.

DAILY $6, Semi-weekly $3, Weekly $2
ALWAYS IN ADVANCE.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has now a circulation—legitimate—larger than was ever before accorded to any general newspaper whatever. This circulation has been gradually and laboriously attained by concentrating upon THE TRIBUNE the best efforts of many editors and correspondents, and by a greater liberality of outlay in each department than was probably ever before exhibited on any journal. It has been attained also by yielding sensibly to the current of opinion as before the world and backing in the issues of majorities, but by an earnest, fearless devotion to Truth and Progress as above all partisan extraneous, all temporary interests, all momentary impulses of popularity and success.

The leading ideas to which THE TRIBUNE is devoted may be briefly set forth as follows: 1. Faith in God, in whatever is essentially right—not alone for white Americans, or Anglo Saxons, or Caucasians even—but for one Race to determine whether they will or will not hold another Race in abject bondage—but for every Race and Nation, and every adult rational human being. This Freedom is rightfully absolute in the broad domain of opinion, and involves the equal and imperative right to Political Franchises; 2. Union, or the necessary right of the States, individual majority to intermeddle in the sphere of Action all practicable Union, all demand-sustaining, thereby pre-supposed to the common weal; 3. Broad Views, or the wisdom and policy of employing the resources and credit of the community to accomplish works of general and unappropriated utility, to which individual means are inadequate, or which, though eminently conducive to the public good, do not promise due remuneration by their direct income the outlay required for their construction; 4. Internal Improvement, as the Corner-stone of a true and beneficent National Policy, counting the naturalization of a new or valuable art or product of the soil no more important than the acquisition of a fresh province or State; and equally solicitous for the legitimate sphere of National exertion and national effort; 5. Free Labor, and the conditions of true progress, to be elucidated by the most serious, assiduous study to profit as readily as we are prone to popular prejudice, every wrong, and resolve to do none, except at the call of undisputed liberty. Such, in the chief lineaments, is the ideal by which THE TRIBUNE directs its course.
