

EXTRACT FROM A FASHIONABLE NOVEL

Idolista. By the author of "Humboldt" & "The Two" &c. She is seated in the school balcony, enjoying, with a true refinement of taste, the delicious aroma of the costly Eastern exotics and lovely artificial flowers by which she is surrounded, most companions for one so exclusively beautiful as herself.

By her side a courtly cavalier, who, however, appears strangely inattentive to the enchanting Ida. He leans over the edge of the balcony, gazing abstractedly round the square. The only object of the slightest visible in that locality is a busy lamp-lighter, who flits rapidly to and fro. Suddenly our hero, Estace Montgomery de Vasseaux—for 'tis he—breaks the dreamy silence:

"Ida, seeest thou that you ruffian, who is preparing to climb to that lamp, who, in order to illuminate the immediate region thereof? Tell me, wherefore doth he resemble Mont Blanc?"

A charming smile and a slight shake of that noble head denote her inability to do so.

"Because, dearest, he is now a mountain (mountain). Dust take, loveliest one?"

A faint shriek rises out upon the still air, and a cry rings "that the Lady Ida is swooning!"

A COUNTRY SCENE.

From the Philad. Christian Chronicle. It was the path in the morning we trod leading us through the grove to the temple of God! What bright sparkling dew-drops were strewn in our way, the jewels and gems on the garments of May! After up the hill-side, and down on the lawn, like plumes in the sunlight, we saw acres of corn, as tall as a field, and nodding with the breeze. An' the shores of the river, and the chestnut were there, all bearing their persons of green on the air! And the brooks and the mountain, like mirrors of glass, were framed in sweet daisies, all strewn with green. The glens of the woods were a verdant green, the fields of the meadows were a golden green; and the hills of flowers that gladdened our eyes, like diamonds of the angels, poured down from the skies. A star was the thought, as we journeyed along, and joined with the anthems of nature our song. That the grain field and orchard no longer might fill the hollows now of the worm of the mill; Nor the beautiful clouds show their treasures of rain to the sun, as they do of the rainbow's arch; And that the wind, with its soft and sweet voice, And bid Power, with the banner of Love in her hand; 'Tis the rule of the ocean and reign on the land; And that the sun, with his golden rays, And bid the sun of hope all the universe span. Florence Heights, on the Delaware. C.W.D.

A Nursery of Ministers.

At a Sunday School Convention recently held in the town of Lynchburg, Va., the Rev. J. B. Corron, agent for the Western Virginia of the Domestic Board of Missions auxiliary to the Baptist General Association of Virginia, stated that he knew of twenty-one ministers of the gospel, including himself, who had been connected with a Sunday school in the town of Lewisburg, Va., established on Union principles, many years ago, by Father Spotts, a Presbyterian Elder, in which Baptists, Methodists, and Presbyterians were united as teachers. Among those he mentioned the Rev. Dr. Plummer, now Professor in the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Pittsburgh, and the Rev. Mr. Shack, late Missionary to China, who he said, was brought in there a wild boy, and was there instructed and converted.—N. Y. Exam.

Hear the Voice of a Patriot.

HENRY CLAY, in his last great speech in the U. S. Senate, said: "I repeat it, Sir, I never can, and never will, and no earthly power can make me, vote directly to spread slavery over a territory where it does not exist. Nor while reason holds her seat in my brain—never while my heart sends the vital fluid through the veins—never!"

Nature and Revelation.

I wandered by the burying place, And sorely there I wept, To think how many of my friends Within its mansions slept; And, wrung with bitter grief, I cried A loud in my despair, "Where, dear companions, have ye fled?" And Echo answered, "Where?" While Nature's voice thus sounded me, A voice from Heaven replied, "Oh, weep not for the happy dead, Who in the Lord have died; Sweet is their rest who sleep in Christ, Though lost awhile to thee; Tread in their steps, and sweeter still Your meeting hour shall be!"

The Boston Post, which is no friend of "Sam," takes the liberty to pick out his text for his funeral sermon, which we presume will not be preached till he dies: Job, 8th chapter, 6th verse—"For we are of but yesterday and know nothing, because our days upon a earthen shadow."

Judge Edmonds, of New York, the crazy spiritualist, lately gave a lengthy opinion in favor of a prohibitory liquor law. One of his admirers thereupon perpetrated the following Epigram:

"Who'll Buy?"—There is an advertisement in a Kentucky paper of a minister for sale. He was a slave to a man recently deceased. It is stated in the advertisement that he holds a license to preach. Churches in want of a pastor will take notice.

"Samuel, beware of the vinnias as roads no usopaper. Your father married a woman what read none, an' you're the sad consequences. You're as ignorant as an ore."

We hope our citizens will not neglect the precaution of using lime about their premises this season, as now is the proper time to apply it.

George Sturges, Sole Manufacturer of the Improved Saddle Spring Mattresses, No. 92 Walnut St. Philadelphia.

