Questioning Candidates.

It is rather late in the canvass, and we doubt the propriety of mixing up the County Seat with all or any other question before the public. "What is the best site for County Seat?" is one question; and "Which is the best man for Judge?" or "for Sheriff?" is another. Let each question be decided upon its own merits-"let every tub stand on its own bottom"-is our motto. As however, we have been requested, we waive our own convictions of policy, and insert the following interrogataries, hoping the several candidates addressed will, if they feel inclined, transmit to us their answers per by Tuesday evening next.