FIVE SILVER MEDALS awarded, viz. Two at the American Institute, New York, Oct. 1854; one at the Franklin Institute, Philadelphia, Nov. 1854; one at the Maryland Institute, Baltimore, Nov. 1854. The peculiar improvement in the construction of this Mattress is, that the elastic and heavy wooden frame work is entirely dispensed with, and its place supplied by a lighter and much more durable frame, the springs are all connected by harness-leather hinges, securely riveted, rendering it impossible for a single spring to fall down or get out of place, and making a bed so elastic that any part may be raised or bent up, and is thus admirably fitted to the wants of the sick or asthmatic who may require a sitting posture, having the luxurious softness of the best Eastern Bed with the health and facility of handling of the common Hair Mattress.

These improved Spring Beds are invariably made of the best materials, and will last many years without repairs.

Persons desiring Hair Mattresses, can have them altered into Spring Beds.

These Beds are well adapted for Hotels, berths of Ships, Steamboats and Hospitals.

Spring Seats for Chairs, Carriages or Church Pews and Hair and Horse Mattresses, are made and repaired in an extensive and highly ornamented (in name) and plain furnished.

SALAMANDER SAFES!

Evans & Watson, No. 26 South Fourth St., Philadelphia.

Great Fire at Chestnut & Fifth Sts., Friday morning, Dec. 15th, 1854. The following is a list of the names of the persons and others in want of a secure means of preserving their books, papers &c., from fire, as the one we purchased from you about seven months since has preserved our books, papers and cash in as good a condition as they were when put into it, before the great fire of this city, which destroyed the entire block of buildings corner of Chestnut and Fifth streets. The above safe was in use in our office, on the second floor of our building, from which place it fell into the cellar, and remained there until the fire was out. The safe was then removed and opened in the presence of at least 1000 persons, who witnessed the good condition of its contents. Will you please have the safe and locks repaired, as we intend to put it in use again, having perfect confidence in its fire-proof qualities. Yours, respectfully, LACEY & PHILLIPS.

Evans & Watson take pleasure in referring to the following, among the many hundreds who have their safes in use: U. S. Mint, Philadelphia; Farmers' & Mechanics' Bank, Philadelphia; Samuel Allen, Esq., High Street, Philadelphia; John N. Henderson, City Controller; Caleb Cope & Co., No. 183 Market St.; Richard Norris & Son, Locomotive builders, Philadelphia; Hancock & Sellers, Machinists, corner 16th and James Sts.; Franklin Fire Insurance Co., Philadelphia; Pennsylvania Railroad Co., Philadelphia; Lacey & Phillips, corner 5th and Minor Sts.; Sharpless & Bro., No. 32 South Second St.; James Kent & Santee, No. 147 North Third St.; W. H. Horstman & Sons, No. 51 North Third St.; Smith, Williams & Co., No. 87 Market St.; J. & B. Orr, No. 145 Chestnut St.

Evans & Watson of the above Safes always on hand (warranted to stand at least 100 per cent more fire than any Herring's safe now in use). EVANS & WATSON also manufacture and keep for sale, Iron Shutters, Iron Doors and Iron Sash, for making fire-proof Vaults for Banks, stores, public and private buildings, Seal and Letter Copying Presses; Patent State Lard Refrigerators, &c. Please give us a call, at No. 26 South FOURTH St., Philadelphia. (April 6, '55—5747)

Dissolution of Partnership.

THE Partnership heretofore existing between David Blair and J. L. Barrett, in the business of the Mount Vernon House, No. 39 North Second Street, has been dissolved, and the mutual consent of J. L. Barrett having purchased the interest of David Blair, will continue to keep the Mount Vernon House.

DAVID BLAIR, J. L. BARRETT.

The Mount Vernon House will be continued by the subscriber, who will be happy to see his friends and spare no pains to make them comfortable. J. L. BARRETT.

HERRING'S Patent Champion Fire-Proof SAFES, with HALL'S Patent Power-Proof Locks.

These safes were awarded separate Medals at the World's Fair, London, 1851, and also at the World's Fair, New York, 1853 and 1854. The subscribers are the sole manufacturers and proprietors in this State of the above unequalled Safes and Locks. The reputation of the genuine "Herring's Safe" is world wide, and for the last thirteen years the mercantile community have witnessed and borne testimony to their superior fire-proof qualities. These safes have passed triumphantly through accidental fires. The public are assured that all Safes manufactured by the subscribers are not only guaranteed to be fully equal, but in many respects are superior to those which have been severely tried by fire. Few will forget their services in the burning of the "Tribune establishment," New York, and at the Great Fire in Strawberry street, at the large fire last July, opposite the Grand House, 5 and still more recently in the Fire at Fifth and Chestnut Sts. in this city, in which these Safes came forth the acknowledged CHAMPIONS, when many other securities failed.

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.

HELMBOLD'S Highly Concentrated Compound Fluid Extract of BUCHU, for Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Catarrhs, Diseases, Strictures, Weakness, and all diseases of the Sexual Organs, whether in Male or Female, from whatever cause they may have originated and no matter of how long standing.

If you have only the terrible disease which, when it is in the system, will surely go down from one generation to another, undermining the constitution, and finally taking its victim, you will find relief in the hands of Quack, who start up every day in a city like this, and fill the pages of your newspapers with their promises, and their promises are not to be trusted, and their promises are not to be trusted, and their promises are not to be trusted.

The Fluid Extract of Buchu has been pronounced by eminent Physicians to be the best and most powerful medicine in the world, and is a medicine perfectly pure in its taste and very pleasant in its action, and yet of extraordinary medicinal value.
